

Indiana Medics To Honor Family Doctor

Indianapolis, Oct. 14 — The Indiana state medical association, at its 99th annual session here October 26-28, will confer the honor of "general practitioner of the year" upon some family doctor in the state.

The physician selected will be presented with a suitable award at the convention banquet by Dr. Cleon A. Nafe, president of the state medical association. Nominations for the award are being made by the county medical societies. Three names will be selected from the list and sent to the house of delegates which will make the final selection by ballot.

Plan Advertising For Lutheran Rally Here

Dr. Walter A. Maier
Here On November 14

Representatives of 10 Lutheran churches met in the parish rooms of Zion Lutheran church, West Monroe and Eleventh streets, to discuss advertising plans for the coming Lutheran hour rally, to be held at the local high school auditorium, Sunday, November 14. Louis Jacobs, chairman of the central publicity committee, presided at the meeting.

The Decatur rally will be sponsored by the Decatur-Van Wert zone of the Lutheran laymen's league and promises to bring to the high school auditorium one of the largest audiences ever to assemble in the city. The Lutheran hour speaker, Dr. Walter A. Maier, draws an estimated 25 million listeners to the radio every Sunday, and Dr. Maier's presence at the local rally will bring friends and followers from a radius of 25 miles.

At the planning meeting, the Rev. Edgar Schmidt, pastor of the local Zion Lutheran church, and Frank C. Schmiede, superintendent of the parochial school at St. Paul's Lutheran church of Preble, were assigned the task of submitting news articles and forms for space advertising to the nine daily and weekly newspapers covering the area represented by the congregations sponsoring the Rally. Herman Krueckeberg, chairman of the Decatur-Van Wert zone of the Lutheran laymen's league, reported the names of the various committees in charge of the rally.

Present at the meeting were: The Rev. O. C. Busse and Reinhardt Werling, St. Paul's, Preble; Arthur F. Bearman, Emmanuel, Hoagland; the Rev. Harry Behning and Rufus Werling, Bethlehem Ossian; Morris Witzman, St. John's, Monroeville; Paul Frueh-tenicht and Rudolph Seddelmeyer, Trinity, route 10, Fort Wayne; the Rev. Karl Hofmann and Theodore Grotian, St. Peter's, Decatur, route 3; Erwin Bauck, Zion, Decatur, route 1; the Rev. Eric Allwardt and Herman Steele, Immanuel, Decatur, route 5; the Rev. J. Klausmeyer and Erwin Elzler, St. John's, Conovoy, Ohio; and the Rev. Edgar P. Schmidt and Louis Jacobs and Herman Krueckeberg, Zion, Decatur.

The Terminal System of New York taxicabs started this year offering two college scholarships to children of taxi drivers.

PROGRESSIVE

GOP "ripper" legislation "designed to strip the executive office of its constitutional rights." Schricker said Creighton helped override Schricker's veto of the legislation, which was later declared unconstitutional. If Creighton wins the election "by some remote chance," Schricker said, he would be able to exercise the rights of the governor's office that Schricker made possible by his fight against the bill Creighton supported to shear the office of power.

Governor Gates renewed his attack on Schricker in an Indianapolis speech, challenging the former governor to match Creighton's legislative accomplishments.

While the candidates were busy, state Republican headquarters were preparing for a Saturday visit at Rensselaer from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and indicating the possibility Dewey might stop at Hammond and South Bend.

And state Democratic leaders were putting the finishing touches on plans for President Truman's rear platform appearances at Logansport, Kokomo, Tipton, Noblesville, and his speech at World War Memorial tonight.
