Klenk's Edges
Out Paulding
By 3-2 Score

Klenk's edged Paulding, 3-2, in a Federation league game Sunday afternoon at Grover Hill, as the league wound up its regular schedule of play.

However, a number of games are scheduled this week to make up tilts previously rained out.

Kendallville will play Klenk's at Worthman field in this city at 5 o'clock Wednesday night. And Thursday night, Klenk's and Rockford, in a near deadlock for the league lead, will play at Worthman field at 8 o'clock in a game which may decide the regular season championship.

The annual playoff will get underway next Sunday to determine the league's representative in the national tournament.

Klenk's took an early lead Sunday, scoring twice in the second inning on successive hits by Gillig, Crist and Melchior, plus a Paulding error.

Ory Reed held Paulding scoreless until the seventh when one run scored on two hits and an infield out. Klenk's picked up what proved to be the winning run in the ninth on a leadoff hit by Bowmen, an infield out and Williams' single. Paulding counted once in the ninth on two hits but one runner was thrown out at third and a pinchhitter fanned for the final out.

In other league games Sunday, Rockford defeated McComb, 4-1; Club Manhattan outslugged Kendallville, 15-11; Monroeville defeated American Linen, 4-2; and Colonial Oil split a twin bill with Payne, Payne winning the opener, 5-2, and losing the nightcap, 3-2.

Braves Wallop
Dodgers Again
For 10 In Row

NEW YORK (IN) — The "Miracle" Braves of 1954 became more than just a mere mirage for the New York Giants today even though the Durochermen were back on the ball and comfortably cushioned with 5½-game lead in the National League race.

Brooklyn's Dodgers were acting like the opposite ends of a magnet, with the Giants drawing away from them and Milwaukee moving ever closer, four games away from second spot.

Charley Grimm's team blasted the Bums, 14 to 6, under the 19-hit barrage Sunday for their tenth straight triumph. And the Giants, who completed a four-game sweep by taking the Cincinnati Redlegs twice, 9 to 4 and 5 to 0, suddenly found that it may be the Braves and not the Bums who turn out to be their main fist threat.

The resurgent Braves, while equaling their ten-game tear they had in May, have copped 15 of 19 games since the All-Star break. In taking the first three games of a four-game set at Ebbets Field, Milwaukee has tallied a total of 33 runs and hit 11 homers.

They trail the Giants by 9½ games, and the Giants, who remember all too well about their own miracle in 1951, are taking notice.

Five Dodger pitchers, starting with Russ Meyer, were pelted by the Braves with Bill Bruton, Del Crandall and Eddie Mathews (No. 28) contributing homers. Elongated rookie right-hander Gene Conley beat the Bums for the fourth time while winning his tenth of the year.

The six-foot-eight hurler gave up ten hits, including homers by Gil Hodges (29), Jackie Robinson and Duke Snider (26).

The most explosive "hit" in the game came in the fourth inning, however, Milwaukee first baseman Joe Adcock, who got into the record books with four homers Saturday, was "beamed" in this inning by Dodger reliever Clem Labine but escaped serious injury because he was wearing a protective plastic helmet.

Giants lefty Johnny Antonelli won his 18th game in 18 decisions and his 11th straight victory when he pitched a shutout for the Braves in the seventh inning and broke a 3-3 tie.

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 3, and Chicago topped Pittsburgh, 12 to 2, after the Bucs recorder their first shutout of the season with a 24-0 blank job over the Bruins.

Albie Reynolds had to come on in the ninth of the nightcap to snuff out an Oriole threat to save the game for Marlin Stuart, who relieved started Ralph Branca and later yielded to Eddie Lopat.

Virgil Trucks won his 15th in Chicago's second game triumph over Philadelphia. The righthander allowed three hits in eight innings before giving way to Harry Dorish in the ninth. Phil Cavarretta, with a homer and single, drove in three runs in the first game and Nellie Fox also drove in three with two singles as Sandy Consuegra notched his 13th triumph.

Ted Williams accounted for four runs with his 15th homer, a double and single to lead the Sox to their win over the Bengals.

Joe Adcock Beamed
By Dodger Hurler

NEW YORK (INS) — Milwaukee first baseman Joe Adcock, saved from serious injury by his plastic batting helmet, expects to be back in the lineup today when the surging Braves seek their 11th straight win against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

But baseball's latest "bean ball" incident figured to extend the growing antagonism between the two National league contenders.

Adcock, whose four homers and a double Saturday earned him a niche in the record books, nearly had his career ended in the fourth inning Sunday when he was hit on the head by Brooklyn's Clem Labine as the Braves routed the Bums, 14 to 6. The incident almost provoked a free-swinging riot.

A clubhouse examination showed no serious injury and after ice pack treatment Adcock returned to his team's hotel, stating that he had experienced only a "slight headache."

His protective plastic batting helmet bore the imprints of the baseball and Brooklyn club physician Dr. Eugene Zorn, who examined Adcock, credited the helmet with preventing a serious injury.

"I'm not mad at anybody," Adcock declared. But the first sacker added:

"When a fellow throws me high and tight, I don't mind. I can duck that kind. But when he throws behind your head, I think he means business."

Labine, who visited Adcock in the dressing room to find out how he was, gave his version of the incident.

"Naturally, I wasn't trying to hit him in the head. I was trying to brush him back, that's all. Instead of twisting back, he actually ducked into the pitch."

Adcock, who had doubled in two trips in yesterday's game, was batting for the second time in the fourth as the Braves scored five runs.

Soon after he was fanned, players from both teams rushed out of their dugouts. Heated words were exchanged between Jackie Robinson and Braves righthander Lew Burdette. The pitcher and Milwaukee's Ed Mathews and Robinson had to be held apart by team mates.

Burdette accused Labine of deliberately hitting him. "Robinson said angrily, 'Imagine that?' Burdette throws at hitters all the time."

Duke Snider of the Dodgers served as a peacemaker and led

Mathews away from the would-be scene of battle.

You can keep flies and other insects off a wet paint job by adding one or two teaspoons of oil of citronella or oil of wintergreen to each gallon of paint.

ORANGE, N. J. (INS) — The eastern grass court tennis championships get under way today without national tiltist Tony Trabert and with a new "comeback" threat on the amateur net horizon.

The new threat is Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N. J., returning to the tennis wars after a two-year absence. Moylan won the 65th Meadow club tournament at Southampton, N. Y., Sunday with a straight-set, 6-0, 6-2, 6-4, triumph over Billy Talbert of New York.

In the semi-finals Moylan upended Trabert and the 23-year-old U. S. champ from Cincinnati left for a two-weeks vacation at Salt Lake City, Utah.
