President Eisenhower has taken his twin engine Aero Commander along with him to Colorado so if the fishing is as bad as the advanced notices indicate, he can fly on to other haunts until he finds them. The fish may not think that's so funny.

Members of the Van Wert Junior Chamber of Commerce have started a campaign to raise $125,000 for a new swimming pool for the youngsters of that city. It's a worthy project and we hope it will succeed as it will if the boys continue their enthusiasm. We hope it spreads this way and that some organization encourages a drive here.

Most American automobile factories are slowing down in production the next few weeks in order that they may make their annual changeover to new 1956 models. Changes will not be so drastic for 1956, it is reported, therefore the work slow-down should not last long. In a few weeks the 1956 version of the automobile of today will be on the market.

It's less than three weeks until schools open and it's time to be getting the youngsters ready for the opening day.

Ten more persons were killed in traffic accidents in Indiana during the first six months of this year compared with last year. The score was 497 this year as compared to 487 in 1954. And over the weekend a dozen people met death in Indiana highways and several times that number were injured.

The governors from all over the nation who met last week in Chicago have returned to their various homes. They talked a lot of politics but left Mr. Stevenson in the driver's seat for the Democratic nomination for president if he decides he wants to try it again. They also attended the big All-Star football game the college team against the Cleveland Browns, and cheered the winners and remained for a couple of Cub baseball games. They had a good time we are sure but we doubt if they decided anything very significant. At least they didn't announce anything important publicly. Let's charge it off as a nice vacation for the boys.

Monroe street, Second street and Mercer avenue are state maintained thoroughfares through Decatur. These streets are cleaned daily by a crew of state highway employees. That includes about half the streets of the business area. The proposed new automatic sweeper would be used only on city maintained streets. Doesn't it seem like a rather expensive piece of equipment for Decatur. The cost is reported to be more than $9,000. If this type of equipment were as economical as the salesman states, why wouldn't the state own a bunch of them and use one or two in each sub-district. We still think the $9,000 would buy a lot of good brooms.

Lawrence Noll, native of Adams county, farmer and long time road construction man has been named superintendent of the Adams county highway department. Noll is not a new comer to the highway department. He was a district superintendent until a few months ago, when his farm work made it necessary for him to devote his full time to it. He knows all phases of highway construction and maintenance and we believe the Commissioners were most wise in their selection. Noll assumed his new duties immediately. The task ahead of him is not an easy one. Adams county has some 700 miles of county highways, which each day receive more and more heavy use. He assumes the post vacated by Frank Singleton several days ago. The Daily Democrat wishes Mr. Noll success in his new undertaking and we are sure that he has the "know how" to keep our roads the best in northern Indiana.

Meat and Gravy
The gravy should not be poured over the meat when putting away in the refrigerator. The meat will keep better if kept separate from the gravy. The gravy is likely to sour more quickly and taint the meat.

Ants
Quicklime thrown on ant nests and then watered will destroy them. Also green sage, when placed where ants infest, will cause them to disappear.

Old Umbrellas
To renovate a shabby black old umbrella, sponge it with a cold solution of strong tea.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it proper for a girl to ask a young man to call, when she has known him for some time?

A. This would naturally depend upon just how long she has known him. Usually, the best way for a girl to handle a situation of this kind is to invite the young man to dinner in her home.

Q. Whose duty is it to see that the bride and bridegroom's car is ready and waiting for them at the wedding reception?

A. This is one of the duties of the best man.

Q. When ice cream is served with pie (a la mode), should this be eaten with a spoon or fork?

A. The fork should be used.

Kept Intention To Leave Tibet Secret

Tibet Dominated By Communists

TOKYO (INS) — The eldest brother of the Dalai Lama of Tibet disclosed today he kept his intentions to escape his Communist dominated country an absolute secret, otherwise "I probably wouldn't have been able to get out."

Thubten Jigme Norbu, whose fourth brother is the spiritual leader of Tibet's Buddhist millions, said that when he left his country in 1950 he told his family and friends:

"I want to go to India for treatment because I am not feeling well."

Norbu, who was granted a permanent residence visa to the United States in Tokyo last week told International News Service:

"I didn't even tell my religious aide who accompanied me out of Tibet until we reached India. Then I told him I wanted to go to the United States and asked him if he wanted to come. He said yes."

Norbu said he decided to leave his mountain country because "I didn't want to remain under communist rule."

At the time, in 1950, he said the Chinese Communists were already in control of the eastern part of Tibet.

"And I foresaw that they would eventually take control of the whole country."

After leaving the Tibetan capital of Lhasa, Norbu said he and his aide, Dhondrup Jentsen, went to Calcutta, then to London and on to New York.

After about five weeks at the George Washington University hospital in Washington, D. C., Norbu said they went on to Berkeley, California "because I liked the climate."

In 1952, Norbu continued, he and Jentsen came to Tokyo to attend the second world Buddhist conference and remained in the Japanese capital since.

He plans to enter an American university to do research on the language, culture and customs of Tibet.

He is being sponsored by the world council of churches.

One Of Most Wanted Criminals Nabbed

Charles Falzone Taken Early Today

WASHINGTON (INS) — The FBI announced today that its agents and Pennsylvania state troopers captured Charles (Little Mosco) Falzone, of the FBI's ten most wanted criminals, at his home at New Bedford, Pa., early today.

The FBI said the arrest was made without trouble although Falzone was surrounded by an arsenal of 15 pistols, seven rifles and a shotgun.

Falzone was to be arraigned before the U. S. Commissioner in Pittsburgh today.

The 42-year-old ex-convict has been sought since May 3, 1947, when he allegedly staged a $5,000 payroll robbery of a Tonawanda, N. Y., boat company at which he was employed.

It was reported the bandit forced two members of the company at gunpoint into a car and took his victims to Buffalo, N. Y., where he threw them out of the auto.

The announcement of Falzone's arrest said he was living in New Bedford under the name of James Lavalley with a wife he married in June, 1947. He was a carpenter at a sheet metal manufacturing plant in Campbell, Ohio.

The FBI said the investigation leading to Falzone's arrest came after a local citizen recognized him from an FBI wanted poster.

When the FBI added Falzone to its "Most Wanted" list on Feb. 24, 1954, the FBI called him "quiet, cool, reserved and a shrewd, cunning criminal capable of participating in any type of robbery."
