Real Family Living

At the highest and best drained area of Decatur—in the south part of the Homesteads and at the edge of the city limits, one of our nicest family homes. This house has been tastefully remodeled, enlarged, and gas heat installed. All of the downstairs area has been opened up and a beautiful kitchen with custom cabinets added to the rear of the home. A half bath, convenient for children, is located near the back door. The upstairs has been enlarged to include a third bedroom of master bedroom proportion. Extras in this house include a private screened-in porch, a big double car garage with storage facilities above and pet or hobby space added to the rear. The drive is all-weather black top. An orchard has been started and is growing nicely. In what other community could you find nearly two acres, with full city improvements and 17 acres of parks for children to grow up in happily? No family has ever lived in this home without liking it. The previous two owners as will the present reluctantly sold only because they were transferred out of Decatur. We believe you would enjoy it too.

Windfall Profits For Household

Likely To Profit From Road Change

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — Windfall profits are coming to 54 Lake county householders from the Indiana toll road commission.

Many months ago the commission bought 54 houses at an average cost of $15,000 each, the project involving more than $1 million.

Then the east west toll road was relocated, leaving the commission with the 54 unwanted houses.

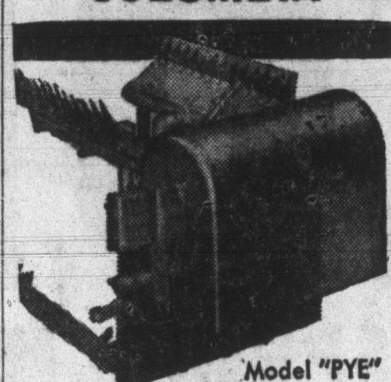

The commission has announced that the houses will be sold at public auction and indications are that the original owners will buy them back at considerably less than the commission paid for the dwellings.

Most of the householders have not moved and have been paying the commission very low rents, most of them lower than the monthly payments made by the persons buying their houses on the installment plan. Most of the houses are in Hammond and Gary.

But Albert J. Wedeking, commission director, looked for the silver lining and, as usual, found it. He said any loss from the transaction would be more than made up for by the road relocation. The new route is through more open country, reducing construction costs, according to Wedeking.

Uneasy Argentina Is Under Warning

Stern Measures Are Promised By Peron

BUENOS AIRES (INS) — Uneasy Argentina was under warning today that the government will deal sternly with anyone taking part in public demonstrations against the regime of President Juan D. Peron.

The warning followed two new anti-Peron outbreaks Wednesday in Buenos Aires which were broken up by black jack wielding police, tear gas and fire hoses.

Minister of the interior Oscar Albrieu called a special news conference Wednesday night and blamed the disturbances on gangs of youths who he said were incited by "some priests" and opposition party leaders.

Albrieu said 64 persons were arrested during Wednesday's riots, including 19 youths, and he warned parents that from now on young rioters would not be let off easily. He accused Roman Catholic priests of fomenting much of the anti-Peron activities and warned they would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law if they did not stop. He said the priests were acting as individuals adding that he was ready to turn over their names and transcripts of their subversive sermons to church authorities.
