Mary Ann Laurent Becomes Bride Of Lamberto Mickelini

This morning at 9 o'clock, Miss Mary Ann Laurent became the bride of Lamberto Mickelini in the St. Mary's Catholic church, with the Very Rev. Msgr. J. J. Selmetz performing the double-ring ceremony. Miss Laurent is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Laurent of 304 North Third street, Decatur; and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mickelini of 1302 Kinsington boulevard, Fort Wayne.

The church was adorned with a white aisle carpet, palms and candelabra, and altar vases of white gladioli and lavender asters. The pews were marked with bows of white satin tied with Huckleberry foliage.

The music was presented by Sr. Marguerita C. S. A. and the church choir. Selections were: "Missa Terza," by Haller; offertory "Ave Maria," by Accadelt; communion, "Ecce Panis Angelorum," by Lee. As the bride placed a bouquet at the foot of the altar the choir sang "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

Bride's Attire

The bride given in marriage by her uncle, Joseph Brennan, was lovely in an ankle length ballerina gown of white chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a scooped edge portrait neckline highlighted with clusters of seed pearls. The long lace bridal sleeves pointed over the hands and the bouffant lace skirt was beautified with side panels of accordion pleated tiered ruffles. She wore a plateau bonnet of chantilly lace. The brim was covered with illusion pleating trimmed with dainty circles of pearls and sequins and held her bridal veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade arrangement of cynedidium.

Miss Jane Laurent attended her sister as maid-of-honor in an ankle length gown of lilac crystalite fashioned with a bolero jacket and a petal bodice. The circular box pleated skirt was high-lighted with a bow bustle. She wore a coronet of lilac flowers.

Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Don Giant, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Mickelini, sister of the bridegroom. They wore gowns styled identical to that of the maid-of-honor.

Robert J. Laurent, brother of the bride, attended as best man and ushers were Don Giant, brother-in-law of the bride, and Ray Minnich friend of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Laurent chose a navy blue sheer dress with navy and white accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a powder blue lace dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

A wedding dinner was held at 12 noon at the Fairway restaurant for the bridal party and the immediate family.

From 2:30 to 5 o'clock this afternoon, a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents with approximately 100 guests expected. Servers include Mrs. Jerry Leitz, Miss Jackie Warren, and Mrs. Bertram Schmenck. Mrs. Jo Neireiter will be in charge of the guest book and Mrs. William Bowers will act as hostess.

For traveling, the bride chose a transition cotton of military blue with navy accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Following a two weeks honeymoon in Canada, the couple will move into their new home on route nine, Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Mickelini is a graduate of Decatur Catholic high school and is employed at the General Electric in Fort Wayne. Her husband was graduated from Clinton high school in Clinton, Indiana, and is a member of the air national guard in Fort Wayne.

French Settlement May Strike Hitch

Sultan May Refuse To Quit His Post

AIX LES BAINS, France (INS)—A possible hitch in the French plan to solve the Moroccan dispute by firing Sultan Sida Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat developed today when he said he will retain his "divine mission."

A spokesman for the sultan, installed two years ago by the French who then fired a pro-Nationalist monarch, issued a communique saying: Ben Arafat was "amazed at the tendentious rumors" regarding his supposed intentions.

The spokesman said the sultan was determined "to retail the exercise the divine mission entrusted to him and to remain in Rabat among his subjects."

A French spokesman earlier said that French Premier Edgar Faure hoped to complete final consultations with Moroccan leaders tonight.

Saturday will be devoted to final negotiations before submitting a decision to a cabinet meeting, probably to be held Sunday. Faure and his minister for Moroccan affairs, Pierre July, also were declared to have virtually solved the controversy over the throne — before the sultan's spokesman issued his statement.

LIBRARY NEWS

By the Librarian

Elaine and Mark Cochran have had a trip west. On their way home they visited the State Capitol at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Judy Kay Lenhart has had a few days vacation at Lake George and reports a fine time.

Dianna Parker has had a week's vacation in a Girl Scout camp on Lake Chautauqua. She and her mother were planning a trip on the steamer and also expected to attend the opera given in Norton Hall, Chautauqua. These operas are very fine, having players from the Metropolitan and also the Cleveland Play house.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Weidner and Elaine have been vacationing in Wisconsin and Nashua, Iowa. They write that it is real Indian land, hills, and valleys and gorges. Ethel Schlickman and Angela Andrews write from Lake Tahoe, Nevada. They are enjoying the beautiful scenery, but say the sun is very hot. Well, we can say the same right here. They are 7,000 ft. above sea level.

Marilyn, Cheryl and Jon Knudsen write from Cadillac, Mich. They sent the picture of the Public Library there which they say is on a hill in the downtown district.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kunkle, Bobbie and Karen write from South Dakota. They were on the way home, have had a fine trip through the Yellowstone, Black Hills and the Bad Lands.

Mike Kaehr writes from Halifax, Canada saying they are having a swell trip. He is enthusiastic about the country.

Tom Cravens writes from Waterfront, Wis. He evidently stopped in Chicago for he tells of a submarine that was captured from the Germans which he saw in the Museum of Science.

David and Mary Lou Lingerich are having a good time on their vacation in Ontario, Canada.

Jean and Jimmy Hoffman write from Cashmere, Washington.

Miss Bertha Heller, librarian has returned from her vacation in Chautauqua. While there she had a visit with Mrs. Leota Bailey Litchfield who wishes to be remembered to all her friends in Decatur. She lives in Mayville just a few miles from Chautauqua.

When you travel by cards as the library has for the last three years you get a view of the entire country and realize the great beauty in the changing scenery of America. It has been a splendid study of American Heritage and the children will enjoy looking over the cards all next winter. There are still a few states we have not heard from—among them Ohio. Someone better run across the line and send us a postal from there.

The Reading Project is nearing the close, August 31st. It has been a splendid summer in spite of the great heat and there will be more diplomas issued than ever before. If you still have a book to complete before next Wednesday be sure and do it.

Corn Storage Problem Might Become Serious

Good storage for corn which farmers except to place under price support loan may be a problem this fall, according to Oscar T. Brown, chairman of the County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The prospect of a large corn crop this year indicates that all farmers in Adams County who expect to use the corn price support program should be sure they have enough crib space to adequately store this corn.

To be eligible for price support in the commercial corn area, a producer must have complied with his farm corn acreage allotment.
