

Hatemongers Are Lashed By Brownell

NEW YORK (INS) — Attorney general Herbert Brownell has tongue-lashed hatemongers who do not tolerate minority groups in what was believed to be one of the strongest civil-rights speeches by a member of the Eisenhower cabinet.

Brownell appealed in a New York

address Sunday for a "golden age of civil rights," stating that "a small crust of freedom for a few" will not sustain the American way of life.

UN Committee Hopes To End Atoms Debate

Seek End Of Debate Early This Week On Atoms For Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) — The UN political committee meets today with hopes of winding up debate early this week on atoms for peace.

The 60-nation group also is hoping to reach unanimous agreement on establishment of a global nuclear agency to help underdeveloped countries.

The committee is scheduled to hear more speakers endorse the Eisenhower program for making atomic knowledge and materials available for the benefit of all peace-loving nations.

The disarmament commission at the same time is preparing for discussion of the five-nation subcommittee's report on disarmament and Mr. Eisenhower's aerial inspection plan.

The 12-nation commission, consisting of the 11 security council members plus Canada, also will draft its annual report to the assembly on disarmament. The group is being summoned at Russia's request.

The political committee has before it western and Soviet resolutions for early establishment of the atomic agency and a rival Indian demand that the assembly itself organize the projected nuclear body.

The U. S. and its atomic allies have agreed on a draft statute for the agency and stand firmly opposed to efforts by Indian delegate V. K. Krishna Menon to rewrite the statute from a UN viewpoint.

Russia has called for close links between the agency and the security council and the assembly, indicating that the Soviets are persistent in their demand for possible veto controls over its operation.

However, the fact that the Russians omitted any reference to the security council in their resolution for establishment of the atomic agency led western diplomats, including those of the U.S., to hope that the Soviets may not press this point.

More Cities Clear Out Slum Sections

U.S. Cities Step Up Slum Activities

CLEVELAND (INS) — Housing and home financing administrator Albert M. Cole said today that more and more cities are clearing out their slums and blighted areas.

He told the annual convention of the national association of housing and redevelopment officials that cities have learned that slums and blighted areas are insupportable luxuries, breeding grounds of vice and crime, and destroyers of human and material substance.

Cole said the stepped-up activities of cities during the past year in wiping out slums and restoring blighted areas convinced him the "civic inertia" of which he warned a year ago can be overcome.

Cole predicted that in another year he will be able to report that many more hundreds of communities have followed the examples of the "substantial number" already engaged in urban renewal activities.

The administrator said the "re-awakening" to social consciousness was "not so much a flowering of man's nobility as it is a clear economic necessity."

Discussing public housing, Cole said he opposed changing the administration's recommendation of $5,000 units a year for a two-year period to 45,000 units for one year, primarily because "adequate planning requires a two-year approach."

DAVID BEN GURION, 68, Prime Minister-designate of Israel, was ordered by his doctors to have absolute rest for a week or more. A medical bulletin said that Ben Gurion "feels well" but that he needs a rest because of fatigue.

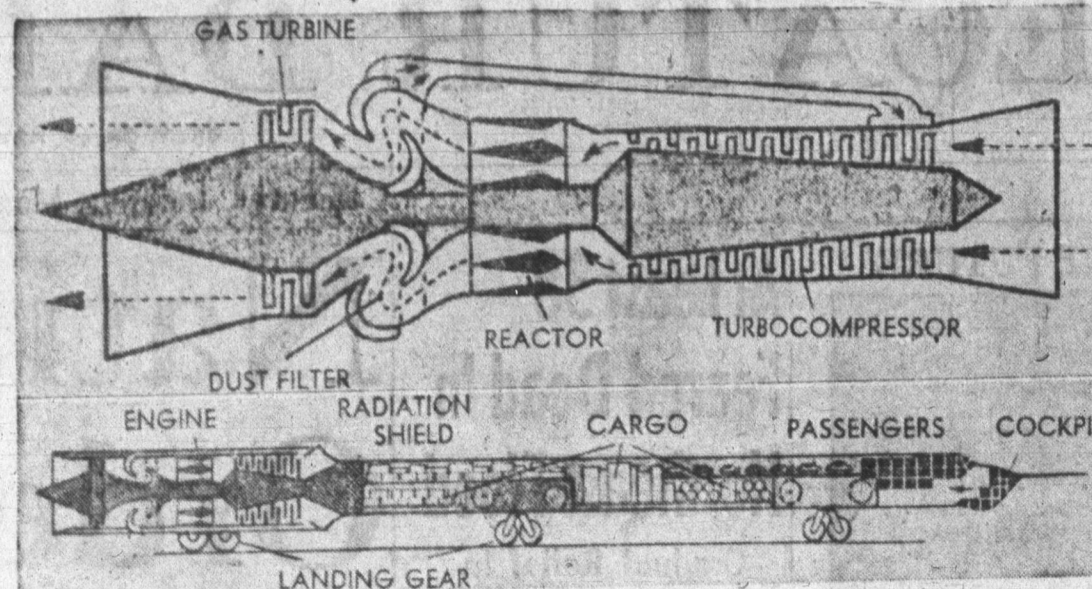

Diagram and cross-section of atomic engine and the entire atomic transport.

THE ATOM POWER PLANE of the future will be something like this, according to the ideas of Prof. G. I. Pokrovsky, a Russian scientist, who predicts it won't be long before such huge planes will be able to circle the world non-stop at supersonic speeds. These illustrations appeared in an article by him in the Soviet magazine "Young Engineer." He says the atomic engine would resemble today's turbojet, but with a reactor instead of burners, and uranium dust as fuel. (International Soundphotos)

Woman On Trial For Slaying Of Husband

Trial Underway For Indianapolis Woman

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — Mrs. Elizabeth H. Sullivan went on trial today for manslaughter in the Christmas party knife death of her husband, Julian, Sunday editor of the Indianapolis Star.

The 36-year-old widow has been free under $3,000 bond and living with her parents in Columbus, Ind. She is accused of Sullivan's death in a struggle for a kitchen knife after a party, Dec. 23, 1954.

Trial opened in criminal court with Judge Scott McDonald presiding and 150 panel members being questioned for a spot on the jury.

Called to testify were workers at the Star: Dr. William Kendrick, who Mrs. Sullivan called to attend her mortally wounded husband, and their party host and hostess Robert E. Tappan and his wife, Mary Louise, also both of Indianapolis.

Also scheduled to testify are

Mrs. LaVerne Stafford, of Indianapolis, who drove the Sullivans to the party, and the baby sitter, Craig Way, who was driven home by Mrs. Stafford after the Sullivans returned to their own home.

Deputy sheriffs Lyle Milliger and Richard Scott, who investigated, also were ready to testify.

Mrs. Sullivan said her husband was quarrelsome and grabbed up the kitchen knife during an argument shortly after the baby sitter left. She said she struggled with Sullivan for the knife and that he was accidentally wounded during the struggle.
