LOCAL GIRL SCOUT TROOP VISITS DETROIT, CANADA

Claiming years beginning from "Brownie-hood" to Girl Scout days of earning funds through selling calendars, cookies, and peanuts, the eleven Girl Scouts of troop five traveled to Detroit, Mich., recently, to see the Cinema production, "Seven Wonders of the World" and to tour Detroit's east side, Belle Isle, and Windsor, Canada.

After leaving at 7:50 a.m., the girls arrived at Union Station, where busses transferred them to the Music Hall, to see the new type of moving picture, filmed on a three-eye camera.

To complete the day, the group toured points of interest on Detroit's east side, and then Belle Isle, where they "rubbernecked" around the planetarium and the aquarium, following lunch at the Casino Cafeteria on the Island.

International auto tunnel was their route to Windsor, Canada, where the group took off an hour and a half for some international shopping and souvenir hunting, topped off with dinner at the Tunnel Restaurant. Returning to Detroit via the 365-foot high Ambassador Bridge, the girls came back to the Union Station to board the train at 7 p.m. They arrived in Fort Wayne at 9:30 p.m.

"Besides being educational, and an invaluable experience," say the leaders, "these trips add to their badge work, which is a major part of Girl Scouting."

Accompanying the group were their leader, Mrs. Joseph Azbell, co-leader Mrs. Jack Rosenberger, and Mr. Lowell Harper.
