American Wins All-Star Game By 6-5 Score

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Wrong guessing and second guessing told the tale of the All-Star Game; a 6-5 win for Casey Stengel's American League team to break a two-game victory streak by Brooklyn Dodger manager Walt Alton and the National League.

Stengel didn't want to start rookie right hander Jim Bunning of Detroit Tuesday. And he wanted to keep Boston's Ted Williams in left field for offensive punch. He wanted to open the game with Cleveland's veteran Early Wynn, and he would have, except that Wynn pitched seven innings Sunday, and Stengel feared he would be tired.

So Bunning was the standout of the 12 hurlers who appeared. He retired nine men in order and got credit for the win when his mates got two runs in the second inning. Wynn gave up three hits and two runs later in 1-3 of an inning.

Stengel partially carried out his strategy with Williams. He let the Boston star step to the plate four times, and he walked once and went out three times. Then, nursing a 3-2 lead, he put Chicago's Minnie Minoso into left field for defensive purposes.

Minoso Emerges Star

Minoso starred both on offense and defense. He rapped a double off the right center field wall in the ninth inning to drive home Al Kaline of Detroit with what proved to be the winning run.

Defensively, Minoso turned in two key plays. When the National League was threatening to tie in the ninth inning, Hank Foiles was on second base after a single and a walk to Gus Bell.

Don Mossi struck out Eddie Mathews and Ernie Banks lined a single to left to score Foiles easily. But Minoso played the ball expertly and when Bell tried to go to third base, Minoso threw perfectly to Frank Malzone for the second out as Banks took second.

Stengel brought in his own Yankee reliever, Bob Grim, when Gil Hodges pinch hit for the National League, and Grim threw only two pitches. The first was outside. The second was lined to left field, where Minoso made a short run to catch the ball and the game.

"If Williams had been in there, some onlookers said, 'he wouldn't have made that throw and he wouldn't have caught the ball.'"

Alton Second Gussied

Alton was the target for the second guessers. Why didn't he order Mathews to bunt with no outs, two runs in, the tying runs on first and second?

"How'd I know Banks would hit?" the Dodger manager asked. "If I had, I would have."

National League starter Curt Simmons, appearing in the All-Star Game for the third time, was the losing pitcher as he gave up a single to Mickey Mantle, a walk to Williams, a single to Vic Wertz, and a walk to Yogi Berra in the second inning. Then with one run in, Lew Burdette came in. And though he got two men out, he walked Harvey Kuenn to force in another score.

Bill Skowron doubled in the sixth, advanced on Jack Sanford's wild pitch, and scored on Yogi Berra's single.

In the ninth, Billy Pierce began the winning surge with a single and he got to second when Red Schoendienst bobbled Gil McDougald's grounder for an error.

Ray Crowe Quits As Attucks Net Coach

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Easy-going Ray Crowe, who built Indianapolis Attucks into a high school basketball powerhouse, today swapped the pressure of coaching for the athletic director post at the all-Negro school.

The 42-year-old former Indiana Central College star who led the Flying Tigers to consecutive state titles in 1955 and 1956, including an all-time record 45-game winning streak, announced his retirement at a school board meeting Tuesday night.

He will be succeeded by Bill Garrett, former Indiana hardwood ace who led Shelbyville to the state crown in 1947.

Crowe, who last spring was one of the leading candidates for the prep coaching vacancy at Lebanon, said he couldn't pass up an opportunity for advancement. As athletic director, he succeeds the veteran Lon Watford, who will remain on the Attucks faculty.

His seven quintets racked up the fantastic overall record of 170 victories against just 20 losses, including a glittering 61-1 record for the 1955 and 1956 campaigns.

Crowe's final edition, virtually rebuilt following graduation of the prolific Oscar Robertson, won 16 games and lost 5 during the regular season, before advancing again to the state tourney title game.

After becoming the first team in 1956 to go "all the way," unbeaten, the Tigers' bid for another niche of immortality in the Hoosier hardwood "Hall of Fame" failed.

South Bend Central smashed their bid to tie the record of the Franklin "Wonder Five" in the 1920s to win three in a row, 67-55.

Still, Crowe's tournament record was as phenomenal as the season record of his teams. His clubs never dropped a regional game. They won six of seven Indianapolis sectionals, the last five in a row.

Crowe admitted he'll miss coaching, but "I couldn't pass up an advancement." Still, he added, "I have some wonderful mem-

Khrushchev And Bulganin Visit Czechs Today

Russian Party Boss Accuses West With Counter Revolution

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (UP)—Soviet Communist Party leader Nikita Khrushchev began a nine-day visit to Prague today by accusing the West of trying to start a "counter revolution" in Czechoslovakia and other Eastern European Communist countries.

"But this, comrades, will never happen," Khrushchev told a cheering crowd estimated by Czech officials at some 200,000 persons.

The Soviet party chief looked fresh and buoyant as he swung down from a special train wearing a jaunty new Panama hat.

In contrast Premier Nikolai Bulganin appeared tired and drawn after their 24-hour "whistle stop" trip across Czechoslovakia from the Soviet border. Bulganin's eyes were bloodshot as with great fatigue.

Khrushchev told an elite and respectfully attentive audience that the West planned to "regenerate" Germany "in the role of a shock force in the preparation of a new war." The audience included Czech President Antonin Zapotocky.

"We must be vigilant," Khrushchev said.

"There is a constant danger of war as long as imperialism exists."

Khrushchev also said:

"The Western 'imperialists' are widening the division of Europe through military groupings."

"The new German militarism threatens the liberty and independence of countries which lost sons and daughters to the Nazis."

"The Communist world must intensify the struggle for ending the armaments race, including a ban on H-bomb tests and production."

Zapotocky pledged "indissoluble friendship" with Russia and lauded the "powerful impetus" given by the Soviet Union in ousting what Khrushchev called the "black sheep" from the Communist leadership.

The crowd in City Hall Square had been matched only once before this year—when American Olympic athlete Harold Connolly of Boston cut through Iron Curtain red tape to marry his Czech Olympic sweetheart, Olga Fikotova.

The globe trotting Soviet glad hands arrived by train at 9 a.m. (4 a.m. e.d.t.) at Prague's Central Station and were greeted by a crowd of 200,000 which packed the square in front of the station.

Czech Communist Party leaders including President Antonin Zapotocky were in the reception committee.

Czech and Soviet flags decorated the entire city. There were huge banners proclaiming "Long live Russian-Czech friendship." Troops and police lined the Russians' route.
