Civic Music Season To Close Thursday Night

James Pease is renowned as an outstanding opera singer, a most rewarding recitalist, and a distinguished soloist with many of the nation's leading orchestras. His return to the States in 1955 comes in the wake of two years' successes in Europe, where he has been under contract with the Hamburg state opera. This past summer he won praises for his performance of the title role in Don Giovanni at the Glyndebourne festival, in which he had previously scored at the Dublin opera festival the previous December.

A rich voice, exceptional musicianship, handsome bearing and a dynamic personality have established James Pease as one of the outstanding bass-baritones in the music world today. Sensation of the Hamburg state opera since his debut in 1952, the American baritone has been heard in major roles with the New York City, Paris, Covent Garden and Hava-nna operas. In addition, Pease is well known both here and abroad for his extensive concert tours and appearances as guest soloist with the world's foremost symphony orchestras.

His program for Thursday evening at the Decatur Youth and Community Center, starting at 8 p.m., includes three works by George Frederick Handel to open the program. These are "Thus Saith the Lord," from the "Messiah"; "Lascia Ch'io Pianga," from "Rinaldo," and "Hear Me, Ye Winds and Waves," from "Scipio."

Part two of the program includes nine songs from "Dichterliebe" by Robert Schumann: "Im wunderschönen Monat Mai," "Aus meinen Tränen spriessen," "Die Rose, die Lille," "Wenn ich in deine Augen seh," "Ich grölle nicht," "Ein Jungling liebt ein Madchen," "Am leuchtenden Sommermorgen," "Allnächtlich im Traume," and "Die alten, bos'n Lieder."

"La Calunnia," from "Il Barbiere di Siviglia" by Gioacchino Rossini will be sung by Pease in the third part of his program.

After a brief intermission, Pease will sing the "Mephistopheles-Serenade," from "Faust" by Charles Gounod; "Death's Serenade," from "Songs and Dances of Death" by Modeste Moussorgsky, and the "Disappointed Serenade" by Johannes Brahms.

Part five of the program includes three American folk songs arranged by John Jacob Niles: "I Am a Rovin' Gambler," "Gambler's Lament," and "Gambler's Song of the Big Sandy River."

Pease will conclude his program with "It Ain't Necessarily So," from "Porgy and Bess" by George Gershwin; "Were You There," a Negro spiritual, and "Gwine to Hebbin," by Jacques Wolfe.

Celina Man Is Held
On Exposure Charge

Donald Phillips, 36, of Celina, Ohio, was apprehended early this morning in Geneva by sheriff Merle Affolder and Karl Sprunger, Berne police officer, and placed in the Adams county jail, where he was booked a charge of indecent exposure.

Phillips, an employee of the Emge Packing company of Anderson, was identified by a witness whom he had accosted recently. He later admitted his guilt when interrogated at the jail. He admitted approaching a number of women in the southern part of the county for the past few weeks.
