COOPERATION

After he departed a delegation spokesman said the governor "did not want to be a party to anything that might bring segregation into the legion."

Among the resolutions on the matter was a strongly worded proposal presented by Ernest A. Rowton of Florida which called for action to "prevent further usurpation of power" by the Supreme Court.

YOUTH HELD

Lewis Lutz Smith, prosecuting attorney, stated that charges of burglary would be filed today and that Martin would appear in Adams circuit court either today or Wednesday.

Martin has been held at the Adams county jail since his arrest Saturday. Sheriff Merle Affolder stated that further investigation of the young Ohio man will continue until the case is tried.

COUNTY G.O.P.

(Continued from page one) trol of the county board of education. Democrats have candidates in all 172 townships, and are assured of victory in seven, since they are unopposed.

Republicans have candidates for township trustees in only Union, Washington, Monroe, Hartford, and Wabash. St. Mary's township, normally heavily Republican, failed to file a candidate against Democratic trustee Lester Brunner. Two Republicans and one Democrat filed for St. Mary's township election, so that there will be no races at all in that township election.

Republicans will not have three advisory board candidates in any township, but they will have two, enough to control the three-man board, in Union, Preble, and St. Mary's.

Democrats have full advisory tickets in Union, Root, Washington, Blue Creek Monroe, French, Hartford, Wabash and Jefferson. They have two candidates in Preble and Kirkland and one in St. Mary's.

Unopposed township trustee candidates are Omer Merriman, of Root township; Robert M. Kolter, of Preble township; Theodore S. Heller, of Kirkland; Lester H. Brunner of St. Mary's; Frank Myers, of Blue Creek; Raymond E. Moser, of French township; and Floyd Baker of Jefferson township.

Robert E. Gay, of Decatur, is expected to carry Democratic Washington township against Roy Price; Wilbur H. Blakey of Union township is also expected to win in strongly Democratic Union township over Alva Ralting; Democrat Ole G. Sprunger faces tough competition in incumbent Republican Silvan Sprunger in Monroe township. Wabash township will feature a strong race for trustee between James Lybarger, the Democrat, and Wesley G. Amstutz, the Republican. In Hartford township Ralph M. Miller, is Democrat, is expected to beat Vilas Burry, a Republican.

Koos, who is serving his first term as county assessor, is opposed by James M. Teeple, of Hartford township.

Unopposed for election this year on the Democratic ticket will be Richard D. Lewton, candidate for reelection as clerk; sheriff Merle Affolder, candidate for reelection Severin Schurger, prosecuts attorney; Von A. Eichhorn, dean of the Indiana state senate, and candidate for reelection; and six county councilmen, including: Henry L. Derner, Julius Schultz, Chris Starly, William F. Krutzman, Leon Neunenschwander, and Frank E. Bohnke.

Only race for county council, holder of the county puerstings, is in the third district, where veteran Charles Jones is opposed by Floyd L. Meyer.

Trustees. Republicans have only five candidates of 12 for township trustee, offices assuring Democratic con-

Adults Involved. Although the white "troops" were teen-agers, there were some indications that adults, cruising the area, in automobiles, were calling the signals for the violence. One man who appeared to be directing the mob drove a station wagon with a Nazi swastika draped over the hood.

There were girls as well as boys among the white rioters. One Negro fled for his life when a gang of "Teddy Molls" in tight skirts and sweaters began pelting him with bottles.

Racial bitterness, which has been smoldering in this country since Negroes and Indians in large numbers began pouring in after World War II, has erupted into violence a half dozen times in the past two weeks.

STATE FAIR

Oren A. Wright, Greenwood, added three more blue ribbons to his 1958 collection Monday. His entries won open class championship in rams and ewes and grand championship in the fleece wool show, all Rambouillet breed.

Other winners Monday included: Glen Newcom & Son, Tipton, open class grand champion Yorkshire boar; reserve champion, Jimmy Bond, Oaktown.

Open class champion Duroc boar, Byron Jackson, Galveston; reserve champion, C. R. Smith, Hartford City.

Draft horse champion gelding—a Clydesdale shown by Parker Taft, Freeport, Ill.

G. O. House Belgian colt trophy—Miss Roberta Bowman Laontaine. Miss Bowman also won the showmanship trophy given by the Indiana Draft Horse Breeders Association.

The 4-H public speaking contest top honors went to Virginia Peterson, Delphi, and David Wheeler, Logansport. Both got free trips to Washington, D.C., and New York Sept. 5-12.

Decatur Barracks To Meet Wednesday

A meeting of Stephen A. Decatur barracks 1369, World War I veterans, will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the D. A. V. hall. Jesse Hammond, fourth district commander, will be present to discuss future plans and legislation pertaining to World War I veterans.

ICELAND

SCHOOL

(Continued from page one) "They have very badly to get caught," Faubus said when told of Hagerty's answer. "I wonder if Congressman (Brooks) Hays (D-Ark.) has said anything yet. They made Brooks Hays promise to protect them."

Hays was the mediator in Faubus' meeting with President Eisenhower at Newport last year. Faubus blasted the Little Rock board for the delay. Faubus and many white citizens here wanted to start Central High without Negroes on Sept. 8.

Acts in "Good Faith" "They (the board) never have displayed any real inclination to listen to the will of the people of the school district, or any reasoning," he said.

The governor was asked whether he thought the delay would cause any trouble or violence in Little Rock. He said he didn't know, but would keep a "close watch" on the situation.

School Supt. Virgil T. Blossom, a bitter opponent of Faubus, said he did not anticipate any violence against himself or members of the board.

Richard C. Butler, attorney for the board, said the "good faith" with which it had acted throughout Little Rock's crisis and violence stood it in good stead before the courts.

He said the Supreme Court had delayed its decision until at least Sept. 11 because the Legislature passed a bill postponing Central's opening until Sept. 11. Faubus then stole a march on the court by not signing the bill into law and thus leaving the Sept. 8 opening scheduled.

Wendell Carter, West Moreland, Tenn., surrendered to authorities early Sunday when he learned he was being sought for the fatal clubbing of Austin O'Neal, 27, Adolphus, Ky., on the James Salsberry farm south of here.
