Lois Archinal Is Married Sunday To John Edward Isch

Wearing a waltz length gown of taffeta and lace, Miss Lois Jean Archinal became the bride of John Edward Isch in double ring rites repeated before the Rev. William C. Feller Sunday afternoon in the Zion Evangelical and Reformed church.

Altar bouquets of white carnations and white bows on the pews adorned the church for the one o'clock ceremony. Before the wedding, Mrs. Edgar Gerber played several selections including "I Love You Truly."

The bride is the only daughter of James Archinal of Elkhart, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lillich of route 4, Decatur.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride's gown featured a harem type skirt. The fitted neckline was outlined in lace and sprinkled with sequins. Fashioned with a bustle bow in the back, the dress also had long fitted sleeves which came to points over her hands. A white Bible topped with an orchid surrounded with feathered carnations was carried by the bride. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown head piece of sequins and pearls.

Mrs. Fred Isch attended as the matron of honor. She selected a royal blue taffeta sheath dress with a velvet cummerbund. Her matching overskirt featured a harem type hemline. She wore a complementing headpiece with a small front veil and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Dianne Shipman, who was the bridesmaid, wore a gown identical to the honor attendant and carried a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Lillich attended her son's wedding wearing a charcoal grey dress accented with white and black accessories. To complete her outfit she wore a red rose corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement. A lace tablecloth covered the serving table with bouquets of flowers at either end. The traditional wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and blue roses. Servers included Mrs. Ted Wemhoff, Miss Frances Wright, and Mrs. Hubert Isch.

For a southern Indiana honeymoon, the new Mrs. Isch changed into a charcoal grey suit with black suede accessories.

Francis Green (D - R.I.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee attacked administration foreign policy.

Flies To New York
Green told a Democratic dinner the Eisenhower foreign policy "seeks to appease everybody, pleases nobody and ends up by accomplishing nothing."

After his Pittsburgh speech, Eisenhower flies tonight to New York where he remains until Wednesday. He is booked for a non-political speech at the National Football Foundation dinner on Tuesday night, but White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said the New York stay would include some political activity.

This two-day trip was expected to be Eisenhower's last in the 1958 campaign. It was understood however he might pop into a nearby state for one appearance later this week.

Miss Arlene Meyer Bride Saturday Of Donald E. Aurand

Donald E. Aurand, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Vernon Aurand of Homestead 47, claimed Miss Arlene Meyer as his bride in a double ring ceremony read Saturday evening by the Rev. Harry H. Behning. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Meyer of route 1, Ossian.

The front of the Bethlehem Lutheran church was decorated with palms, candelabra and mums for the ceremony which was performed at 6:30 o'clock. Organ selections were played by Melvin Reisenbichler and Miss Carol Adams provided vocal arrangements.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of silk taffeta styled with an empire bodice that had long tapered sleeves and a portrait neckline outlined with hand run alencon lace. The full skirt fell from princess lines into a court train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a lace crown adorned with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Robert L. Baker, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor in a waltz length gown of pine green peau de soie styled with a bateau neckline and short sleeves. The full skirt folded into the side seams, revealing a sheath front. Her cap was of matching peau de soie. She carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

Serving as the bridesmaid, was Mrs. Norman Meyer and she selected a gown like that of the honor attendant. Her bouquet also was of yellow mums.

Pvt. Robert L. Baker was the best man for the event and Norman Meyer, James Engle, and Tony Custer seated the guests.

Mrs. Meyer was attired in a midnight blue dress with a red rose corsage her daughter's wedding. A slate blue dress with navy accessories was worn by the mother of the bridegroom. She also wore a red rose corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Sunset Park where guests were served by the Mesdames Fred Nahrwald, Eugene Melcher, Wayne Fielder, Ralph Bauermeister, James Crosby, and the Misses Lois Krenke, Wilma Dippel, Kathryn Young.

A navy blue dress with matching accessories was worn by the bride for a northern honeymoon.

A graduate of Ossian high school, the bride is employed by Dr. M. A. Davidoff of Ossian. Aurand graduated from Decatur high school and is employed by the Central Soya company of Decatur.
