Hold Third Suspect For Bank Robbery

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Arraignment was set today for a third suspect arrested in connection with the 1957 robbery of the Mount Summit bank.

FBI agents and Indiana State Police Monday arrested Richard Earl Rhoads, 33, in Indianapolis where he was working as a television repairman. He was charged with taking part in the holdup of the Mount Summit branch of the Citizens State Bank of New Castle on Dec. 18, 1957, in which three men fled with $6,249.

Police previously arrested Donald Kiger, 29, now held by New York City authorities. The third suspect, Frederick Allen Hurst, was held in Marion County jail here. Hurst was caught in Muncie last month.

The FBI said Rhoads has a long record of previous convictions for auto theft and interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

His bond was set at $20,000.

New Type Of Tractor Transmission Is Told

A totally new type of tractor transmission which can be shifted "on-the-go" without use of a clutch pedal and which has 10 forward and two reverse speeds is now available in Ford tractors, according to Converse Tractor Sales, tractor and implement dealer at Decatur.

"In my opinion, this transmission, called the Ford Select-O-Speed, is the greatest advance in tractor operating convenience since Ford introduced the three-point rear implement linkage and the built-in hydraulic system twenty years ago," Converse said.

"With this new transmission, shifting from any gear to any other gear is a simple matter of 'dialing' the desired gear ratio with a small hand-controlled lever just below the steering wheel. The tractor continues to move. There is no need to bring it to a stop while the shift is being made," Converse said.

Cold weather maintained its grip on parts of Dixie early Tuesday in the wake of snow squalls that dumped up to four inches at Kingston, N. C.

Overnight readings in the 30s chilled sections of northern Florida and Georgia, although temperatures in the 40s predominated over most of Florida and Georgia.

A storm system that hit Florida with high winds powered up the coast Monday into the Carolinas, dumping snow, sleet and rain in its path.

Schools were closed at Kingston when the snow depth hit four inches. Winston-Salem, N. C. measured two inches and Charlotte 1 1/2 inches. The snow melted as temperatures climbed above freezing during the day.

Cold weather also invaded the nation's central portion, pushing into the Great Lakes and south into central Texas. Light snows occurred during the night from the eastern Dakotas across Minnesota and into the northern Great Lakes.

The heaviest amounts fell along the southern shores of Lake Superior.

Ahead of the cool air, southerly winds carried warm weather from the Gulf Coast into Ohio. Overnight readings averaged about 15 degrees higher than the previous night, ranging from about 60 along the coast through the 50s and 40s over Kentucky and Ohio.

Thundershowers broke out where the cool and warm air masses collided in Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and northern Louisiana.

There are more than 13,000 women bartenders in the United States.
