"I WAS A WALKING
DEAD MAN"

"No, I wasn't something out of a horror movie. I was just an average person—no better, no worse," said Jim.

Then I read these words: "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God!"

Men shall not live... I. To be sure, I was physically alive. I ate and drank and slept. I loved and hated. I laughed and cried.

And yet I was dead spiritually. I was not right with God.

Are you alive, SPIRITUALLY—or a walking dead man?

How can you become alive, spiritually? "By every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God!"

Our church offers that Word of Life every Sunday. Will you come, and worship... and live?

Spring Theme Is Used For March 22 Marriage

Attendants in gowns of mint green preceded Miss Betty Lou Steury to the flower decked altar when she became the bride of Robert L. Reinhard. The vows were repeated March 22 in the First Mennonite church in Berne before the Rev. E. G. Steiner and the Rev. Gordon Neuenchwander.

Mr. and Mrs. Menno P. Steury of route 1, Berne, are parents of the bride while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich Reinhard of 418 West Water street, Berne.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Leiland Neuen, organist, provided a musical including "Because," "Liebestraum," "God Gave Me You," and "Clair de Lune." During the ceremony she played "Savior Like A Shepherd Lead Us."

Mr. and Mrs. Don Gerig were featured as the vocalists and included in their numbers were "Cross Roads" and "Together With Jesus."

The bride was led to the altar which was graced with palms and ferns, and mixed baskets of Easter lilies and gladioli, by her father. Lighted candelabra completed the setting. Miss Steury was lovely in a chapel length gown of white satin styled with a lace bodice. Her empire waist line formed a bow in the back which tapered down to meet the train of the very bouffant skirt. Lace appliques enhanced the skirt complementing her costume. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion was caught to a bow head piece of sequins and pearls. A colonial bouquet of red roses decorated with tulle and lace and ending in long streamers tied in lover's knots, completed her attire.

Miss Judy Pelot, friend of the bride from River Forest, Ill., was the maid of honor in a full skirted gown of mint green taffeta. The skirt formed pleats at the waist line which was accented with a small bow. Matching shoes and gloves and a bow headpiece complemented her gown and she carried a bouquet of pink and yellow tulips.

Bridesmaids, Miss Lois and Miss Nancy Steury, both sisters of the bride, were attired identically to the honor attendant. Little Miss Renae Weller in a gown of green embroidered organza, was the flower girl. The rings were carried by Guy Weller. Miss Weller is a niece of the bride and the ringbearer a nephew.

Attending his friend as best man was Bill Reynolds, and seating the guests were Robert Steury, brother of the bride, Charles Lehman, Ted Lehman, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Byron Liechty, cousin of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Steury selected a green crepe print dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother appeared in a dress of blue print crepe with black and blue accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Approximately 300 guests were served at the reception held immediately following the wedding. Servers included the Misses Carol Jane Heller and Lorene Neuenchwander, and Mrs. John Speakman, Mrs. Arlen Mitchell, Mrs. Larry Gaskill, and Mrs. Robert Cable.

A two piece beige wool suit with green and white accessories was worn by the bride for a wedding trip of an unannounced destination. A rose corsage was pinned to her shoulder.

The new Mrs. Reinhard is a 1957 graduate of Adams Central high school and is employed in the office of Kresge warehouse in Fort Wayne. A graduate of Berne-French high school, the bridegroom is employed by Berne Furniture company. The couple is now at home at 255 Clark street, Berne.

Academy Award Telecast Monday

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — More than 100 movie stars will be squeezed into the Academy Award telecast Monday night for the biggest jamboree in filmtown history.

Never before have so many stars appeared on one program.

You name 'em, they'll be on the two-hour show—Ingrid Bergman, Clark Gable, Doris Day, Rock Hudson, Sophia Loren. Scores of stars who rarely appear on TV will be strutting their stuff in honor of Oscar night.

Six masters of ceremony, Bob Hope, David Niven, Tony Randall, Mort Sahl, Sir Laurence Olivier and Jerry Lewis, are scheduled to fill the gaps between presentations. And there will be specialty acts aplenty to break up the dull doling out of statuettes.

For instance, Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas—who also danced last year—will sing and lead their way through "It's All Right with Us."

English imports Dana Wynter, Joan Collins and Angela Lansbury will warble "It's Bully Not to Be Nominated."

Rosalind Russell and Sammy Davis Jr. have brief bits, as do Miss Bergman, Cary Grant, William Holden and John Wayne.

An added fillip is the appearance of Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor on the same show. They will fly in from Las Vegas, Nev., for their stints. Debbie Reynolds had agreed to appear too, but her movie commitments forced the ex-Mrs. Fisher to cancel out.

Maurice Chevalier will sing "Thank Heaven for Little Girls" to a bevy of beauties, including Barbara Rush, Terry Moore, Arlene Dahl and Sandra Dee.
