MISS LANTZ BECOMES BRIDE OF THEODORE PFISTER

Miss Rose Elizabeth Lantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Lantz, route four, became the bride of Theodore W. Pfister, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pfister, Bluffton route four, Sunday morning, July 26, at the Armory in Bluffton.

The improvised altar was banked with two baskets of pink and white gladioli, ferns, and candelabra. White pew markers were used, and the bridal aisle was carpeted in white. The Rev. Samuel Aeschliman read the vows.

Kenneth Steffen, Villa North, organist, and Arthur Moser, Fort Wayne, soloist, gave a musicale.

The bride wore a gown of imported embroidered pure silk organza over crystal white taffeta. The fitted organza bodice was topped with a scoop neckline and had long sleeves tapering to points over her hands. On her head was a cloche of scalloped lace edged with pearls. An organza bow held her fingertip illusion veil. The bride carried a white Bible topped with pink and white sweetheart roses, with pink streamers tied in love knots.

Maid of honor was Miss Maxine Gerber, Bluffton route four, in a gown of dogwood pink silk organza. The fitted bodice of the honor attendant had a softly scooped neckline, and back panels of organza fell over the full waist-length skirt. A crown of grape leaves held a circular veil, and she carried a corsage of pink carnations. The bridesmaids, Miss Jeanne Kaehr, route four, and Mrs. James Fisher, Monroe, wore gowns in Paris pink, styled identically to that of the maid of honor. Little Miss Mary Sue Lantz, sister of the bride, was flower girl in an identical pink organza dress.

Charles Fiechter, Bluffton route four, was best man, and the ushers were David Ringger and Tom Moser, both of Bluffton.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of pale blue eyelet over taffeta with blue and patent accessories. Mrs. Pfister wore a rose lace dress with white accessories.

Hostesses at an afternoon reception at the Armory were Miss Mary Jo Pfister; Miss Carole Kipter; Miss Violet Baumgartner; Mrs. David Ringger; Mrs. Tom Moser; Mrs. Vic Gerber and Miss Sue Gerber, Bluffton; Mrs. Richard Todd, Ossian; Miss Barbara Steiner and Miss Marcia Merriman, Monroe; Miss Betsy Schaefer, Craigville, and Miss Lois Gerber, Decatur. Miss Arlene Frauhiger registered the guests.

Leaving for the honeymoon, the bride was attired in a brown sheath dress with brown and beige accessories and a corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet.

A graduate of Adams Central high school, Mrs. Pfister is an employee of the Lincoln National Life insurance company in Fort Wayne. The bridegroom was graduated from Bluffton high school and is engaged in farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Pfister will be at home in Bluffton after August 4.

PERSONAL SHOWER HONORS MISS SARA GERBER

Pink and blue appointments with milk glass formed the background for a surprise personal shower and morning coffee hour honoring Miss Sara Gerber Saturday at the home of Mrs. Paul Edwards.

As the guests entered the door, they were invited to have coffee before the bride-elect opened her gifts. The serving table centerpiece was a pineapple holding fruit appetizers on toothpicks. Hot homemade rolls were also served with the refreshments, served on milk glass, on a pink table cloth with blue napkins.

The bride-to-be opened her gifts at a dressing table draped with blue cloth caught up in three places at the sides with pink roses. Pink roses and lilies were the floral decorations.

Hostesses along with Mrs. Edwards were Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. John Spaulding, and Mrs. L. A. Cowens.

Guests at the coffee and shower included the Mesdames Marion Feasel and daughters Carolyn and Julie, New Haven; C. I. Finlayson, Fort Wayne; O. M. Crider and Debrah, Park Forest, Ill.; John Terveer, Arthur Girod, Harry Dailey, Joseph Azbell, Robert Holt, J. Ward Calland, W. Guy Brown, Carl Gerber and Susan and Jane, Douglas Thompson, Myrtle Filson, Ed Engeler, and Watson Maddox, all of Decatur.

Unable to attend were the Mesdames Paul Suter and David Johns, Nevada; O. Newell Wright, Fort Wayne; Roy Kalver, Richard Mies, Kenneth Nash, Lydia Foughty, Virgil Krick, Charles Holthouse, Maynard Hetrick, and Clifford Saylor.

PTA AUCTION SLATED FOR NEXT SATURDAY

The PTA of the Northwest and Lincoln schools has completed plans for the street auction Saturday at Madison and Second street.

Two sessions of the auction will be held, in cooperation with the students of the Reppert school of auctioneering. The afternoon sale begins at 2 p.m., and the evening session, 7:30 p.m.

Co-chairmen are Mrs. John Kelley and Mrs. Paul Wolf. Their committee is Mrs. Arthur Beeler, Mrs. Jack Shady, Mrs. Kenneth Singleton, and Mrs. Roy Friedly.

The room mothers have been contacting parents of the entire student body of the Northwest and Lincoln schools. Members and friends of the PTA are being asked to bring their donations to the auction site on Madison street during the morning of August 8.

The Church of God Missionary Society will have their annual retreat, back of the church, beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The Union Chapel Ladies' Aid will have their meeting Thursday at the church, with a potluck dinner at noon.

State Scholarships To County Students

Several hundred students attending Ball State Teachers College during the 1959-60 college year will have scholarships of various types to help them with their college expenses according to awards made through the college's office of scholarships and student aids.

The following persons have received scholarship grants from funds operated by college agencies. Many additional students are awarded scholarships by agencies independent of the college, particularly organizations in the students' hometowns.

Biggest scholarship program operated by Ball State is a state scholarship plan which authorizes the college to grant 186 partial-fee scholarships to entering freshmen. Students maintaining high academic grades may have these scholarships renewed during their sophomore and later college years.

Several scholarship funds have been set up by college agencies and friends of the college to assist deserving students in addition to the state scholarship program. Scholarship awards go to—

Decatur—Marilyn Jefferies, junior, state scholarship renewal; Judith Locke, senior, state scholarship renewal; Judy K. Rhodes, freshman, state scholarship; John E. Shaffer, freshman, state scholarship.

Berne—Leon Gould, junior, Ball State foundation music; Anne Stahli, senior, state scholarship renewal.

Four Are Arrested On Speeding Charges

City and state police arrested four drivers over the weekend with two pleading guilty to speeding on 13th street and paying a $1 fine and costs in justice of the peace court on Sunday. The two others will be brought to court later this month. Robert D. Doherty, who was arrested July 30, pleaded guilty to a city police charge of speeding and paid the fine Sunday. Clarence W. May, 18, of 1414 Madison street, Decatur, was arrested by the city police for speeding on Mercer avenue Sunday at 9:40 p.m. He will appear in justice of the peace court at 4 p.m. Thursday.

State police arrested Ezell L. Stephens, 35, of Fort Wayne, and Perry A. West, of Rockford, O., on speeding charges Sunday. Stephens will appear in justice of the peace court at noon today to answer the charge on speeding on U.S. 27 in Geneva. West paid a $1 fine and costs for speeding in Decatur on U.S. 33 at 9 p.m. Sunday. He appeared in court immediately after his arrest.

License Suspended For Geneva Resident

The Indiana bureau of motor vehicles listed one Adams county resident on its suspension-of-license list today. Richard Harold McCullom, of Geneva, had his license suspended for being convicted of a drunk driving charge. The effective date of the suspension is June 22 for one year.

SHOT HER HUSBAND—Mrs. Arletta Hankins (left) faces a second degree murder charge in Conneaut, O., in the fatal shooting of her husband, Earl C. Hankins (right), business manager of the Ashtabula, O., Star-Beacon. They quarreled a good deal, it was reported, and she claimed she only wanted to scare him when he was shot.

Farmers' Picnic Is Scheduled Thursday

The Willshire, O., high school band will play for the 45th annual farmers' picnic two and one-fourth miles east of Chattanooga, O., on the Tama road Thursday.

The farmers' picnic schedule begins with a pony pulling contest in the morning. There will be a basket dinner at noon, and a children's contest in the afternoon. Mrs. Ruth Buchholz, public relations representative for the National Farmers' equity, will speak during the afternoon program when the Willshire band will play.

In the evening, Charles A. Hilt, Pet Milk district field man, will speak. Group singing, local talent, and other high school bands are also scheduled for the afternoon and evening programs.

PRISONER

not know what the solution was but obtained it with the idea it contained alcohol.

Hock identified 12 of the ill as Lloyd Bowen, Raymond Martin, Paul Drcho, Glenn Bowen, Harold Cockrell, Harlan Cockrell, Joseph White, James McGill, Henry Carrell, Donald Cash, Leon Caloway and Clarence Washington. Hock said he was unable to provide ages or home addresses immediately.

Hock said the men were found under the influence of the solution in "various details" around the barracks area. It was not, he said, a "party" where all the group was gathered to drink.

Secretary Of Labor Lashes Steel, Union

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steel industry and union representatives meet here today for the second time since the beginning of a nation-wide strike 20 days ago.

Hanging over their conference table are a sharp rebuke for both sides from Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and a slap at the steel industry from Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

At San Juan, Puerto Rico, Massachusetts' Gov. Foster Furcolo proposed that the governors' conference take up the strike which he said calls for "positive action on the part of the governors of the states, all of which are very much affected by this strike."

New Jersey's Gov. Robert B. Meyner called for the Eisenhower administration to use more "influence," through Mitchell, to bring the industry and union together.

Little Hope Seen
But Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan, who scheduled today's meeting, held out little hope the session would result in substantial, or any, progress toward agreement.

It was set for 2 p.m. after a lunch scheduled by the industry to release to the press "thousands of letters" supporting its position—that a wage increase is not possible without a price increase and that both must be resisted as inflationary.

The United Steelworkers of America (USW) which called half a million members on strike at midnight July 14 when a contract extension expired without sign of agreement maintains that the industry's profits are high enough to provide a 15-cent-an-hour wage package without an increase in price.

Kefauver said Sunday he believes steel profits are high enough for the industry to both pay a small wage increase, preferably in pension contributions, and reduce its prices.

Criticizes Steel Profits
Kefauver, a long-time critic of the pricing policies of steel and other big industries, said profits after taxes for 14 steel companies are 145 per cent above those of last year.

Mitchell, who is conducting a fact-finding survey of this and previous steel strikes which he has hinted may lead to federal legislation, in a sharp statement Saturday said:

"Both parties have done very little to measure up to their own responsibilities to the American people and to the thousands of workers who are affected by the strike."

In addition to the 500,000 steelworkers, who have shut down 85 per cent of the nation's production, an estimated 85,000 workers in supporting mining and transport industries have been laid off because of the strike.
