

Eisenhower Calls For North Atlantic Pact Nations Stand Firm

PARIS (UPI) — President Eisenhower today assured the Western Allies there are no "second place" nations in NATO. He called on the 15 members of the North Atlantic Alliance to stand firm behind their collective principles in the interest of world peace.

The President said that if the Allies support NATO as staunchly as their individual countries "then there will be no war — than there will be peace."

The President made a sudden, unscheduled visit to NATO headquarters before beginning top secret talks with French President Charles de Gaulle in an effort to heal their glaring differences before Eisenhower meets with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Eisenhower told the ministers that he went before them with no new proposals but merely in gratitude and praise for the work of the permanent council.

"The United States seeks no position in NATO except that of an equal partner ready to work with all member nations regardless of their size," said Eisenhower.

NATO: "A Matter of Spirit"

"No nation in its spirit and in the moral force that it can exert within this organization need take a second place."

"NATO is a matter of spirit, of determination to work as partners and to preserve those ideals that we all cherish."

"If we are firm among ourselves, if we refuse to retreat one inch from principle, if we remain flexible as far as tactics are involved, if we give to NATO the same patriotic deep devotion that we give to each of our nations, then there will be a war — then there will be peace."

NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak thanked Eisenhower for his appearance and remarked, "we have complete trust in you."

Spaak and NATO Chairman Joseph Luns conferred with Eisenhower at the U. S. Embassy this morning and at that time the President asked to address the Permanent Council which was assembling for a special meeting.

The three drove together to NATO headquarters.

Original plans had called for Luns, Spaak and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter to report to the smaller members of NATO on Eisenhower's "peace is possible" crusade in Europe.

Spaak told newsmen that at his and Luns' private meeting with Eisenhower "everything went well."

The NATO foreign ministers scheduled to debate today and Friday Eisenhower's forthcoming meetings with Khrushchev. Then they were expected to back the U. S. President fully for the encounters.

Eisenhower arranged to go into seclusion this afternoon for man to man talks with de Gaulle at the French president's country residence, chateau Rambouillet, 27 miles southwest of Paris.

The two World War II comrades publicly admitted their difficulties Wednesday night.

Arises Early
Eisenhower arose early this morning and was driven from his suite at the Foreign Ministry to the U. S. Embassy for an 8 a.m. breakfast with Ambassador and Mrs. Amory Houghton.

Teachers Institute In Decatur Friday

The Adams county teachers will meet Friday at 9:30 a.m. at the Decatur Youth and Community center for their pre-registration teachers' institute.

Prof. Merle T. Strom, Ph.D., of the Ball State Teachers' College department of education, will have the main address, "Here We Are—Again."

The institute is the second of the pre-school teachers' meetings for county school teachers. Wednesday the principals convened in the office of county superintendent of schools Gail Grabill. After the morning session of Friday's institute, the teachers will go to their own schools for afternoon meetings with their principals.

Friday morning's program at the Youth and Community center will begin with the Rev. Edward Pacha, pastor of the First Christian church, Decatur, giving the invocation. A girls' trio from Adams Central high school — Karen Rich, Sandra Mattax, and Annie Singleton, accompanied by Joslyn McCullough—will sing before and after Dr. Strom's address.

The teachers will also elect their delegates to the representative assembly of the I. S. T. A. institute this fall, during their business meeting. Before the meeting closes, the principals may make announcements. Principals in county schools this year are Kenneth Van Emon, Hartford; Edward Helmann, Jefferson; Hugh Tate, assistant superintendent, Adams Central; Charles Rix, Monmouth; David Rankin, Geneva; and Gerald Vizard, Pleasant Mills.

Decatur Forestry Team Places Third

The Decatur 4-H forestry team placed third in the state contest Tuesday at Indianapolis.

The two members are Barbara Blecke, scoring 697 points out of a possible 700, and Ann Lehrman Schinnerer, with 683, placing third and fourth in the state in individual scores, respectively.

The top team in the state, coach Bill Jounray reported Wednesday, scored 1377 points out of a possible 1400, the second team 1375, and Decatur's team, placing third, with 1370 points. The scores in the contest then dropped for fourth place down to 1345 points.

Each forestry contestant identified 45 leaves out of the booklet, "Fifty Trees of Indiana." Mist Blecke was one of two persons in the contest who identified all 45 correctly, the other one being the high individual scorer in the state. The remainder of the test was a quiz on forestry management.

Win Blue Ribbons

Three Adams county 4-H judging and demonstration winners became state fair blue ribbon winners in Indianapolis Monday and Wednesday.

Monday, in the clothing judging contest, Shirley Bieberich placed second in the state, becoming first alternate for the "honor" trip to Washington, D. C., a trip awarded to many of the first prize winners in the state fair 4-H-FFA contests. Lois Folk, county home demonstration agent, said that the first prize winner was Ruby Granes, Rockville, in Park county, who scored 584 points. Miss Bieberich scored 579. Scores from first through fourth were well bunched, with Margaret Boerger placing fourth in the state, with 576 points. Both girls will receive blue ribbons, placing top in a group of 18 judging contestants from the nine districts in Indiana.

In the demonstration contests Wednesday, Gail Egly, county and district demonstration winner, placed first in the blue ribbon group, 11 of the 18 entrants in the general demonstration division, where there are the most entrants and the toughest competition of all the demonstration contests.

The demonstrators will also elect their delegates to the representative assembly of the I. S. T. A. institute this fall, during their business meeting. Before the meeting closes, the principals may make announcements. Principals in county schools this year are Kenneth Van Emon, Hartford; Edward Helmann, Jefferson; Hugh Tate, assistant superintendent, Adams Central; Charles Rix, Monmouth; David Rankin, Geneva; and Gerald Vizard, Pleasant Mills.

Hoover Says Crime Increase Shocking

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover lashed out today at Americans who stand idle while criminals turn parts of the nation into a "no man's land" of violence.

Hoover, writing in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, described as "shocking" the 9.3 per cent increase in crime last year. He noted it was the highest rate in the recorded history of U. S. crime.

The FBI chief said the report showed that some areas are a veritable "no man's land" where crime is ever lurking. He reprimanded citizens who have a "detached attitude towards crime."

No One Immune
"This country's citizens," Hoover wrote, "must awaken to the fact that the war on crime is not just the battle of the law enforcement officer."

"Every citizen has a stake when hoodlums prowling the streets brazenly committing atrocities which appall even veteran police officers. No one is immune from the attacks of depraved murderers, robbers, sex offenders and kidnappers."

Hoover said the police officers are a "small patrol" when compared with the "army of law breakers roaming America."

Lonely Battle
"Often the law enforcement officer's battle is a lonely one," he added, "and too frequently the citizens who should be his allies are indifferent and apathetic."

New Youth Outbreak In New York City

NEW YORK (UPI) — An 18-year-old youth was stabbed and seriously wounded and three companions were beaten in an unprovoked attack by a teenage gang on a Brooklyn streetcorner Wednesday. It was New York's third outbreak of youth violence in 11 days.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert F. Wagner planned separate conferences today to deal with the problem.

The wounded youth, Dominick Scudiere, told police he was talking with three friends when a band of about 15 youths believed to be Puerto Ricans and members of a gang called the Majestics approached and asked if they were members of either of two gangs.

Auto Passes School Bus, Boy Injured

ROCHESTER, Ind. (UPI) — Larry Rudd, 9, Rochester, was struck by an auto while stepping off a school bus Monday.

The accident occurred on Ind. 25, about five miles south of Rochester. The bus was stopped, its lights blinking and its stop sign out, when the boy left the bus and crossed in front to the opposite side of the highway.

A car driven south by Phillip Moses, 43, South Bend, passed the bus and hit the boy.

The boy was treated for shock and bruised legs at Woodlawn hospital, Rochester.

Moses was charged with passing a school bus while unloading and was fined $20 plus $17.75 in court costs.

The driver of the bus was Ira Baker, 58, Rochester.

10 Blue Ribbons To County's 4-H'ers

Ten blue ribbons were awarded to Adams county 4-H'ers projects after judging was completed in home economics, crafts, and electricity projects at the state fair.

The county extension office Wednesday released the winners in the food preservation, clothing, electricity, crafts, and home improvement projects. Other project results will be released as soon as they are received from Indianapolis.

In clothing, Gail Egly, Jefferson Work and Win, and Lois Jean Gerke, Union Pals, won blue ribbons; Cindy Collier and Rita Norquest, Decatur Peppy Gals, and Connie Bergman, Monmouth Merry Maids, red ribbons; and Patricia LaFontaine, Washington Happy Hustlers, Sheryl Boerger, Monmouth Merry Maids, and Janet Wintergerg, Decatur Peppy Gals, white ribbons.

Crafts Winners

Winning blue ribbons in crafts projects were Jackie Hurst, Monmouth Merry Maids, and John Landis, Kirkland Future Farmers. Receiving a red ribbon was Marjean Neuenschwander, Wabash Cloverleaf; and green, Erma Stauffer, Hartford Happy Go Lucky; Richard Weiland, Union Workers, and Lila Ann Krueztman, Preble Jolly Juniors.

The state fair released the following food preservation and home improvement winners, stating their classification, in addition to their placings, today for the home improvement and food preservation projects.

Jackie Hurst, Monmouth, received a white ribbon for her home improvement project, entered in the furniture unit.

Five Blues In Foods

In food preservation, four blue ribbons were awarded to Adams county girls, while a Monroeville girl also received a blue ribbon. The five are Mary Ann Kipfer, French Peppy Peppers, for a package of frozen vegetables; Brenda Roe, Blue Creek Up and At It, for one package of frozen fruit and one of frozen vegetables; Marilyn Stucky, Washington Happy Hustlers, for three packages of food, for dinner or supper; Deanna Allison, route one, Monroeville, in the same division; and Lois Jean Gerke, Union Pals, for their packages of frozen food.

Three red ribbons came back to Adams county through the food preservation projects: The ribbons were awarded to Joyce Strouse, Monmouth Merry Maids, for one quart or pint of vegetables; Linda King, St. Mary's Kekiongas, one package of frozen fruit and one of vegetables; and Gail Egly, Jefferson, for three packages of frozen vegetables.

Yoder Funeral Rites Friday Afternoon

Funeral services will be held Friday for Mrs. Ottila Yoder, of Linn Grove, who died Tuesday night at the home of a daughter in Muncie. Services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday at the Cross Evangelical and Reformed church, Berne, the Rev. C. A. Schmidt officiating. Burial will be in the MRE cemetery. Friends may call at the Yager funeral home until time of the services.

Defy Orders By Frondizi

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentine's "rebel" generals hurled a new challenge at President Arturo Frondizi's government today, rejecting its dismissal of Gen. Carlos S. Toranzo Monter as commander of the army.

The Cordoba garrison and the anti-aircraft academy in the Mar del Plata had proclaimed their open defiance of the government order, and a "great majority" of the nation's other garrisons were reported siding with Toranzo.

Gen. Pedro S. Castineiras, chosen by the government to replace Toranzo, said he had no idea how soon he would be able to assume command.

Heavily-reinforced guards stood watch at army barracks in the Buenos Aires area, and troops were reported confined to barracks. Unofficial sources said similar precautions had been ordered at garrisons throughout the country.

Fourteen generals who announced their opposition to Toranzo's dismissal in telegrams to the provincial garrisons were reported under arrest Wednesday night as a prelude to possible court martial.

The Cordoba garrison, cradle of the revolution that overthrew President Juan D. Peron in 1955, was the first sizeable military organization to reject Toranzo's dismissal.

Col. Horacio Zanaraza, the Cordoba commander, denounced the "unjustified removal" of Toranzo. He declared that the troops under his command would obey only the orders of the deposed general.

War Secretary Elbi C. Anaya relieved Toranzo of command Wednesday, apparently because of reports that the army commander planned to dismiss a number of subordinate generals without consulting him.

4-H Members Attend State Fair Saturday

Three busloads of Adams county 4-H'ers will go to the state fair Saturday, designated 4-H day at the fair.

Thousands of 4-H club members from over the state will throng onto the fairgrounds to see the exhibits in the 4-H projects.

The 4-H junior leaders and exhibitors will be the largest delegation from Adams county, for two busloads of 4-H'ers will leave early Saturday morning—6 a.m. from the county extension office in Decatur; 6:15 a.m. from Coppess Corner, and 6:30 a.m. from the Berne school corner. Leo N. Seltenright, county agent, Lois M. Folk, home demonstration agent, and Phyllis Shirey, apprentice home agent, and Mrs. Roy Balisger and Mrs. Chester Isch, 4-H mothers, will accompany the two groups.

The 4-H dairy club will also be sending one busload of its members to the fair under the direction of the dairy committee, headed by Roy Price. The dairy bus will leave from the extension office at Decatur at 7 a.m.; Coppess Corner at 7:10 a.m., and the Berne school corner at 7:15 a.m. Dairy committee members will also accompany the group.

NO PAPER MONDAY
The Decatur Daily Democrat will not publish an edition Monday, Sept. 7, because of the Labor Day holiday.

Three Packing Firms, Unions Sign Contracts

United Press International
The threat of a major strike in the meat packing industry eased Wednesday when three big packinghouse firms signed contracts with two unions.

Elsewhere on the nation's labor scene, a strike at the Cape Canaveral missile base ended and contract talks in the glass and aluminum industries were recessed. Steel negotiators met but would not comment on whether any progress was made.

The United Packinghouse Workers of America and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen unions reached tentative agreement in Chicago with John Morrell and Co., Hygrade Food Products Corp. and Cudahy Packing Co.

The temporary settlements followed the pattern established earlier this week by Armour and Co., which agreed to a 15-cent hourly wage increase over the next two years.

Talks continued today with Swift and Co., giant of the industry with 19,000 workers, Wilson and Co., and Oscar Mayer and Co.

The two unions balked at a wage increase proposal by Swift. They said the company refused to grant all its workers the 15-cent Armour increase.

Swift asked for a recess until after Labor day to develop new proposals but the unions demanded a meeting today.

The Operating Engineers Union settled a wage dispute with a private contractor at Cape Canaveral Wednesday, ending three-day strike that tied up construction projects at the vital missile test center.

Negotiations in Pittsburgh between the American Flint Glass Workers and 36 glass container companies were recessed Wednesday until Sept. 9.

The union's contract covering 2,000 moldmakers expired Monday but was extended on a day-to-day basis.

A recess until Sept. 15 was announced by negotiators for the United Steelworkers and the Aluminum Company of America. The USW contract expired in July but was extended until at least 30 days after settlement of the steel strike.

Equal Time Law Is Passed By Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today passed by voice vote and sent to the White House a bill exempting news programs from the requirement that equal time be granted to political candidates.

The measure drafted by Senate House conferees, was approved by the House Wednesday, 142-70. No dissenting Senate votes were heard. Approval came, however, only after brief but lively debate in which several senators expressed concern over the exemption provided for regularly scheduled news panel shows like "Meet the Press" (NBC) and "Face the Nation" (CBS).

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) said his concern over the news panel shows grows out of his own political experience and the kind of treatment he said newspapers have given to Democratic candidates. He called radio and TV "the last refuge" for campaigning Democrats.

Engle said he did not want to see broadcasters and telecasters free to "give us the business the way the newspapers of the nation have."

President Eisenhower has termed the present law ridiculous. The Federal Communications Commission has interpreted the present law to mean that radio and TV stations must grant political candidates equal time when their rivals are featured on any type of program, including spot news.

In drafting the bill, the conferees drafted a report making clear that the bill would apply to such news panel shows as "Meet the Press," "Face the Nation" and "college News Conference."

Substitute To Bill Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An irate House Appropriations Committee refused to concede defeat today in the fight with President Eisenhower over the public works appropriations bill.

Despite the fact an Eisenhower veto of a previous bill was upheld Wednesday, the committee rejected a substitute tailored to meet his objections.

The rejection came on a 19-19 tie vote. Defeated was a bill which would have eliminated 67 new projects which prompted Eisenhower to veto the first measure.

The committee then voted, 23-19, to have a subcommittee begin drafting a new bill. The vetoed measure would have appropriated $1,206,748,548 for public works such as rivers and harbors projects.

Other congressional news:

Interest: The House Ways and Means Committee approved a bill to allow the government to pay higher interest rates on savings bonds. The measure which will be speeded through Congress before adjournment would permit higher interest on E and H bonds now held by an estimated 40 million investors as well as those bought in the future.

Labor: The Senate met early to begin debate on the compromise labor reform bill worked out by House-Senate conferees Wednesday.

Taxes: The Senate passed and sent to the President a bill barring state and local governments from taxing out-of-state corporations which merely solicit orders within the state.

Equal Time: The Senate also sent to the White House a bill exempting news programs on radio and television from the requirement that equal time be granted to all political candidates.

Schedule: Sens. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) and Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) introduced a substitute school construction bill which they said would permit the building of 100,000 new classrooms over the next four years at a cost of four billion dollars.

Score Executive Secrecy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House investigators today accused the executive branch of the government of spreading a cloak of "bureaucratic secrecy" over federal agencies which spend billions of dollars of public funds.

The 454-page report of the House government information subcommittee lashed out at executive department agencies for withholding information and official reports from congressional committees and from the public.

The report included documents, exhibits and correspondence compiled by the subcommittee, headed by Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.), detailing 35 investigations into complaints of government secrecy.

Under a heading entitled "In Secrecy We Trust," the report said:

"Continued withholding of information and official reports... solely because knowledge might create controversy or affect the sensibilities of federal employees will inevitably destroy the very keystone of American government—that principle that the operations of government must endure the crucible of public debate."

Chairman William L. Dawson (D-Ill.) of the full government operations committee said "the report documents a record showing the administration is hiding the facts which the American people need to know about their government."

Investigations covered in the report included Defense Department refusal to release information about use of monkeys in space research, the Bureau of Prisons' denial of access to studies of conditions in local jails for fear of controversy, the Army's refusal to give Wisconsin private citizen Sylvester Krolinkowski information of government payments to Milwaukee physician Dr. Irvin Cowan for taking X-rays of draftees—and other investigations.

The report also contended that there is no legal basis for the so-called "executive privilege" doctrine under which some congressional committees have been denied access by executive agencies to certain advisory documents.
