Temperatures Drop To 50s In State

United Press International
Cool, dry air washed Hoosiers with the first crisp temperatures of autumn's vanguard today, dropping the mercury into the 50s all around the state.

High humidity vanished in the wake of Canadian air sweeping in to push the last traces of a month-long heat wave into obscurity.

Temperatures fell to 50 at Lafayette and Goshen, 51 at South Bend, 53 at Fort Wayne, 54 at Indianapolis and 59 at Evansville this morning.

Despite the cool night, however, the mercury was due to warm up to normal early-September levels ranging from the mid 70s in the north to 78 to 82 in the south this afternoon.

Friday will be even warmer, with the mercury ranging from 80 to 85 north, the mid 80s central and 82 to 87 south.

A shower pattern which featured the weather earlier this week was dissipated as the cool front moved in, and no more rain was seen at least through Saturday.

Mostly fair was the order of the day for today, Friday and Saturday.

Saturday will be "continued fair and pleasant," the weatherman said.

Despite the daytime warmth, the mercury will fall into the 50s again tonight, ranging from 52 to 57 north to 55 to 62 south.

Highs Wednesday ranged from 81 at Fort Wayne to 84 at South Bend.
