White Sox And Giants Retain League Margins

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press International
 The Chicago White Sox and San Francisco Giants, frisky front-runners in the major league pennant races, galloped past the Labor Day marker with history and the oddsmakers on their side.

During the last 10 years only one American League team (Cleveland in 1955) faltered in the stretch after leading the field on Labor Day. In the National League, the Labor Day pacesetter has appeared in the World Series seven times in the last decade. The "quitters" were the Braves in 1956, the Dodgers in 1951, and the Cardinals in 1949.

Broadway oddsmakers also feel certain now that it will be a White Sox-Giants World Series. In their revised quotations, they listed the Chisox as whopping 10-1 favorites for the American League flag and pegged the Giants at 3-1 in the N.L. The odds against the Dodgers and Braves catching Bill Rigney's slugers are 5-1.

Sox Take Two
 The White Sox maintained the 4½ game lead over Cleveland Monday by downing the Kansas City Athletics twice, 2-1 and 13-7, while the Indians swept their holiday twinbill with the Detroit Tigers, 15-4 and 6-5. The Washington Senators clubbed the Baltimore Orioles, 8-1, in 10 innings after dropping the opener, 7-0, and the Boston Red Sox whipped the New York Yankees in a single game, 12-4.

In the N.L. race, Sam Jones pitched the Giants to a 4-2 victory over the Cardinals. The Braves tied the Dodgers for second place, three games back of San Francisco, by taking a pair from the Pirates, 5-1 and 4-1, while Los Angeles ripped the Cubs, 7-1, and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Cincinnati Reds, 6-4, in single games.

Ted Kluszewski had a big hand in both White Sox triumphs. The husky National League castoff singled home a key run in the opener and then drove in five runs with two homers and a sacrifice fly in the nightcap.

The Indians won both their games with three-run, ninth-inning rallies. In the opener, Jim Piersall singled home the tying and winning runs off Jim Bunning after the Indians had trailed by as much as 12-4. Cleveland used eight pitchers in the wild contest which featured a total of 29 hits, including seven homers.

Lepcio Comes Through
 Ted Lepcio's three-run homer gave Detroit a 5-2 edge in the seventh inning of the nightcap but the Indians again bounced back in the ninth, scoring their winning run on Vic Power's sacrifice fly. Jones struck out nine and scattered seven hits in handcuffing the Cardinals for his 19th victory. Orlando Cepeda, who collected three hits to pace the Giant attack, singled home the decisive run in the sixth inning. Ken Boyer of the Cards extended his hitting streak through 25 games while the Giants' Willie McCovey hit safely in his 20th straight.

Lew Burdette also registered his 19th victory for the Braves, halting the Pirates on six hits in the opener, while Bob Buhl completed the sweep with a neat seven-hitter. Hank Aaron, rookie Lee Maye and Del Crandall homered for Milwaukee in the first game. The Braves wrapped up the nightcap early with a three-run spurt in the opening inning off Bennie Daniels.

Johnny Podres struck out 14 Cub batters — a career high for the Dodger southpaw — and allowed only six hits in posting his 13th victory of the campaign. Los Angeles broke the game wide open with four runs in the seventh inning off Bob Anderson, who had beaten the Dodgers four times this season.

Dave Philley's two-run homer in the ninth inning sunk the Reds at Philadelphia. Cincinnati had tied the score at 4-4 in the sixth on a home run by Willie Jones. Wally Post also homered for the Phils.

Trinity Wins Over Decatur Lutheran

Trinity, of Fort Wayne, blanked Decatur Lutheran, 3-0, in a Lutheran grade league game Sunday afternoon at McMillen field. The winners scored all their runs in the first inning. Buuck, Trinity hurler, allowed only two hits and fanned 16. Decatur will play at Union next Sunday in the opening round of the league tourney.

Traffic Violation Charged Local Man

Morris Colter, 18, of Decatur, was charged by Van Wert police Friday for unsafe operation when his car hit a parked auto owned by Mark E. Price, 49, of Convo, O.

The mishap occurred at 11:31 p. m. Friday. Reports said Colter was eastbound and struck the Price auto, which was parked in a driveway. The right front fender and wheel of the Colter car and the right rear corner and left rear door of the Price car were damaged.

Decatur Man Lodged In Bluffton Jail

A young Decatur man was lodged in the Wells county jail Friday night after leading the state police a merry, zig-zag chase back and forth across state road 1 north of Bluffton.

Charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages were to be filed today in Wells circuit court against Harold Hirschey, 19, of Decatur, who was finally apprehended in Villa North. A state trooper and a Bluffton patrolman had pursued him from Market and Main streets.

Hirschey admitted drinking earlier in the evening somewhere in Ohio, he said. Three male juveniles in the auto, who did not appear to have been drinking, were released to their parents.

Red Men's Festival To Open Wednesday

The Decatur Red Men, sponsors of the fall festival in downtown Decatur Wednesday through Saturday, are cooperating with merchants by furnishing ride coupon tickets which will be given free by the merchants. Each coupon is good for any ride on payment of 10 cents at the ticket office on the midway. These tickets may be obtained without charge by merchants who have notices in their display windows.

Distribution of these tickets will be discontinued by the merchants at 7 p. m. Wednesday, when the festival opens, continuing through Saturday night. The Lake Shore Amusements are furnishing the midway attractions. There will be new and novel rides, fun booths and concessions, with many local stands.

Purdue Ag Alumni To Meet Saturday

Prof. Richard C. Dobson, an authority on insect control, will address the Adams county chapter of the Purdue alumni association following a 6:30 p. m. steak fry Saturday at the Paul Kohne farm.

Prof. Dobson joined the staff of the Purdue school of agriculture in 1958 to do research and extension work in insecticides for livestock. A 1946 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, he holds advanced degrees from Wisconsin and Oregon State college.

Prof. Dobson has written numerous bulletins and articles on insect control around livestock, and is a member of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific society, Phi Sigma, honorary biological fraternity, the American entomological society, and was president of the Rocky Mountain conference of entomology in 1957-58. Before joining the Purdue staff, he was on the faculty of New Mexico A&M college, where he served as extension entomologist.

A native of Montana, "Dobby" is an enthusiastic, factual speaker, and has been a popular part of programs for service clubs, farm groups, and extension meetings.

New York Yankees Near Elimination

NEW YORK (UPI)—This could be "the day the Yankees lost the pennant."

If the Chicago White Sox defeat the Kansas City Athletics tonight the Yankees will be 17½ games out of first place with only 17 games to play.

Decatur Man Hurt In Accident Monday

The second of two personal injury accidents in the county that occurred within an hour of each other was reported by sheriff and state police as happening at 8:15 p. m. Monday on county road 8 about a mile north and west of Decatur. Homer Springer, 45, of 1004 W. Adams street, was held at the Adams county hospital for observation following the accident when he was thrown out of his car. The car, valued at $250, was a total loss. His condition was not serious this morning according to a hospital report.

Deputy Robert E. Meyer, assisted by the state police, said that the Springer machine lost control on county road 8 for 141 feet on the road, then 105 feet off the road as he was traveling west. The vehicle hit a stump, flipping over and then smashed into a light and power pole, causing $75 damage to the pole. Charges will be filed against Springer upon completion of a full investigation by the sheriff's department and state police.

Decatur Rotarians Entertain Ladies

"Sputniks, Luniks and Lunatics" will be the topic of Colonel Jim Healey's address to the ladies night program of the Decatur Rotary club to be held Thursday evening at the Decatur Youth and Community Center. Col. Healey is a pioneer radio broadcaster with many "firsts" to his credit. He used editorial comment as a news broadcaster to conduct a "pronunciation class" on the air. He was also the first to broadcast from a dirigible.

In 1946, Col. Healey purchased controlling interest in station WOKO at Albany, New York. After selling this station in 1956, he has been traveling and lecturing continuously. Joe Kaehr, program chairman, arranged the program as the first ladies night feature of the fall season.

Report Charley Shipp In Good Condition

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Former basketball star Charley Shipp was in good condition at St. Elizabeth's hospital here following the amputation of his right leg as a result of Buerger's disease, a rare blood ailment.

Shipp, 45, led Indianapolis Cathedral High School to the National Catholic basketball title in 1933 and played 16 years of pro ball with Oshkosh and the Anderson Packers. He currently is employed at Purdue University.
