The business meeting was in order with the president, Mrs. Faye Baker, presiding. Program books for the year were distributed and a letter from the new supreme president of Emblem clubs of America read. She asked the Decatur group to hold a joint installation of officers with Bluffton and Garrett. Reports of different committees were given to the club.

During the social hour, Mrs. Carl Baxter was presented with the door prize and the other prizes were awarded to Mrs. James Newton and Mrs. H. R. Frey. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. James Cowens, and Mrs. Bob Hammond.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE MEETS

The Decatur Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service members met Thursday at the church. Circles met at 11 o'clock and a luncheon was served at the noon hour by circle 2.

President, Mrs. Lowell Smith, opened the general meeting that was held in the church chapel. Mrs. Lloyd Ahr was in charge of the worship service, using the theme, "A Light Upon A Mountain." The scripture lesson was taken from the 10th chapter of Luke.

Mrs. David Heller presented the program lesson, a story about caring entitled, "My Daughter M'Alaa."

The meeting closed with the members reading together the W.S.C.S. pledge. Mrs. Sparks introduced Miss Keiko Shimizu, of Hiroshima, Japan. Miss Shimizu will leave for Taylor University Sunday where she is being sponsored by the Methodist churches of Adams county during her college days.

BIRTHDAY THEME USED BY MISSIONARY SOCIETY

A birthday theme was used when the members and guests of the Zion Lutheran Missionary Society met recently in the church parish hall. Various greenery and cut flowers were used to decorate the serving table, which was centered with a large birthday cake. Mrs. Richard Ludwig was later awarded the cake as the attendance prize. Also on the serving table was a gaily decorated box which was used to receive the "Birthday Offering" of the members.

Mrs. Kenneth Schnopf accompanied the group on the piano for the singing of a hymn, after which Mrs. Don Burke presented devotions. She used as her theme "Gifts of the Holy Spirit" as revealed in Isaiah 11, 1-2.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. John Kiess. Various committee chairmen reported on their past activities. It was also noted that the parish kitchen passed the city health inspection and received a certificate stating the same.

The members decided to change the name of their annual project from fall festival to harvest dinner and to serve one large evening meal and omit the noon luncheon. Also because of health inspection rules, the baked goods booth was dropped for this year.

Guests welcomed and introduced to the ladies were Miss Edna Haug and Mrs. Sam Wagner. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Paul Conrad, Mrs. Herman Dierkes, and Mrs. Clarence Dersch. The meeting adjourned with prayer said in unison.

Khrushchev Visit May Upset Plans Of Wedding In Decatur

The visit of Nikita Khrushchev to the United States is very likely to upset plans for a Decatur couple hoping to be married October 3.

When Miss Jane Uhrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Uhrick of Decatur, says she wishes that Khrushchev would not come to this country to visit, she has a good reason. She and her fiancé, Ronald Gerber, of Berne, plan to be married October 3. Gerber's brother, Daniel Gerber, is to serve as best man.

But the catch is that Daniel Gerber is employed in Washington and will be one of the 15,000 men forming the security shield around Khrushchev during his visit here. In addition to the Russian leader, 108 other Soviets will also be protected during the visit, which will last until September 27. If any of the visitors stay over, Gerber may be prevented from attending the wedding October 3 as best man.

Noble County School Enrollment 6,372

A total of 6,372 are enrolled in the Noble county schools, including Kendallville and all parochial schools; this compares with 6,234 enrolled in Adams county. St. John's Lutheran school in Kendallville has 72 pupils; the St. Mary's Catholic school in Avilla has 133 pupils.

Kendallville high school has 482 enrolled, compared with 374 at Decatur high school and 175 at Decatur Catholic high school.

The course will be taught by two of L. A. States outstanding professors of English, Dr. Marvin Laser, chairman of the division of language arts, and celebrated novelist, Dr. Frederick Shroyer, a native of Decatur, Ind.

Professor Shroyer of 362 Coral View in Monterey Park is not new to Los Angeles television and radio audiences. He has appeared frequently on "Meet a Celebrity," "Books in the News," and will be regular host on "Cavalcade of Books" this fall and has been the literary consultant for the CBS series "First Meeting" this summer.

His first widely-acclaimed novel, "Wall Against the Night," and his two-volume "A College Treasury" have attracted much attention both on and off American college campuses. His reviews and articles have been published often in the Los Angeles Times and Saturday Review. His B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees are from the University of Southern California.

Representatives of two transit police organizations told Mayor Robert F. Wagner Friday their men would be willing to pound beats to help regular police crack down on youth violence. Proposals for so-called citizens' "vigilante groups" have been turned down, but the transit patrolmen are graduates of the Police Academy.

Police meanwhile sought a Puerto Rican youth who allegedly wielded a knife in a gang rape of a white woman early yesterday. Three Negroes aged 17 to 20 were seized within a few hours after the attack. The 44-year-old woman told police the four jumped her in front of a Brooklyn subway station as she was on her way to work in an all-night beauty parlor, beat her, dragged her into a waiting car and drove her to the house where they assaulted her.

The fugitive youth was identified only as "Pancho," but police said they knew his full name.

The other three, Jimmie Rogers Lunsford, 17, James Daniel Bellamy, 20, and Alexander Williams, 18, were held in $25,000 bail on charges of kidnapping, robbery and rape. Police said they admitted the attack but denied being members of any organized gang.

The small, frail woman's attackers stole $30 from her before releasing her, blindfolded, on a street corner.

Mayor Wagner was to meet next week with John R. Martin, president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Assn. of the Transit Police and Detective James Rooney, president of the Detectives Assn. of the Transit Police, to consider their offer of transit patrolmen to guard the streets.

Bandy was convicted on charges of falsifying 88 income tax return slips for an average collection of about $200. The defense contended Bandy was framed and that the handwriting on the forms was forged. But District Atty. Robert Vogel said the defense was "utterly ridiculous."

MISHAWAKA, Ind. (UPI)—Thor E. Lewis, 35, Mishawaka, was killed late Friday in a water skiing accident on the St. Joseph River here. Lewis was skating behind a boat operated by his daughter, Carolyn Joan, 12, when his skis struck a submerged tree limb and his head struck a floating tree stump.

Hammond Man Found Guilty Of Tax Fraud

Frederick Shroyer In Television First

Dr. Frederick Shroyer

Another "first" for fast growing L. A. State College and another major educational opportunity for Southern Californians will occur beginning September 22 when the college extension service will offer a two-unit "telecourse" in the "Twentieth Century American Novel" by special arrangement with Los Angeles television station KOP, channel 13.

The course will be televised every Tuesday and Thursday throughout the regular semester, except during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays (Nov. 26, Dec. 22, 24, 29 and 31) from 12:30 to 1 p.m. A final examination will be held on the LASC campus January 16 for those who take the "armchair" course for credit. The fee for the course which will cover works by such writers as Henry James, Stephen Crane, Theodore Dreiser, Ernest Hemingway, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Sinclair Lewis, William Faulkner and others, is $22.50. Those who do not wish to take the course for credit but would like a copy of the published course outline may request one for $2.50. All requests for information, applications, etc. should be directed to the Extension Office of Los Angeles State College, 5151 State College Drive, Los Angeles 32, telephone CA 5-1631, Ext. 503. Applications for enrollment must be postmarked no later than September 30, 1959.

Reports Little Rock Bombings Are Solved

LITTLE ROCK (UPI)—Police Chief Gene Smith said today that the Little Rock bombing case appears to be cleaned up with the arrests of five men. But he vowed that if further investigation involved more suspects he's "make 50 arrests" if necessary.

Charges against the five men arrested in the case were filed late Friday by Pulaski County Prosecuting Attorney J. Frank Holt. He said he would ask for arraignment of the five early next week and trial as soon as possible.

One of the five, J. D. Sims, 35, confessed to police he was involved in the planting of the explosives. He said he did not want his 11-year-old daughter "to go to school with niggers."

Another of the five, E. A. Lauderdale Sr., was free on $50,000 bond from a Municipal Court charge when the circuit court charges were filed. Five hours later the sheriff's office said he still had not been picked up under a bench warrant issued by Hot.

The municipal court bond is not valid before the circuit court. Lauderdale, 49, a building supply dealer; Jesse R. Perry, 24, a truck driver, and Sims, also a truck driver, were charged twice. They were accused of dynamiting the Little Rock school board building and a city-owned station wagon used by Fire Chief Gann Nalley.

Nalley sent firemen to help police break up a demonstration near integrated Central High School Aug. 12.

Samuel G. Beavers, 48, a car salesman, and John T. Coggins, 39, a carpenter at the state hospital, were charged with setting off a blast at the private office of Mayor Werner Knoop.

Hol said Beavers and Coggins were also involved in a plan to set off a fourth explosion, at the private office of Lester Langford, a member of the city manager board.
