Accident Reported By Sheriff Department

Sheriff's police reported a two-car accident Thursday afternoon on county road 124, about six miles east of Monroe, involving $415 in damages, mainly to the car driven by Mary E. Goodwin.

Both vehicles were westbound 18, of Willshire, O. on the highway when the car driven by Earl Johnson, 25, of route 1, Monroe, attempted a left turn from the highway. The police report stated that he did not signal early enough and that he crossed the center line. The Goodwin car attempted to pass the slowing Johnson car and struck it as it turned. Damages to the Goodwin car were $400.

Johnson was arrested for failing to have an operator's license. The car is owned by Bob Isch.

Elizabeth Captive Johnson, the third white child born in what is now Vermont, got her middle name from the fact that her mother, Mrs. James Johnson, gave birth to her the night she was captured by Indians on Aug. 31, 1754.

Born September 17, 1862 in Mercer county, O., she moved near Bunker Hill in Adams county with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Fisher, while a small girl.

Of the 12 children of the Fisher family, four are still living, including Mrs. Callahan, 85-year-old twin sisters, Mrs. Ida Walker of near Canton, O., and Mrs. Emma Murray of Vevort, O., and a brother, Marcus Fisher, of Canton, O. There was another set of twins in the family who are deceased, a boy and a girl.

Geneva has been the home of Mrs. Callahan since her marriage in 1882 to E. S. Callahan, a carpenter and hardware and implement dealer. He died 2-years ago.

NOTES FROM AFTER THIRTY

By JACK HELLER

GESUNDHEIT

Art Hall, friendly clerk in Price's clothing store, learned the hard way about the dangers of a sneeze. Art threw a nerve in his hip out of kelter with a lusty blast last winter. The result was that he had to spend a couple of months in bed. While he was laid up, he caught up on his correspondence, namely with a cousin who is a nurse. Where she worked they had three patients, one with two dislocated places, one with three dislocated discs, and one with some torn chest muscles over the heart — all brought on by sneezes.

OLD HAT

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Calland's youngest grandson announced to his parents recently that he didn't think he would go back to school any more. He told his folks that after you go so long it gets to be old stuff. The young gentleman had just completed his fourth year in the first grade.

THE WEAKER SEX?

Tom Allwein, the manager of the Decatur Central Soya plant, is quite a diplomat. When handing out the prizes at the McMillen home owners banquet Tuesday evening, he shook hands with all the men who came up to receive the prizes. The prizes, cash awards, were handed to the little woman, though. This is either a tribute to Tom's diplomacy or to Mrs. Allwein. Maybe he knows where the money's supposed to go.

ODE WRITTEN TO AN INNERSPRING MATTRESS

O glorious sack, into whose tender arms we finally creep, Where, in the spell of Morpheus, we are wafted off in sleep. A salute to you who, after our day of toil beyond compare, Absorb our trials and troubles and send us forth without a care.

WHAT A MESS

We are in a process at home that about everyone goes through, and about everyone detests—moving. Where does all that junk come from? Little odds and ends that you've forgotten you ever picked up, or can't remember ever buying. Despite the fact that most of it is junk, and doesn't have a use, the hardest part of moving is trying to decide what to bother with, and what to throw away. What one member of the family thinks we can do without, another feels should be kept—"we might need one of those some day." One item is considered necessary by every one—the television set.

MURDERER'S ROW

Baseball clubs have been known for their powerful lineups, and there was a lineup at the Community Center Thursday afternoon that brought to mind the old Yankee. This wasn't a lineup of batters, but a lineup of men who have served Decatur for many years. Bill Klepper, Guy Brown, Jack Neering, Carl Pumphrey, "Peek" Essex, Ted Gallicker and Fritz Ashbacher. These men all have one thing in common — they are successful men. Like Mister Mac, the man they were honoring, their success was not their single goal. Undoubtedly, these men wanted to achieve a comfortable life, but their success was the by-product of a life of fun and service. They didn't go into things figuring what they could get out of it, but what they could put into it. That they got satisfaction and success out of it was merely a by-product of the way they live. Judging from the fortune they've had from that way of life, it must be a pretty good rule.

Sister-In-Law Of Decatur Lady Dies

Mrs. Louise Maloney, 90, former Fort Wayne resident, died Friday at Richmond. Her husband, John, preceded her in death. She is survived by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Dora Laurent, of Decatur, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at Mungovan & Sons mortuary in Fort Wayne, and at 10 a.m. at St. Patrick's Catholic church. Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery at Fort Wayne. Friends may call at the mortuary

Heavy Storm Hits California Friday

United Press International The northern two thirds of the nation, frost-bitten in the season's first cold snap, began to warm up slowly today.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported only a few readings in the 30s during the night, compared to 20 - degree temperatures that struck the northern tier of states during the past week.

The general warming was expected to continue during the day from Kansas to North Dakota and eastward through Virginia and Maine.

A windwhipped storm front that lashed California Friday appeared to be weakening, the U.S. Weather Bureau said.

The heavy rains and 80 m.p.h. winds damaged crops, uprooted trees, snapped power lines, capsize or sank 15 small ships and killed two unidentified Navy flier who were forced off course in their jet plane and crashed en route from Whidby Island, Wash., to Alameda Naval Air Station, Calif.

The San Francisco area received its heaviest drenching since 1904 and Marin County recorded a 5.14-inch downpour.

The unseasonable storm closed both highways in the Sierras with snow, mud and slides.

More showers drenched the far West Friday night, with Salinas, Calif., receiving the heaviest rainfall, 1.87 inches in six hours.

Other showers were reported from North Dakota into western Wisconsin and southward through Iowa into northern Kansas. The midwestern shower belt was expected to move eastward today into the northern Great Lakes.

Rain also was predicted for the Pacific coastal states, Nevada, Idaho, Colorado and western Montana.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said temperatures would be in the 40s and 50s in the northern states today, with readings in the 60s and 70s common throughout the East through Sunday.

Plans were made for the 1960 officers to attend the training school at the LaFontaine Hotel in Huntington Sept. 19-20. A program planning session will be conducted at the school, with all officers being asked to express opinions on what should be done in the activities area. A treasure hunt concluded the meeting, and refreshments followed.

FORT WAYNE

Continued from page one said, "Don't shoot." After frisking him and handcuffing the suspect, Copes put the prisoner in the patrol car. Minutes later, help arrived.

Clawson had been charged with killing Virginia L. Layne, 25, in Fort Wayne, then stealing a car at gunpoint and rolling the vehicle in Roanoke. He was slightly injured as the car was really smashed. He also lost his gun in this mishap. A bread truck driver happened along the scene and offered assistance and Clawson took the break truck and sped off east on the Lafayette Central road.

Good Neighbor Policy

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Local firefighters were on the job at a general alarm blaze in nearby Lackawanna, but Raymond J. Schafer, 40, decided that Buffalo firemen should also get in the act. His appeal for a neighbor's help got Schafer arrested on a charge of sounding a false alarm. But the judge dismissed the case on grounds that Schafer didn't mean to commit a criminal act.

Chinese Reds Fear Results Of K's Visit

By EARNEST HOBERECHT UPI Vice President

TOKYO (UPI) — Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung is worried about the visit of Soviet Premier Khrushchev to the United States, according to intelligence sources which have proved accurate in the past.

These sources, who admit their information is almost two weeks old, said the Chinese Communist leader has told persons close to him that he is afraid Khrushchev will become infatuated with the idea of a "two-man summit" and bargain away many things of value to Russia's allies in order to promote Russia's personal prestige on the world stage.

The sources speculated that Khrushchev decided to visit China following his American trip, because he wants to be able to assure Mao that Russia and the Soviet bloc were strengthened, not weakened, by his Washington talks.

Reds Monitor Wires

When the Russian premier visits Red China, he will find that the Chinese Communists are well informed about his U.S. visit. He may wonder why, since the Peiping government does not have diplomatic relations with Washington and has no representatives and no press correspondents in the U.S.

The answer is simple: Peiping government agencies monitor — without authorization — the complete United Press International world news report that is transmitted all over the globe by radio-teletype. By listening to UPI world and regional transmitters, the Chinese Communists get well over 125,000 words of impartial, objective world news each day. While Khrushchev is in the United States, the Chinese will get thousands of words daily on his actions and statements.

Students of Asian affairs, including one who knows Mao, say the Chinese leader and his aides will study all press dispatches on the Soviet premier's U.S. trip. The implication is that Mao will be very well informed and in a position to ask plenty of questions when Premier Khrushchev arrives in Peiping.

Mao Still Debtor

While Mao will be interested in hearing about what happened in America, he will not be sharp or demanding in his talks with the Soviet premier. It was not too long ago that he was the obedient servant of Moscow and was receiving considerable aid and support which enabled him to take over China.

Today Mao may consider himself as an equal in the Communist camp. He may even consider himself superior so far as "theory" is concerned. However, he will not soon forget how much he owes to the Russians.

The fear—whatever degree it may be—that has arisen in Peiping over the Khrushchev visit may well be much like that which developed in the ranks of America's Allies. Some of those nations, too, were jittery, a bit worried that the United States might make a deal with Russia which would overlook the desires of the other Western partners.

Muncie Man Drowns Early This Morning

SELLERSBURG, Ind. (UPI) — Robert Turner, 33, Muncie, drowned in Maple Crest Lake near Memphis early today. Witnesses told police Turner, who had been drinking, took his clothes off in a cabin and decided to wash up after he fell into a mud puddle. Despite warning calls, he walked about 20 feet into the lake and went under. His body was recovered a few hours later.

Emergency Landing Made By Airliner

SHANNON, Ireland (UPI)—An Air France Super-Constellation en route from New York to Paris with 21 persons made an emergency landing here today with its fuselage ripped open by a runaway propeller and only two of its four engines operating.

Passengers said the plane plummeted to wave-top level within seconds after the propeller flew off and buried itself in the fuselage. No one was injured, however.

The huge airliner flew the last 400 miles over the Atlantic to a safe landing here with only its two portside engines operating. Airport officials called it a "rare feat."

The plane was carrying 12 passengers and nine crew members. Pilot Andre Compere said his outer starboard engine developed trouble and "we had just got it feathered when... whoosh... No. 3 engine propeller just whipped away."

The propeller buried itself in the fuselage on the starboard or right side just above the wing. Two little girls had been sitting at the point of impact only minutes before. They asked the stewardess if they could change seats and had moved to the rear.

Death Car Driver Is Given Prison Term

RICHMOND, Ind. (UPI)—A circuit judge late Friday sentenced an Oxford, Ohio, man to a 1-5 year Indiana Reformatory term for his part in a highway accident which claimed three lives about five months ago.

Joe O. Smith, 27, pleaded guilty to reckless homicide charges in connection with an accident on Ind. 227 south of here last April 25. Three men were killed and Smith was badly injured.

Graduate Student Is Killed By Train

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI)—Haskins A. Hatcher, 23, Indianapolis, an Indiana University graduate student, was killed late Friday night while apparently trying to hop a Monon Railroad freight train.

Hatcher, a June graduate of Earlham College who enrolled in the I.U. School of Music recently, was found dead on the tracks at the railroad station by a switchman shortly after the accident.
