Parents Who Allow Their Children to Drive: It may be of interest to note that the father of an unlicensed driver involved in a multiple fatality traffic collision near Markle Sept. 17 has been arrested for permitting his son to drive.

Milo Reff, of Uniondale, was the name of the man arrested in Wells county—he permitted his 15-year-old son, Gary, to drive without a license. Gary is still in critical condition as is a 71-year-old survivor of the accident that took the lives of Dr. Curtis E. Haflich, 70; his wife, Zoa, 71; his sister, Mrs. Cressie Caley, 68, and Teddy Gene Cox, 16, a passenger in the Reff vehicle.

In Mercer county, O., an inspection of 74 school buses in the county found 54 of them unacceptable. Five were unserviceable, and 47 needed repairs, while 22 passed muster. All buses tested here recently were acceptable.

At Portland one-third of the petitions for a bond issue to build a new swimming pool, the location of which raised havoc in that city all summer, and was finally decided by ballot, have been received. Contracts should be let by December.

At Bluffton the city council has asked the school board to limit high school driving to classes to those who can show good reason for doing so. Several students have been engaged in accidents during the noon hour over there.

Judge Burl V. Whiteman of Jay circuit court is expected to set a date within a few days for the county convention for school reorganization required by a 1959 state statute. The judge says he has until Oct. 18 to name the nine man committee for that county to reorganize the schools. Here in Adams county a number of local meetings have already been held, and the county convention for Adams county has been set for Oct. 14. Judge Parrish is purposely waiting as late as possible so that the local committee can have the state recommendations in hand when they organize. The committee must report one year from organization, but of course they could not work without the state minimum recommendations.

The license of Ben and Bill's Tavern in Vera Cruz was denied recently in Wells county when some 400 residents petitioned against it. The owner, Bernard H. Eiting said he would appeal. A total of 15 residents appeared in person. They alleged that the tavern was insanitary, sold alcoholic beverages after hours and on Sunday, and had a general unhealthy effect on the morals of the community. The license was first granted to the tavern, the only one in Vera Cruz, on Sept. 11, 1951, and has been renewed annually since then.

Claims Beating By South Bend Police

VALPARAISO, Ind. (UPI) — A Mishawaka man testified in a Porter Circuit Court hearing Monday that he was beaten badly twice when arrested by South Bend police.

Nick Carlio gave the testimony in support of a move by attorneys for Robert Lee Johnson, 37, involved in a long legal wrangle over the slaying of a South Bend taxicab driver 10 years ago.

Johnson seeks to suppress his original confession to the slaying on grounds it was obtained by police under duress. Carlio supported the move by testifying he was afraid previously to testify to his alleged treatment for fear of police reprisals.

Johnson told Judge G.L. Burns that he was threatened with mob violence and beaten with a rubber hose after he was arrested in April, 1949.

Carlio said he was beaten in 1951 and 1952.

Johnson seeks freedom after four trials on murder charges in 11 years.

Modern Etiquette
By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it proper for a left-handed person to switch his coffee cup from the right to the left side of his plate in order to drink with his left hand?

A. Only if there is plenty of room between him and his left-hand neighbor. A left-handed person should, however, train himself to eat "right-handed" as gracefully and efficiently as he can.

Q. Even if the wedding is to be a very small, informal one, would it be all right for the bride to wear a white bridal veil?

A. A white bridal veil is always in order, provided, of course, that it is not the bride's second marriage.

Blow For Aged Is Struck By Court

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The Indiana Appellate Court struck a blow for the aged today in a case involving former Ligonier Police Chief Elmer Bole.

Bole served as police chief Jan. 1, 1952 to Jan. 1, 1956, at which time he was demoted to patrolman by incoming Mayor Roy J. Jorg. Weeks later the Board of Public Works and Safety, with Jorg as president, adopted a resolution setting the maximum age for the police force at 70.

Bole, then 71, was ordered dismissed. In a futile hearing before the board, Bole showed he was in good health, had worked full time without a vacation, had never been sick and had put in a great amount of overtime.

When the board insisted on his dismissal Bole appealed to Noble Circuit Court which upheld the board. Bole then appealed to the Appellate Court.

In its unanimous opinion, reversing the lower court's decision, the Appellate Court pointed out that there is presently a U.S. senator over 90 years of age.

"Many lawyers and jurists die with their boots on in their 80s," the court said. "Professional men and women are known to be at their best upon reaching the age of 70."

The court said common law never said that a person attaining 70 "suddenly lost a status in being a man, and as a matter of law became a disabled shell of his former self so that he was deemed incapable of performing the functions he had been performing 69 years and 364 days prior to that."

The court further said there was "nothing in the record to show that the ravages of time had made this appellant incapable of performing his duties."

The court said the action of the board and the lower court was "wholly arbitrary, capricious and contrary to law."

Bus Workers Strike
Results In Chaos

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—A walk-out of Greyhound bus employees caused chaos today in intra-state transportation.

No buses of the Indiana Greyhound Lines were moving except to Evansville and Cincinnati. Interstate buses were rerouted around Indianapolis because of the strike, which began with baggage workers. Ticket agents and then drivers later joined the walk-out. About 300 employees were idled.

Charles Myers, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America, No. 1211, declared that the union is not "on strike." He declined to discuss the tie-up further, but said "we're all sick."

C.K. Dorsey, regional manager for Greyhound, assigned sales and supervisory personnel to the job of untangling a mountain of packages and luggage.

Silver Polish

You can make your own silver polish if you will procure some loose prepared chalk from your druggist and make a paste out of it by mixing with ammonia in a small jar. Rub this on the silver with a rough cloth, rinse the silver in piping hot water, dry it briskly, and the job is done.

Mercurochrome Stains

Mercurochrome stains on clothing can be removed by sponging the spots with a piece of cheesecloth dipped into some rubbing alcohol which has been diluted with a few drops of hydrochloric acid.

Light Scorches

Light scorches on linen can be removed by wetting the stained area with cold water and exposing it to the sun until the stain disappears.
