Seeing Is Perceiving

NEW YORK (UPI)—Trying to anticipate conditions which may confront astronauts, nutrition scientists at the Air Force Aero Medical Laboratory put volunteers in a blacked-out room and fed them. Such articles must be endorsed EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS on the address side of the parcel; otherwise they will be subject to the parcel post zone rates of postage, which are considerably higher. For instance, a five-pound parcel of merchandise addressed to a post office 300 to 600 miles distant would require 52 cents postage, while the same weight of books would require just 29 cents.

Bulb-Snatcher

GENEVA, N.Y. (UPI)—John Ruggieri found a new breed of bulb-snatcher.

When Ruggieri stepped into his automobile, parked in front of his home, he wondered why nothing happened when he switched on the headlights. Someone, he found out, had stolen the bulbs and then screwed the headlight covers back on.

Ike's Return Visit

May Delay To June

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Neatly packaged out for the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting came some eggs—Republican eggs and all in one basket.

There is a proverb about that which begins with two emphatic words: "Don't put . . ."

It is a good question today whether the springtime meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev in Moscow will be a greater boon to their respective grandchildren than to the Democratic Party.

Springtime comes late in Moscow by American standards just as autumn comes early. It was snowing in Moscow Tuesday when all America, save, maybe, Fraser, Colo., still awaited Indian Summer.

So, if grandpa is going to take the Eisenhower tykes to Moscow in time of the spring thaw and blooming flowers it could be as late as June when the two chiefs of state next get together. It was Khrushchev's idea that the grandchildren should be in the Eisenhower party, and that they should see Moscow ablaze and abloom.

A Campaign Issue

Very pretty! But June, 1960, is a politically critical month in the United States. Both national nominating conventions come up in July. The political word in recent weeks has been that the Democrats are lacking a crackling issue on which to base their 1960 presidential campaign.

An Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting just prior to the nominating conventions could give the Democrats an overriding issue. It seems reasonable to believe that such a meeting surely will provide an effective Democratic campaign issue unless there is generated in Moscow some concrete, realistic, reassuring progress toward peace, reduced national defense costs and lesser taxation. That issue could be decisive.

During the month before the conventions, Americans will be reading and hearing of little else than the meeting of their President with the Soviet chief. That will not offend the citizens because they surely must be more interested in peace than in presidents and in parties.

Build Up Hopes

They will have had from right now until the Moscow meeting to build up their hopes for a better world. The political party which can be tagged in the presidential campaign on charges of disappointing those hopes is likely to be defeated on election day.

The words uttered here and in Moscow since the end of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks at Camp David have been hopeful, confident, optimistic. The citizens are entitled to believe a begin-

"Every Kroger Manager Gives You His Personal Word Guarantee"

"Everything you get at Kroger is guaranteed in writing," L. R. Musselman, Fort Wayne Division Vice-President announces. "Look for this guarantee on your cash register slip."

"We believe this written guarantee to be pretty unusual in the grocery business," says Mr. Musselman, "but it shows the faith each and every Kroger manager has in the products he offers for sale in his store. This written guarantee keeps all of us on our toes, but that's the way we like it. We consider it our privilege and responsibility to serve you the finest at all times. If, however, at any time you do get something at Kroger that does not entirely satisfy you, please let us know so we can correct the situation to your satisfaction. However, don't wait until you have a complaint to get acquainted with your store manager. You might not ever get to know each other. Next time you're in, say hello."
