Miss Magley Becomes Bride Of Roger Foor

Bouquets of mums adorned the altar of the First Presbyterian church where Miss Twannette Lou Magley became the bride of Glen Roger Foor in a ceremony performed Saturday at two-thirty o'clock. The Rev. Harold Bond received the vows and Mrs. Carrie Hubbard, organist played "Ave Maria," "Because," and "I Love You Truly."

Miss Magley is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Magley, 1029 North Second St. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Foor, rural route 6, are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a ballerina length gown of white taffeta and chantilly lace, fashioned with a scalloped portrait neckline, cap sleeves, and a princess style skirt of unpressed pleats. A bow mark illusion was caught to a pointed cloche of jeweled lace over taffeta and she carried a white prayer book topped with yellow roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Roger Eley, was attired in a street length dress of brown chiffon over taffeta, featuring a cummerbund and a bouffant skirt. A brown feather hat and a colonial bouquet of yellow and white mums completed her ensemble.

The mother of the bride wore a blue sheath dress, to which was pinned a corsage of white mums. Mrs. Foor was attired in a two piece beige sheath and wore a corsage of yellow mums.

Jerry Williamson served as best man and guests were seated by C. Herber Magley, brother of the bride, and Allen Bowen.

A reception for approximately 100 guests was held in the church immediately following the ceremony. Servers at the reception were the Misses Sara Brunnegraff, Jeanine Schultz, and Kate Loshe. Miss Marjorie Kohne registered the guests and gifts.

For traveling, the bride wore a green linen suit and matching hat with alligator accessories. The new Mrs. Foor was graduated from Decatur high school and is employed in the offices of the Central Soya company. Her husband, a graduate of Pleasant Mills high school, is in the U.S. Air Force and is stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, Lackland, Texas. Mrs. Foor will reside with her parents until her husband completes his basic training.

Traffic Death Toll Low Over Weekend

United Press International
One of Indiana's safest traffic weeks in years ended Sunday with only five fatal accidents recorded in seven days, including four during the weekend.

However, two additional deaths occurred during the week from injuries sustained in accidents earlier this month, raising the 1960 death toll by seven to at least 55.

Miss Maureen Gilbert, 19, South Bend, died Sunday as the result of a head-on collision in Fort Wayne Saturday night. City Police said the accident occurred when a car containing Miss Gilbert and driven by Richard Walters, 19, Fort Wayne, collided with another driven by Stephen Ort, 21, Fort Wayne.

Charles E. Rork, 52, R.R. 1, Versailles, was killed Saturday when his auto went out of control on Ind. 350 east of Osgood, struck an embankment and overturned.

An accident early Saturday killed Edward C. Baker, 18, Aurora. Baker's auto missed a curve on Ind. 101 south of Milan and smashed into a tree.

Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, 42, of the Shelby County town of London, was killed Friday night when a car in which she was riding skidded on U.S. 421 southeast of Indianapolis and overturned.

United Press International
Another cold week is in store for Indiana, forecasters said today.

The five-day outlook called for temperatures to average about 10 degrees below normal highs of 28 to 45 and normal lows of 12 to 30. A brief respite from the sub-freezing cold was due today, but it will turn colder tonight and stay that way through Saturday.

Snow flurries today, tonight and Tuesday and again on Friday or Saturday, will continue the recent trend. Snow was six inches deep at South Bend this morning, mostly from last week's daily accumulations.

Temperatures this morning ranged from 8 at Lafayette and South Bend to 19 at Fort Wayne, with Indianapolis at 13 and Evansville at 17 in between the extremes.

Sunday highs ranged from 20 at South Bend to 28 at Indianapolis, and Evansville went above the freezing mark when it recorded 33.

Forecasts called for highs today ranging from the upper 20s north to the upper 30s south, lows tonight from 10 to 25, and highs Tuesday from 15 to the mid 20s.

Spring And Summer Fashions In Paris

By PAT HERMAN

United Press International
PARIS (UPI)—Jacques Griffe, who designs his high-priced gowns on 22-inch dolls, today showed a natural, easy-fitting silhouette for the grown-up doll.

Griffe launched the first full day of spring and summer fashion shows by leaving skirt lengths at the top of the mid-calf and showing both Princess and long torso models.

Lucy Manguin led off the week-long presentation Sunday night by presenting a Princess line with a skirt length unchanged from last season.

The first number on the runway was a tightly-belted full-skirted black princess-style dress with wide open V-neck collar.

This wide - open neckline appeared again and again throughout the collection.

The evening-dress version of it was a pleasantly provocative decollete.

Griff's suits had either pleated skirts or straight ones—many of these wrapped around. Some of the jackets were hip-length with easy-fitting belts, others were boxy-type jackets.

Color and fabric contrasts were important. An apricot - colored wool suit had a brown and black silk candy-striped blouse.

Nearly all suits had contrasting blouses and were worn with airy straw clothes.

Griffe used lots of checks, and in the color department beige, the full range of pinks, navy and black. White invariably accented black and navy.

Some coats had sleeves so deep that they dipped down to the waist in back creating tremendous back fullness, a V-effect in front and tapering to a narrow skirt.

Collarless coats were collared by dresses beneath them, or braided at the shoulder line. A standout coat was a V-necked reversible, black on one side, salt and pepper tweed on the other.
A handsome series of collarless sleeveless dresses had wide open sleeve openings, were cinched tightly at the waist and flared out below.
The effect was a diamond shape.

Democrats Battle In Tenth District

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (UPI)—Six Democrats came forward during a 10th District congressional announcement dinner Saturday night and said they would run against Rep. Randall Harmon in the May primary.

District chairman Russell Davis said there was a good possibility other Democrats may enter the race later.

Harmon also announced his intention to seek renomination. He confined himself to a 45-second speech in which he said "It has always been my burning ambition to serve my party and my country."

Announcing as candidates were: Marion Clawson, Eaton Twp. trustee; Don McCullough, former Wayne County Democratic chairman and Hagerstown real estate agent; Clyde Keeler, Spiceland barber; John Evans, Muncie glassworkers' union official, and Jennett Chance, Centerville farmer.

Although Young Democrat leaders, who sponsored the dinner, denied the meeting was intended as a squeeze play against Harmon, it was known district chiefs want to dump Harmon.

Also present at the dinner were State Auditor Albert Steinwedel and State Sen. Matthew Welsh, candidates for their party's gubernatorial nomination.
Chief speaker for the evening was Oklahoma Lt. Gov. George Nigh.
