The Trouble Is

The biggest problem of modern man is leisure time. His mind allows him to spend that time much as he pleases—for good or for bad.

One of the many ways in which man differs from an animal is that he is capable of learning throughout his entire life—the ability to learn does not stop at any particular point in his development.

This means that he can learn to live with leisure time. Or he can be completely overcome by it.

A popular editorial, entitled "Open Letter to a Teen-Ager" has made the rounds through many newspapers. While it is tactfully addressed to teen-agers, it applies just as well to many adults.

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teen-ager: What can we do? Where can we go?"

"The answer is simple—Go Home!"

"Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork, rake the leaves. Mow the lawn, shovel the walk. Wash the car, learn to cook, scrub the floors. Repair the sink, build a boat, get a job.

"Help the minister, priest, or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And then when you are through—and not too tired—read a book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city or village does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living.

"You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents, so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick or lonely again.

"In plain simple words—Grow Up. Quit being a cry-baby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone. Start acting like a man or a lady.

"You're supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibility your parents have carried for years. They have nursed, protected, helped, appealed, begged, excused, tolerated and denied themselves needed comforts so that you have every benefit.

"This they have done gladly, for YOU are their dearest treasure. But now, you have no right to expect them to bow to every whim and fancy just because selfish ego instead of common sense dominates your personality, thinking and requests.

"In Heaven's name, Grow Up and Go Home!"

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. The members of my bridge club always put up a 50-cent fee for the prize when we play. When someone has been invited to substitute for an absent member, is it proper for the hostess to ask the guest for 50 cents?

A. In this case, the hostess can either pay the substitute's fee herself, or she can inform her when she invites her that she will be expected to ante 50 cents.

Q. Is it proper to use water at the dinner table to help "wash down" mouthfuls of food?

A. Not at all! The only time this is excusable is when a person has inadvertently taken a bite of food into his mouth that's "too hot to handle."

Q. Would it be all right for a girl to send a young man a birthday card, even though he has never sent her a card or given her a gift?

A. There is never anything wrong with a gesture of thoughtfulness and friendship such as this.

A London newspaper last week

News of the Soustelle ouster came after French security authorities took two right wing extremists into custody in what appeared to be the beginning of a nationwide roundup in line with de Gaulle's pledge to crush opposition to his Algerian policy.

In early-morning moves in Algiers, police arrested an extremist political leader and placed a rightwing editor under house arrest. An army colonel was dismissed from his post and there were reports that he had also been placed under confinement.

Reports circulated that 60 new warrants have been issued by officials investigating alleged arms smuggling from metropolitan France to the Algerian insurgents.

A number of arrests already have been made.

In Paris, rightwing lawyer Jean-Louis Tixier - Vignancourt was summoned by authorities to explain allegedly inflammatory statements made during the height of the eight-day revolt against de Gaulle.

A London newspaper last week

labeled Tixier - Vignancourt the "brains" of the rightwing movement in France. He was quoted by the Evening Standard as saying: "In Algiers, there is a complete government ready to take control in France."

The newspaper claimed that the lawyer, a former member of the National Assembly, told its Paris correspondent that a full-scale invasion force was poised in Algeria to strike against France and that paratroops could be dropped on Paris within hours.

Tixier-Vignancourt was reported prepared to defend insurgent chief Pierre Lagallarde, who was flown here after the collapse of the Algiers die-hard resistance Monday, and clapped in La Sante Prison on charges of "attacks against the security of the state."

"We're not in the government any longer," the sources told UPI.

The sources said Soustelle was fired by de Gaulle at the end of an abrupt three-minute interview.

It was expected the official announcement of his ouster from the government would be delayed until after Friday's cabinet meeting.

Soustelle, a minister-delegate who held responsibility for the Sahara and atomic development, was a key figure in the 1958 revolt which toppled the Fourth Republic and brought de Gaulle back to power.

Soustelle Is Ordered Fired By de Gaulle

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today fired Deputy Premier Jacques Soustelle, former rightist strongman in Algeria, informed sources reported.

Sources close to Soustelle reported his ouster, but there was no official confirmation from de Gaulle's office.

Scorched Linen and Cotton
To remedy scorched spots on linen, cut a raw onion in half and rub the flat side of this on the discolored area, then soak the linen in cold water for several hours. On cotton, wet the spot with water and cover it with a thick paste of laundry starch. After this has dried, sponge it off with peroxide, iron the article, and put it in the sun for a few hours.

Baking Hint
One cup of sifted flour to 1/2-cup of shortening is the standard proportion of flour to shortening in pie crust. However, as little as 1/4-cup of shortening may be used, especially when soft wheat or cake flour is used.
