

Columbia City Man Fined Here Today

A Columbia City motorist paid $1 and costs this morning in city court, pleading guilty to a city police charge of public intoxication.

Harold R. Landes, Sr., of route 4, Columbia City, was arrested at 12:15 a. m. today in the yard of the trailer court at 521 S. 13th street, which is owned by Dr. Harold DeVor. Damage to the yard amounted to $75 with none noted to the automobile.

Landes told police that he thought the yard was a driveway, and that he wanted to sleep. Dr. DeVor signed a complaint for driving while under the influence of alcohol, but the charge was not filed by the prosecutor because of lack of evidence. No one had seen Landes drive up on the lawn.

Landes spent the night in the Adams county jail until the court session this morning before Judge Richard Sullivan.

U.S. Keeping Wary Eye On Cuba Meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American officials disclosed today they are keeping a wary eye on preparations for a Communist-blessed propaganda blowout in Cuba which they expect to erupt in a torrent of anti-U.S. abuse.

The object of their attention is the proposed July meeting in Havana of a "Latin American Youth Congress." The "congress" was spawned by the Communist World Federation of Democratic Youth. Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime is reported to have embraced it with promises of financial support.

Catholic Group Opposed
Intelligence sources said the Communist-dominated preparatory committee for the meeting is setting up a program which includes the following: Position toward dictators and "formal democracy"; limitations on national sovereignty; militarism; disarmament and economic development.

These subjects all appear to U.S. officials to be the usual innocuous Communist cover designations for blasts against "Yankee imperialism" and charges that the West wants war as opposed to Russia's professed desire for "peaceful coexistence."

U.S. officials are certain that if this ideological fish-fry takes place as planned, it will provide a spate of hate propaganda against Uncle Sam, right at his very doorstep.

The Cuban Catholic Students' Movement has plans to sabotage the Red-tinged rally, if possible, according to U.S. intelligence sources. The Catholic group will offer an anti-totalitarian resolution, which the Communists cannot accept, and then do a spectacular walk-out—if Castro forces ever let the Catholics into the conference in the first place.

Some Will Boycott
Numerous representatives of non-Communist Latin American youth organizations, who were lured to a preparatory meeting in Santiago, Chile, last November, have since announced they will boycott the conference because it will be completely Communist-controlled.

U.S. sources said Castro's brother, Raul, has promised conference organizers that the Cuban government will put up money for the meeting if the congress is "properly oriented."

The congress is being advertised as a meeting of Latin American youth. But U.S. officials expect some of the leading figures from the Red bloc in Europe and a few Chinese Communists to be on hand to show their Western Hemisphere buddies just how such an affair should be handled.

Shuman Asks Fight For Farm Program

CHICAGO (UPI) — Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, today took his organization's fight for a "corrected" farm program to city dwellers.

"I urge all Americans who live in cities, as well as on farms, to contact their congressmen and urge adoption of workable farm legislation," Shuman said in an interview.

Present national agricultural policies, Shuman said, are so "disruptive" that they endanger the nation's economy. The wheat program is particularly in need of revision.

Shuman, an Illinois farmer from Moultrie County, was interviewed in his skyscraper office from which he directs the AFBF, the nation's largest farm organization, composed of 1,602,117 member families.

Shuman said President Eisenhower's special farm message delivered to Congress Tuesday was pretty much in line with aims of the AFBF and thought that "members of both parties can live under the President's guidelines."

"The President's recommendations for wheat," Shuman said, "agrees with ours." Eisenhower said the wheat situation is "particularly acute." Under it farmers are restricted to an acreage allotment of 55 million acres with the government buying up surpluses at 75 per cent of the "fair" price. This is costing $1,000 a minute.

The AFBF wants less government control and has called for elimination of acreage allotments and marketing quotas and a price support for wheat based on the support level for corn, which would result in a price of about $1.30 per bushel, about 50 cents less than now.

Grim Battle Raging To Save Big Tanker

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A grim battle raged within sight of San Francisco early today with rescue vessels fighting howling seas for a helpless prize — the world's largest wine tanker.

The 21,800-ton Angelo Petri was tossed by 25-foot waves as three tugs and a Coast Guard cutter attempted to put lines aboard. The tanker carried a cargo of 2,500,000 gallons of wine, 1,500,000 gallons of cottonseed oil, and 1,500 tons of missile fuel.

Twenty six men of the Petri's 40-man crew remained aboard in an attempt to save her, although only one anchor kept the tanker from being pounded to pieces in the surf.

Hit By Wave
The tanker left San Francisco Tuesday en route for the East Coast. As it pushed through heavy seas outside the Golden Gate, a high wave suddenly smashed over the bow, flooding the engine room and disabling the rudder. The vessel, drifting without power, flashed an "S-O-S" and dropped two anchors with the hope that at least one would catch and hold.

The Petri drifted helplessly for two miles toward destruction before the anchors caught. Coast Guard helicopters then picked up 14 of the crewmen and flew them to Ocean Beach, just 3 1/2 miles to the east.

Weather Seen Easing
Tugs were able to get two lines aboard the tanker Tuesday night, but both were snapped by the force of the sea.

The Petri raised enough power to pull one of its anchors up part way, but the captain, Edward A. Lehm Jr., of San Mateo, Calif., kept the other anchor fast because he had feared that the lines might not hold.

Time was an important factor in the battle. Although the heavy seas continued, a break was expected in the violent storm that ripped the coastal areas during the past three days.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — The Swedish government invited President Eisenhower today to visit Sweden in connection with his trip to the Soviet Union this June. Finland extended a similar invitation a few days ago.
