Major Leagues In Exhibition Season Openers

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

It's play ball today in the Grapefruit League. Preliminaries are over and now comes the serious phase of spring training. The battle for jobs. Virtually every manager has passed his crop of youngsters so only the most established of the veterans can feel secure.

The managers' interest in young talent will be reflected in the lineups at today's opening exhibition games. All 16 clubs are in action as follows:

Chicago Cubs vs. Boston Red Sox at Mesa, Ariz.
Cincinnati Reds vs. Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, Fla.
Los Angeles Dodgers vs. Kansas City Athletics at Vero Beach, Fla.

Milwaukee Braves vs. Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater, Fla.
Pittsburgh Pirates vs. Baltimore Orioles at Miami, Fla.
St. Louis Cardinals vs. New York Yankees at St. Petersburg, Fla.

San Francisco Giants vs. Cleveland Indians at Tucson, Ariz.
Washington Senators vs. Detroit Tigers at Lakeland, Fla.

No manager wants to develop a "losing complex" in the Grapefruit League but winning exhibition games doesn't necessarily mean a team is destined for success when they start playing "for real" in April. The Pittsburgh Pirates had the best record among National League teams last spring but finished fourth while the Baltimore Orioles, best of the American League teams in the spring, wound up sixth.

Manager Walt Alston named an all-veteran starting lineup complete with Don Drysdale, Roger Craig and Johnny Podres scheduled to pitch for the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers' opener against the Athletics but Manager Al Lopez of the American League champion Chicago White Sox said he intends to rest his veteran pitchers for a while. Lopez picked young hopefuls Barry Latman, Frank Baumann and Kent McBride to work in today's opener with the Reds.

The Orioles will have only three veterans in their lineup and will have 18-year-old rookie Dean Chance on the mound against the Pirates. The Tigers, on the other hand, are starting 17-game winning Jim Bunning against the Senators. Bunning apparently isn't in the habit of taking spring training games too seriously because his lifetime record in them is 0-11.

Mickey Mantle ended his holdout with the New York Yankees Friday when he signed for an estimated $65,000 and Don McMahon, stellar relief pitcher, to three when he agreed to terms. Lew Burdette, 21-game winner, is still the big Milwaukee holdout.

Griffith Is Winner By Split Decision
NEW YORK (UPI) — Emile Griffith's split verdict over welterweight contender Denny Moyer was so widely debated today that they'll be re-matched for another TV fight on May 6 or May 20.

Griffith, 22-year-old New York millinery shipping clerk, received the votes of Judges Ardie Aidala and Leo Birnbaum Friday night after an excellent 10-10 rounder at Madison Square Garden. They voted similarly 5-4-1 each.

Dimpled, sandy-haired Moyer of Portland, Ore., only 20, was favored by Referee Harry Kessler, 5-4-1.
