How Many Know?

How many local people know that the Adams county chapter of the American Red Cross is completing its annual drive for funds this week? So far $1,060, about one-half of the rural goal, has been reached.

Decatur and Berne residents have given through the community fund drives last autumn. Rural and town folk are now organized town by town, section by section in the country. Has your section drive been completed and turned in as yet?

And, rural or city resident, did you know:

That the Red Cross is chartered by the U. S. Government to

1. furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of all armies in time of war,
2. fulfill our treaty obligations under the Geneva treaties,
3. act as a median between the armed forces and the people in times of emergency, and all of this under the supervision of the U.S. government, with an annual audit, because of the importance of the work?

That if a disaster strikes in Decatur, Berne, or Adams county, affecting as many as five families in the county, the full resources of the national international chapters would be at our disposal?

That a local board, made up of local people headed by Wilbur Petrie of Decatur, administers the local Red Cross program?

That hundreds of people right here in Adams county are trained every year in first aid, home nursing, care of the sick and injured, swimming, and other useful practices, preparing the community for any emergency.

And do you realize that it is your contributions, in money, time, and effort that makes this program possible?

It is every community, in every area, in every state, in every nation, working together, that makes the Red Cross the symbol of life saving the world over.

Chartered by Congress, regulated by the government, used by the armed forces, staffed with volunteers, administered by local people in local chapters, the Red Cross remains a solid bulwark of democracy in practice.

Adams county has had an active Red Cross chapter since before the First World War, when many ladies gathered together to wrap bandages.

Today, the Red Cross administers the national blood program, keeping a bank of the precious material on hand to save lives in ways unheard of a few years ago. Each year, more than a thousand pints are donated in Adams county alone, bringing relief to many who could not afford blood otherwise.

Strong Civil Rights Policy By Democrats

DETROIT (UPI) — Midwest Democrats stood armed today with a strong civil rights policy and a "no retreat" attitude for the July national convention.

National Chairman Paul M. Butler closed the weekend Midwest Democratic Conference Sunday with an address directed more at southern party leaders than those in attendance.

Butler, whose comments were nearly lost in an anti-climactic closing of the 14-state meeting, said southern states should "send loyal delegates" or select alternates if the states were not prepared to support the party's presidential nominee.

His comments were aimed at six southern states — Arkansas, Georgia, South Carolina, Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi — which recently passed laws which would allow Democratic electors to vote Republican if they disapproved of their own party's choice.

"We are not in any way going to harass these states," he said. "We are just giving notice that we won't be lulled."

While Butler closed the three-day meeting with an endorsement of the Midwest group's policies, three contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination were seeking support for their individual causes before different groups.

Sens. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Stuart Symington of Missouri each spoke briefly at a luncheon of the nationalities division of the conference and then attended a United Auto Workers Union rally for retired workers.

Spent $40,000 Of Union Fund For Love Nest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Joey Glimco, head of the Chicago Taxi Drivers Union, spent $40,000 of union money on a love nest for himself and his secretary, the Senate Rackets Committee said today.

A report on the committee's investigation of union said Glimco diverted about $50,000 of the money earmarked to remodel the union's office quarters and used most of it to buy a $40,000 home in Oak Park for himself and his secretary, Miss Lorraine Murray.

Glimco and Miss Murray according to the report also took a $1,045 trip at union expense to Los Angeles, Calif., where they stayed as man and wife at the Bel Air Hotel.

The report labeled Glimco, president of Local 777 of the Teamsters Union, a companion of hoodlums and public enemies, "a common thug and criminal... a parasite on the labor movement and a leech on society."

But the committee said, Glimco took a back seat to John T. O'Brien, secretary-treasurer of Local 710 in Chicago and second vice president of the Teamsters international.

"For sheer brazen plunder, the story of O'Brien and his companion officers and how they siphoned off huge amounts of the union dues was unequalled in the committee's experience," the report said.

The committee said O'Brien, President Frank Brown of Local 710 and two other officers drained the local's treasury of $1,136,275 in salaries, vacation allowances, Christmas bonuses and commissions during the years 1952-58. Brown retired in 1953.

Violence Erupts In Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Celebration of a heavy protest vote against Argentine President Arturo Frondizi in congressional elections erupted into violence in downtown Buenos Aires today.

Police used tear gas against demonstrators shouting defiance of Frondizi and hailing returns that gave opposition parties more than half of the 102 seats contested in the 187-member Chamber of Deputies.

Frondizi retained control of Parliament, but at reduced strength. A bomb blast three blocks from the presidential residence in suburban Olivos shattered a power station and left a large area in darkness.

Police arrested scores of persons for disturbing the peace. No serious injuries were reported.

Latham Candidacy Rejected By Walsh

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Secretary of state John Walsh today rejected Rockville farmer John Hugh Latham's petition for a place on the Indiana Democratic presidential primary ballot.

Latham immediately took his case to Governor Handley, saying that Handley "is the top man around here."

Walsh said Latham had only 479 legitimate signatures on his petition, while 500 are required by law. He said many names on the petition lack attestation, and ditto marks were incorrectly used for addresses of some petitioners.

"I got 658 signatures," Latham told newsmen in the Statehouse corridor after Walsh informed him he could not qualify to run for president.

"In my opinion, they are good. Opinions are one thing, laws are something else," Latham said the law does not say anything about addresses being required on petitions.

"He can't put me off," Latham said. "It's malfeasance in office." Latham also took advantage of the opportunity to expand for newsmen on his campaign platform. He said he is "100 per cent segregationist."

"I don't believe in the Negro vote," Latham said. "I believe only natural born whites and Indians ought to be allowed to vote."

Democrat Aspirants Criticize Handley

PIERCETON, Ind. (UPI) — Governor Handley and the Republican Party were criticized by three Democratic candidates for governor during the weekend.

The three candidates, State Auditor Albert Steinwedel, Secretary of State John R. Walsh and State Sen. Matthew Welsh, spoke at a Kosciusko County Democratic Central Committee dinner here Saturday night.

Steinwedel said the Republican Party rule in Indiana the last seven years has taken a route of obstruction, isolation and negation.

"The people of Indiana must face the facts," Steinwedel said. "Handley and Lt. Gov. Crawford Parker during the past seven years have had no program for the people. They have made lots of promises, very few of which they have kept, and the people of Hoosierland are tired of those unfulfilled promises."

Steinwedel said his party could and would give Indiana the kind of leadership he said has been missing. "This we can and will do by using sound governmental practices," he said, "accompanied by the ever-present fact that we are representing all the people of our state, and not just a ruthless political machine, bent upon its own self-perpetuation."

Walsh said Handley had a "factual hatred and fear of the federal government" and that it has deprived mentally retarded children of federal funds needed for construction of hospital facilities.

"Governor Handley seeks federal aid for airports and highways, but turns down federal assistance for retarded children, rural libraries and old age study commissions," Walsh said, "privately."

Welsh said the Democratic Party was "hard-headed and tight-fisted enough to know the value of a tax dollar." He said his party knew the meaning of true government economy despite the fact government expenditures have gone up and may continue to go up.

"Government economy means rendering full value of every tax dollar collected by government. It means handling the public money as a trust and not as a private war chest of a political party—as the Republicans have been doing for seven long years."

Polaris Missile Fizzles On Test

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Polaris missile — the Navy's undersea 1500-mile hydrogen warhead weapon — fizzled on its first ignition test off southern California's San Clemente Island.

But Sunday's failure signaled the start of an intensive test program that some observers are optimistically predicting will put the Polaris on fleet duty by the end of the year.

It was the first underwater test of the two-stage missile with propellant in it.

The solid-fueled missile — whenever it joins the operational fleet — will team with new nuclear submarines to form an underwater team that can roam and fire from almost two-thirds of the world's area.

The Navy gave no reason why the missile failed to ignite. In the test, the 28-foot long, bullet-shaped weapon was supposed to have popped to the surface from a submarine, and then fired.

But the small amount of propellant in the Polaris did not ignite as planned. If it had, the charge was so small that the missile would have climbed only a few hundred feet before falling back into the ocean.

The Navy now is expected to fire a small charge Polaris once every two weeks.

Orders Civil Rights Bill To Senate Tuesday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary Committee, long a cold storage for civil rights bills, took a forced look at the House-passed measure today with orders to send it to the Senate by Tuesday night.

The committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), scheduled a 9:30 a.m. e.s.t. meeting to discuss the five-point bill, which includes a provision for court-appointed referees to safeguard Negro voting rights.

Although liberal members said they would seek to strengthen the bill, the committee's split lineup made prospects slim for any major action.

Eastland, an avowed foe of the bill, invited Justice Department officials and Charles J. Bloch, prominent Macon, Ga., attorney, to meet with the committee and share their views on the voting referee plan.

Regardless of what the committee does, congressional leaders hoped the House and Senate could agree on a bill within a week or so without need for a time-consuming conference to work out a compromise.

Other congressional news: Summit Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) told the Senate in a prepared speech that President Eisenhower and other Western leaders were substituting "aimless conversations and goodwill visits" for concrete summit planning.

Gore said he feared the result would be failure to reach any substantial agreement at the East-West meeting in mid-May — or "even more dangerous... the execution of an improvident agreement."

Medical: Sen. Jacob K. Javits (N.Y.) planned to introduce a substitute for the Democratic-sponsored medical care for the aged bill proposed by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R.I.). Javits said the administration must "do something" and suggested a version to establish a compulsory medical insurance plan within the framework of the Social Security system.

Primaries: Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) introduced a bill calling for a constitutional amendment to provide for selection of major party presidential nominees in national primaries. He told the Senate in a prepared speech that only a small percentage of the nation's voters are given a voice in nominating the candidates.

Defense: A House subcommittee summoned the nation's civil defense chief Leo A. Hoegh today to answer a charge that the Eisenhower administration has left America "absolutely unprotected" against nuclear fallout in case of war.

Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) leveled the charge Sunday. His government operations subcommittee opened a week-long hearing today on the need for fallout shelters.

Rain-Soaked Hat

To restore the appearance of a hat that has been soaked in the rain, first let it dry partially, and then press out the creases in the crown. Next, turn down the band and place the hat in some cool water away from any heat and let it dry thoroughly. Then reshape the crown and brush the hat gently. If the work has been done carefully, the hat will look almost as good as new.

Background Facts Over Youth Parley

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Background facts on the White House conference on children and youth: What it is The largest meeting ever held to assess the needs and problems of America's young people.

When: Began Sunday night with an address by President Eisenhower; will continue through next Friday.

Who's here: 7.00 delegates from every state and territory and 34 foreign countries. Where they're meeting: In 85 separate buildings in the Washington area (but not in the White House itself.)

What they'll do: Listen to 200 major speeches; split up each afternoon into 160 separate work groups to discuss specific youth problems.

What it costs: $1,100,000 in general overhead, contributed one-third by the federal government and two-thirds by private organizations and foundations, plus about 2 million dollars in travel costs and living expenses paid by the delegates themselves.

What will come of it: A national inventory of what America is doing — and failing to do — to "prepare today's children for tomorrow's world." Specific recommendations on unmet needs will add up to a blueprint for public and private action during the next decade. Five previous White House youth conferences since 1909 have been credited with stimulating major progress toward recognition and solution of youth problems.

Income Tax Fax

(Editor's note: As a public service to the taxpayers of Adams county, the Decatur Daily Democrat and the Indiana society of public accountants, an affiliate of the national society of public accountants, presents the following article, which is one of a series that will run weekly until the week of April 11.)

When you sign your tax return, you state: "I declare under the penalties of perjury that this return (including any accompanying schedules and statements) has been examined by me and to the best of my knowledge and belief is a true, correct and complete return."

There is no reason for you to pay more taxes than the law prescribes or to be timed in taking every deduction permitted by law.

Your tax return should contain a full and clear explanation of every item entered thereon and you should retain in your possession for at least 6 years, all pertinent papers, bills, checks, receipts, etc., in connection with your return.

Uncle Sam has many sources of information concerning your income besides your tax return. In addition, your return is audited by a trained staff who have had experience with every conceivable method of avoiding or evading taxes. The treasury has added a large number of employees to its staff and each return is due for a more thorough going over than in past years. These people are well trained and know their business, but they are not mind readers.

Be sure to fully explain every detail of your tax return on the return or on an attached statement so that Uncle Sam will understand exactly what you are doing.
