Census Takers To Track Down Floaters

Squads of picked crew leaders and census takers will fan out over this area on the night of April 20 in a special 1960 census drive to count persons who do not have a fixed address, district supervisor John W. Wynn said today.

The census takers will visit missions, all-night theaters, and city parks in this special effort to make sure that all residents of the area are counted. Persons who do not have a fixed address are included in the population of the place in which they are located by the census takers.

The district supervisor pointed out that under census law, all persons 18 years old and over are required to answer official census questions. The same law specifies that personal information collected by census takers must be kept confidential.

The person who willfully refuses to answer the official census question is subject to a maximum fine of $100 or 60 days in jail, or both.

The census takers who reveals information about individuals to anyone other than a sworn employee of the census bureau is subject to a fine of $1,000 or two years in jail, or both.

Heavy Government Medical Care Costs

EDITORS NOTE: Federal participation in the field of medical and hospital treatment is back in the news — this time because of proposals to extend new benefits to the aged. It may come as a surprise to many how heavily Uncle Sam is already committed to paying medical bills for its citizens. The following dispatch describes the federal role.

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Millions of Americans have all or part of their medical bills paid by Uncle Sam.

Hospitalization and medical treatment at federal expense is available to a wide variety of people, ranging from merchant sailors and Alaskan Eskimos to President Eisenhower and his grandchildren.

The total federal outlay for this purpose has never been calculated but available figures indicate it is in excess of 2 billion dollars a year.

Here are the principal categories of Americans who benefit from federally-financed medical care:

VETERANS

Free hospitalization and outpatient medical care is available, under certain conditions, to any of the 22,600,000 veterans who served at least 90 days in the armed forces during a period when the United States was at war.

Veterans with "service-connected" disabilities, injuries or illnesses (the phrase "service-connected" means simply that the ailment developed while the veteran was in service, and does not necessarily have any relation to combat) are automatically entitled to whatever treatment they may require by the 170 hospitals maintained by the Veterans Administration.

Other veterans may obtain free treatment at a VA hospital provided (1) a bed is available and (2) they are willing to sign a statement saying they cannot afford to pay for private care.

ARMED FORCES

The 2,500,000 members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard receive free hospitalization, medical and dental care, including drugs.

Their immediate dependents — an estimated 3,000,000 wives and minor children — also are eligible for free hospitalization, surgical treatment and medical care at military facilities or, under certain circumstances, by private institutions or physicians at federal expense.

Retired servicemen and their families also are eligible for free care at military hospitals provided space and facilities are available. It is permissible but not required that they be billed for their meals and for prescriptions, but this often is not done.

THE NEEDY

Under the social security law, the federal government provides matching funds to supplement state Welfare Agency Relief payments for four types of needy persons: the aged, the blind, the disabled and dependent children.

Relief payments may, and often do, include funds for medical care. Usually the medical care payments are made directly to the hospital or private physician by the welfare agency.

INDIANS AND ESKIMOS
Indians living on reservations and Eskimos in certain Alaskan villages are awards of the federal government, and may receive free medical care and hospitalization at facilities provided by the U. S. Public Health Service.

About 60,000 a year receive treatment, and nearly 600,000 receive out-patient care.

MISCELLANEOUS GROUPS

Under the oldest of all federal medical programs, dating back to the administration of President John Adams, all members of the U. S. Merchant Marine are entitled to free treatment at 14 hospitals maintained for that purpose by the U. S. Public Health Service. There are about 50,000 U. S. Merchant sailors at present.

Commissioned officers of the Public Health Service (there are 3,200 of them) and their families also get free care.

Government civilian employees are treated at federal expense only if they are injured on duty.

Members of Congress and Cabinet officials who enter military hospitals, such as Walter Reed Medical Center or the Bethesda Naval Medical Center, are billed at a rate of $22 a day for a private room. This charge covers all hospital services, including doctors, but does not include special nurses, for which the VIP patients are billed separately.

As commander-in-chief of the armed forces, President Eisenhower is treated free except for a daily ration charge of $1.20 for meals.

Man Is Fatally Wounded By Pistol

ANDERSON, Ind. (UPI) — Paul Cole, 29, Anderson, was fatally wounded Sunday when a pistol discharged as a friend was attempting to twist it, western style. The friend, John L. Johnson, 25, Anderson, was arrested for questioning.

20 Years Ago Today

April 18, 1940—Elizabeth Miller, 23-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller, southeast of Berne, died of complications from injuries suffered nearly a year ago when the family buggy was struck by an auto in Fort Wayne.

Amos R. Brandyberry, 78, veteran employee of the Decatur Casting Co., died suddenly of a heart attack at his home in Monroe. Jerry Mangano, young Chicago hoodlum, convicted of slaying a Chicago policeman and identified as the killer of Anthony Michaud, of Berne, was given another last-minute reprieve from execution. Mrs. Vaughn Millikan was hostess to the Historical club meeting at her home in Berne.

Only one application has been received to date for an absent voter's ballot for the primary election May 7.
