Senate Group Votes Cut In Wheat Acreage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Farm belt lawmakers prepared today to test President Eisenhower's willingness to compromise on legislation designed to cut the nation's giant wheat surplus.

The Senate Agriculture Committee Wednesday approved administration demands for quick action on the wheat problem by approving, 8-7, a three-year bill which would slash plantings 20 per cent and hike price supports about 13 cents a bushel.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said, "I think it has a chance to pass. It is better than what we have." He also predicted Eisenhower would approve the measure if it passed the Senate and House because "this is an election year."

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson said in New York the bill contained some good features. But he forecast a presidential veto unless Congress eliminated provisions to boost price supports.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday "I am against higher price supports because the only effect I can see of them is that we put more wheat in storage."

But he emphasized he "would be glad to look at... any kind of reasonable plan." He said if it were reasonable he would approve it because farmers are "in a bad fix."

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) who heads the committee, announced he opposed the new measure on grounds the price support increases failed to meet Eisenhower's definition of a "constructive compromise" on the wheat surplus problem.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), ranking GOP member of the committee, termed the version "ill advised and said he favored a veto."

Aiken said, however, he would back a plan to set wheat price supports at 75 per cent of parity for all three years; or for 80 per cent the first year and 75 per cent for the next two years.

The measure, as approved by the committee, would: —Cut the present national wheat acreage allotment from 55 million to 44 million acres.

—Hike 1961-1963 wheat price supports to 80 per cent of parity or about $1.90 per bushel, from the current 75 per cent and $1.77.

—Compensate farmers for the 11 million idled acres by giving them payments "in kind" from government surplus wheat stocks.

FPC Commissioner Says Desk Rifled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Police and a House subcommittee are investigating a report that someone broke into the office of a federal power commissioner and rifled through papers in his desk, it was reported today.

The House subcommittee on legislative oversight has held two secret sessions this week to look into the matter.

FPC member Arthur Kline told the subcommittee Monday that his office had been entered, a desk pried open and papers rifled through sometime between Friday night and Monday morning.

The subcommittee, which has had investigators at the FPC office for several weeks, questioned Kline and his secretary in a hush-hush session Tuesday night.

One of the subcommittee investigators, Julius Eanet, appeared before the subcommittee in a second 90-minute meeting held without announcement Wednesday morning.

The subcommittee was understood also to be planning to question a second of its investigators William A. Brewer.

Both Eanet and Brewer were reported to have been in Kline's office Friday. It was understood that they demanded to see Kline's appointment book but left when his secretary told them Kline was out of town and she had no key to the locked book.

Subcommittee sources said that Kline accused no one of having broken into the office but was simply reporting the matter to the subcommittee.

Judge Bell Presides At Highway Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Marion Superior Court Judge Walter M. Bell agreed Wednesday to preside over the highway scandals trial of three top Carpenters Union officials accused of bribing state highway officers.

Bell immediately set a May 16 arraignment date.

Indicted on bribery charges in connection with right-of-way deals in Lake County were union president Maurice Hutcheson; vice-president O. William Blajer and secretary-treasurer Frank Chapman.

Parkinson Funeral Held At Lafayette

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI) — House minority leader Charles Halleck and judges from several federal courts were among the more than 200 persons who attended the funeral services of Federal Judge W. Lynn Parkinson here Wednesday.

The body of the 65-year-old judge, who had been missing since last Oct. 26, was found Sunday in a Chicago filtration plant basin less than a mile from where he vanished.

Included among the mourners in Trinity Methodist church at West Lafayette were four of Parkinson's five fellow judges on the Federal Court of Appeals bench at Chicago. They were John G. Hastings, Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Win G. Knoch and F. Ryan Duggey.

The Rev. Thomas E. Lake, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, presided at the ceremonies in conjunction with the Rev. Harold Bosley of the First Methodist Church, Evanston, Ill.

Rev. Luke prayed for "inward vision to help us understand the circumstances which brought us here."
