Poor Man's Candidate

Richard (Tricky Dicky) Nixon is currently being pictured as the poor man's candidate, the only one, except Humphrey, who is not a millionaire.

However, if the California boy wonder is not a millionaire, it is quite certain that he has a rather goodly number of millionaire friends.

Look around. Along the state highways, on TV, in hundreds of newspaper ads, in your personal mail, everywhere — are paid political advertisements about poor Dicky.

How are these advertisements being paid for? Is it the same infamous committee of 100 (big business groups interested in government influence) that caused the scandal 8 years ago?

For a poor man, Nixon is certainly spending a lot of money. The Republicans are doing everything they can to give Nixon a bigger vote than Kennedy in Indiana. Remember that when you vote Tuesday.

There are five candidates for the presidency on the ballots here, two Republicans and three Democrats. The Republican opposing Nixon is an Indianapolis Negro. Lars Daly, one of the Democrats, campaigns in an Uncle Sam suit, and has a three-point program, the first point of which is "build a home bomb shelter." The second candidate is a segregationist who wants only the votes of white people and Indians, John Latham. The third, of course, is Kennedy.

Your County Commissioner Is Important To You

Because he recommends how your tax dollar is to be spent. If nominated and elected, I promise to use the available dollars to the best advantage of each citizen in Adams county. In particular, I promise to use my best efforts to improve the county road conditions with the available money.

My Biography

I am a native of Adams county, married, the father of two daughters, a member of the Reformed church and Moose lodge and a graduate of the Jefferson township high school. I own and operate 120 acres in Jefferson township and since 1945 have sold fertilizer in this area.

I have been a life-time Democrat, but the only political office I have held has been as a member of the Jefferson township advisory board.

Social Security Quiz Answers Many Queries

(Editor's Note) Do you have any questions about Social Security? We all do, don't we? Send any question you might have to Social Security Quiz, c/o Daily Democrat. You'll find your answer in this column, which is published regularly.)

1. Q—I have been drawing social security retirement for a number of years. Recently a friend of mine told me that my payments would soon be exhausted. Is this true? I am dependent upon my social security payments for my livelihood.
A—No. Your payments do not have a time limit on them nor are they ever exhausted. Your friend just slipped you some misinformation. You need have no worry that your social security payments will run out.

2. Q—I have recently changed my address and have notified the social security office where to send my checks. Must I also notify the post office?
A—It is not necessary, but it is always advisable to notify the post office of any change in your address.

3. Q—I have been receiving social security payments for my minor son who will be 18 years of age this coming October. Since he will still be in high school at that time, will his payments be continued until he graduates in 1960?
A—No, they will not. No payments can be made to children past 18 except disabled children whose disability began before 18. Therefore, the payments will stop when your son attains 18. Actually your son's last payments will be for September, 1960, because benefits end with the month before the month of attaining 18.

4. Q—My husband and I have been drawing benefits at the minimum rate. Now he has died. Will my widow's benefit be only three-fourths of his $33 monthly rate?
A—No. You will receive $33 a month. Although a widow's benefit is usually three-fourths of her husband's monthly rate, a widow alone will not be paid less than $33.

5. Q—My wife and I have been receiving our social security payments in a combined check. However, now that she is in a nursing home, is it possible for us to get separate checks—one sent to me and one sent to my wife at the nursing home?
A—Yes. Separate checks can be issued when you request it, and in all cases where it is burdensome or difficult for the payees to promptly negotiate their checks.

BRIMMING OVER—1960 promises to be The Year of the Big Hat if this New York item is any indication. It's a "umbrella."

Answers Reader
This is the answer to a question asked by a reader.
Q—My former husband got killed in an accident. We have a fifteen-year-old daughter, and he was under court order to contribute $6 a week to her support. Even though he didn't send the money regularly, am I able to draw social security for her? I am married again. Is it the step-father's duty to support her?
A—Under the social security law if a child was living with and supported by a step-father she cannot receive social security benefits on her natural father's earnings records. To receive social security payments on a natural father's earnings record, the father must be contributing regularly and substantially to the child's support.
