It's Too Bad

Early indications today were that a light vote would be cast in both the Democratic and Republican primaries in Adams county, despite five races in the former and three in the latter.

If anyone would suggest giving up the right to vote, everyone would be angry, volatile, and up in arms. Yet few bother to find out who the candidates are, and then support those of their choice. Even fewer try to get out good candidates for the nomination.

Registration will open again May 15. Anyone who will be 21 on or before Nov. 8 may register. They must reside in the state six months, the township 60 days and the precinct 30 days.

By fall, both parties will have a full slate of candidates. In addition, the delegates to the two state conventions will have selected the state candidates, and the national conventions will have chosen the presidential and vice-presidential candidates.

For Sunday School Workers

The fifth annual state Sunday School convention will be held in Berne Thursday and Friday of this week. Every Sunday school worker is urged to attend.

This meeting does not deal with church theology or with inter-church problems. It deals only with methods and ways of teaching in Sunday Schools. Hundreds of new ideas for putting across the meaning of the Gospel will be exchanged. Every Sunday School worker, from teacher or helper to superintendent, will be welcome.

Registration will be at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, and the opening session will start at 1:30 p.m. The program, at the First Mennonite church in Berne, will run to 10 p.m., and those interested may attend just that part which interests them. On Friday, sessions start at 9:30 a.m. and last until 10 p.m. Exhibits will be open when the meetings are not in session for those interested in seeing the latest in Sunday School material.

The sessions are broken down by class ages, and include discussions like "making minutes count," "choosing techniques," "winning pupils to Christ" and workshops in every possible subject.

More than 1,500 persons can be accommodated in the huge Berne church, which is the pride of Adams county. All who are interested in this vital work are urged to attend.

Four States,
U.S. Capital
In Primaries

By United Press International
Voters in four states and the nation's capital ballot today in a series of primaries highlighted by a presidential popularity contest in Indiana between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The presidential races are the main contests in Indiana, Ohio and the District of Columbia. Alabama chooses between Democratic electors pledged to support the party's presidential and vice presidential nominees, and states rights electors who have promised to vote only for candidates they consider sympathetic to the South.

In Florida, voters will indicate their choices for governor, two members of the U.S. House of Representatives, six state officers and a flock of local officials.

Have Taken Opposition
Kennedy, seeking 34 Democratic convention delegate votes, and Nixon, after 32 GOP votes, had only taken opposition in their separate party races in Indiana. The big question was who would draw the most votes. Delegates were pledged to support the winners on the first ballot at the conventions. Kennedy predicted he would roll up the highest total. Nixon said he would consider he did well if he polled half the votes. He conceded he might receive as few as 42 per cent.

The Democratic and Republican state chairmen each predicted the opposition candidate would win. Most political observers felt Kennedy would come out ahead because local contests would bring more Democrats to the polls.

In Ohio, Kennedy was assured of the state's 64 Democratic convention votes. Voters will choose between rival delegate slates headed by Gov. Michael V. Di Salle and Cuyahoga County Democratic Chairman Ray T. Miller. Sr. Both slates were pledged to Kennedy.

Nixon had no major opposition for the 56 Ohio GOP convention votes.

Spirited D.C. Battle
Ohio voters also will pick nominees for 23 seats in the U.S. House of Representatives, three places on the state Supreme Court, state auditor and a number of local jobs.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.) and Wayne Morse (Ore.) waged a spirited campaign for the District of Columbia's nine Democratic convention votes. A slate pledged to Adlai E. Stevenson also was on the ballot but he has asked citizens not to vote for him.

Republican voters will choose eight convention delegates. Nixon was not on the ballot.

The Alabama loyalist vs. states rights electors contest will provide a test of Southern sentiment for bolting the Democratic Party should the presidential nominee be someone Dixie considers unacceptable.

Alabama also will select nominees for one Senate and nine House seats. The Democratic nomination normally is tantamount to election.

Sen. John Sparkman was expected to be renominated for a fourth term over two rivals. Two House members were opposed for renomination. Seven others were unopposed.
