Koufax Hurls One-Hitter To Beat Pirates

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
The Dodgers are wrestling with a five-year-old question again—Is Sandy Koufax on his way to stardom or was Monday night's one-hitter just another false start?

It's the same old question they've been trying to answer about the 24-year-old fireballer ever since he was signed to a $21,000 bonus contract in 1954. One day Sandy looks like a world beater. But then weeks, even months, may pass before he wins another game.

His 1-0 victory over the National League leading Pittsburgh Pirates for example, was his first triumph since Aug. 31, 1959, when he tied Bob Feller's major league strikeout record by fanning 18 San Francisco Giants in one game.

Overpowering Fastball
Only one thing remains constant about Koufax—when he's really got it he's one of the most overpowering pitchers anybody's ever seen.

It was like that Monday night when 6-2, 210-pound Sandy yielded a single in the second inning to pitcher Benny Daniels and then just "bombed" the Pirates with his fast balls. He walked six but he struck out 10 and there wasn't a semblance of a hit after the second frame.

But, then, there's the other Koufax—the Koufax who has a 29-31 career record, including 1-4 this season and who didn't win a game all last September or in the first five weeks of this season.

Pirates' Lead Shaved
The Dodgers victory cut the first-place Pirates' lead over the San Francisco to one game and moved Los Angeles past the St. Louis Cardinals into fifth place. The Chicago Cubs topped the Cincinnati Reds, 7-6, in 13 innings and the New York Yankees shaded the Kansas City Athletics, 4-3, in the only other major league game.

Commodores And Anderson Divide Games

The Decatur Commodores closed out their baseball season Monday afternoon, dividing a double header with St. Mary's of Anderson in a Central Indiana Catholic conference twin bill at Anderson.

The Commodores edged the Gaels in the opener, 2-1, but Anderson came back to win the nightcap, 4-3.

A pair of first inning runs held up for the Commodores for the opening game triumph. Hits by Steve Omlor, Steve Blythe and John Kohne were good for the two runs, but the Commodores were blanked the rest of the way on only two hits.

Jerry Gillig had a shutout through the first six innings but Anderson nearly pulled the game out in the final inning. An error, walk and a single accounted for one run, and a hit batsman then loaded the bases with only one out. But Gillig forced Wulle to bounce one back to the mound and the Commodores ended the game with a double play. Gillig to Fred Kauffman to Tom Kohne.

In the five-inning nightcap, Anderson tallied twice in the second inning, but the Commodores took the lead with three in the third on a walk, two errors, and hits by Kauffman and Tom Kohne. St. Mary's won the game with two in the fourth on two hits, an infield out and a wild pitch.

Power Failure At Indiana University

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI)—A transformer burned out at Indiana University early today, plunging part of the campus into darkness.

The transformer was located in Smithwood Hall, a women's dormitory, and furnished power to a student housing section.

The power failure touched off an impromptu demonstration on the streets lasting nearly two hours. Firecrackers were set off, but one observer said it was orderly, although noisy.

Over 2,600 Daily Democrats are sold and delivered in Decatur each day.

Jackets Beat Angola Monday By 6-3 Score

The Decatur Yellow Jackets scored four runs in the first inning, and then combined some good pitching and tight defensive play the rest of the way to defeat the Angola Hornets 6-3 in an NEI conference game at Pleasant Lake Monday.

"Hooker" Walters, the first man up for Decatur, singled and was sacrificed to second by Tom Grabill. After Jim Reidenbach walked, Harley Wolfe batted out a single to score Walters. Reidenbach then stole third and when the catcher's throw got away, Red scored. Marbach walked and freshman Bill Conrad smashed a clean single through the box, scoring Wolfe and making it 3-0. Charley Marbach then proceeded to steal third and on the next pitch he and Conrad worked the double steal with Marbach scoring.

Decatur scored its fifth run in the fifth when Grabill reached base on a fielder's choice, went to second on Reidenbach's single and stole third. Then Reidenbach, when the pitcher took his stance, lit out for second and stopped. The pitcher threw to second and Angola thought they were out of the inning, but while they were running Red down, they forgot Grabill, who walked home. The Jackets added their final tally in the sixth on singles by Marbach, Nellie Clark, a walk and an error.

Angola scored its three runs in the sixth, when big Harley Wolfe, who had been breezing along with a two-hit shutout, walked two and gave up two hits. Decatur's only error came in the inning also. Wolfe made up for any wrongs in the sixth though by striking out the side in the last inning.

Decatur is now 10 and 5 for the season and 3 and 2 in the conference. The Jackets travel to Willshire today for a non-conference game.

Observe Anniversary Of Night Baseball

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—The last major league holdout against night games and the first professional baseball team to play under the light combine tonight to celebrate the 25th anniversary of night baseball.

It was May 24, 1935, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt threw a switch in the White House that illuminated Crosely Field here for the first night game between the Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phillies.

Tonight, the Reds and Chicago Cubs, a team which does not have lights in its home Wrigley Field, will meet to celebrate the silver anniversary of that first contest. Big Paul Derringer, one of the all-time Cincinnati greats, will toss out the first pitch. He pitched 25 years ago when the Reds defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1, in the first ever light contest.

Cincinnati played seven night games that first year and followed with seven more in each of the next two years. Although night contests caught on here, it wasn't until 1938 that Brooklyn became the second National League team to play night games.

Philadelphia followed suit in 1939, and New York, Pittsburgh and St. Louis installed lights in their parks in 1940. With the exception of the Cubs, the old Boston Braves were the last National League team to install lights at their park when they were erected in 1946.

Since this beginning, night baseball has increased steadily through the years. Last year the National League recorded an all-time night game attendance when a total of 5,401, 142 spectators paid their way in to see the NL clubs perform under the lights. In 1959, 298 games were played at night in the National League. This year, 309 games are scheduled under the light in the senior circuit.
