Gladys Myers Is Wed To James Coyne

Miss Gladys Kay Myers became the bride of James Paul Coyne in a single ring ceremony at the St. Mary's Catholic church this morning at 10, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Simeon Schmitt officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh T. Myers, of route 3, Decatur, are the parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Coyne of route 5, Decatur, are the parents of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a long-sleeved floor length gown with a sabbina neckline and featuring a lace panel in front. She carried an orchid surrounded by white carnations, and wore a white ballerina length veil caught in a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms.

Miss Patricia Coyne, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor in a blue nylon organza waltz length gown with a V neckline and cap sleeves, set off by a lighter blue cummerbund flowing into a panel in the back. She wore a headpiece of rayon velvet with a dotted circular veil, and a bouquet of matching carnations. The Misses Kay Butler, Diane Exleben, and Dorothy Schlemmer were bridesmaids, and Miss Marilyn Coyne and Master Edward Ross served as flower girl and ring bearer, respectively. The dresses of the bridesmaids and the flower girl were identical to that of the maid of honor, in a lighter shade of blue with a darker cummerbund and panel.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Myers wore a navy blue dress with a matching coat and white accessories.

Francis J. Coyne, Jr., brother of the groom, served as best man with Harry Myers, brother of the bride, Richard Coyne, brother of the groom, and James Blenz ushering.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was held at the groom's home.

A reception will be held at 7:30 tonight at the Sunset park. Hostesses will be Miss Dorothy Coyne, Mrs. Leland Smith, and Miss Marilyn Temple.

The bride attended Monmouth high school before her marriage, and the groom is employed by the Yost Construction company. The couple will live at route 2, Monroeville.

NOTES FROM AFTER THIRTY

SHORTENED LONG GREEN

This week it was Jim Cowens' turn to have the mower mishap with the Homestead community chopper. Jim was riding around his yard in style, and also mowing his lawn at the same time, when he noticed his back pocket was a little lighter. At about the same time he realized why—right in the way of the mower was his hind. It was impossible to stop the machine in time to prevent running over the pocketbook, and Jim was almost afraid to look. Luckily, the damage was very slight. A few cards were sliced, but the important papers, the green ones, were undamaged. Norm Steury is the third owner of the mower. He'd better be careful, it's his turn next.

C'EST LA VIE

Friday, Adams county had one of its largest timber cuttings in history for one afternoon. Most people probably didn't have occasion to notice, but the north-east part of the court house lawn was a veritable forest of tiny maple trees. Conditions must have been just right there for the thousands of maple seeds that blew down to sprout, because early Friday morning, countless tiny maple leaves reflected the morning sun.

ABE'S HOME

Hope you had a happy and safe holiday. We visited a new place over the week-end—Springfield, Ill. The Illinois capital was the home of Abraham Lincoln, and a large part of his life was spent in the town and surrounding country. Among the sites to visit are the restored village of New Salem, with its numerous stores and places, including the Rutledge Tavern; Lincoln's home, the only house he ever owned; the beautiful Lincoln tomb; and Mr. Lincoln's church, in downtown Springfield. Another interesting spot, that a lot of people don't get to, is about ten miles out of town. We got there by luck. Sue and Harry Estill, former Decatur residents, are staying in Springfield until they can move to St. Louis. We stopped in to see them at a farm owned by some of Harry's relatives. The farm home is 110 years old, and a beautiful old brick structure. But also on the farm is a frame house built in 1829. This was the original farm home, and the relative of Harry's that lived there was appointed justice of the peace for the area. In this home, Abraham Lincoln tried his first legal case. It's not a rebuilt or facsimile-type home, but the original boards, and much of the original furniture. It gives anyone interested in history a chilly thrill to be able to stand in the same room where Mr. Lincoln stood.

Easier Cleaning
For cleaning narrow-necked vases, deep bottles, inaccessible corners, and other out-of-the-way places, fasten a piece of sponge to the end of a small stick or dowel of suitable length. Dipped into a detergent solution, this gadget will enable you to do the cleaning job with ease.

Sugar Economy
Try adding a pinch of soda to stewed rhubarb, dried apricots, or cranberries when nearly done, and much less sugar will be necessary for sweetening.

Cracked China
The small cracks or checks in china will be almost unnoticeable if the dishes are boiled in sweet milk for about three quarters of an hour.

Modern Etiquette
By ROBERTA LEE
Q. If a girl is to be married in a church wearing an afternoon dress and having only one maid-of-honor, is she supposed to invite only a very few friends and relatives to a wedding of this type?
A. There is no limit to the number of guests she may invite, provided, of course, there is ample room for everyone.

Q. I am allowing my women's club to use my home for a reception in the near future. Am I supposed to head the reception line?
A. The president should receive officially as hostess. You can greet the guests at the door, and also circulate about to see that everyone is receiving the proper attention.

Q. Do the male attendants at a wedding pay for their own boutonnieres?
A. No; the bridegroom is supposed to furnish these.
