Wanted: Responsible Adults

Decatur seriously needs some volunteers. One of its best programs for the youngsters of Decatur, the Junior Police, has faltered and failed because no one will help the police with the program.

If there are some young men who would like to work with the police in reforming this club for youngsters up to 13 years of age, contact chief James M. Borders.

The challenge is plain. There are many young kids who just don't "fit in." They need a club to join. If it isn't provided by society, it will be one of their own making, with gang leaders, and leadership that often degenerates into gang warfare, gang raids, late hour roaming, stealing, lying, skipping school, robbery, and eventually life in prison.

Only concerted action by those who sincerely desire to help young boys develop into responsible men by providing outdoor, mechanical, and working knowledge of hobbies and crafts that young boys enjoy, will help these youngsters. Let's hope some young men will find it in their hearts to make themselves useful to society by helping the young children get started through the Junior Police. The group meets only once a week, but adult planning and supervision is a must. The police department is more than willing to help, if the adult interest is there.
