State Traffic Toll
Five Per Cent Higher

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Indiana's 1960 traffic deaths are running 5 per cent above a year ago. State police provisional statistics today showed 568 fatalities through last Sunday midnight, compared with 540 a year ago. There were 22 fatalities last week, boosting the July toll to 84.

Two Acres Of Wheat
Mowed By City Men

MISHAWAKA, Ind. (UPI) — Embarrassed city officials apologized to farmer Ward Fries today on behalf of a street department mowing crew which couldn't tell the difference between wheat and weeds.

But Fries said apologies would not do and prepared a bill for damages after discovering to his dismay that about two acres of his 16-acre plot had been mowed clean.
Fries estimated his loss at about 80 bushels. With the market price set at $1.68 per bushel, he said he hopes to receive nearly $135.

Arrest Strikers For Disorderly Conduct

SHOALS, Ind. (UPI) — Martin County sheriff's deputies and State Police troopers arrested 20 Lawrence County men Tuesday night on disorderly conduct charges in connection with the 27-day strike against a limestone company at Oolitic.

The men were accused of following three Martin County non-strikers to their homes after they left work at the strike-bound Hoosier-Joyner Mill of the Indiana Limestone Co.

The suspects were held overnight in the county jail here pending court appearances and the posting of bond.

In the meantime, the Federal Council of Limestone Trades, representing five stone craft unions, announced that it has filed charges of unfair labor practices with the National Labor Relations Board against Indiana Limestone.

The union accused the company of bargaining in bad faith after it withdrew last week from an industry-wide negotiating committee.

However, a meeting between union and management representatives is scheduled for Thursday.

Suggest Overhaul
Of Indiana PSC

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A group of Hoosier lawmakers who are studying ways to improve government operation and services recommended Tuesday that the Indiana Public Service Commission be almost completely overhauled.

Members of the Public Service Commission Study Committee suggested that the 1961 General Assembly place PSC personnel under civil service, increase their salaries, remove them from political pressures, and review all existing statutes concerning public utility regulation.

The report is to be presented Aug. 2 to the Indiana Legislative Advisory Commission.

The only dissenter was State Rep. Max E. Brydenthal (D-Indianapolis), who said the PSC should be enlarged from three members to five.

However, the entire committee, including chairman Ruel Steele (R-Bedford), recommended that the commission jobs should be full-time positions with "salaries sufficient to attract qualified personnel" and that commissioners should not be removed from office without "just cause."

Also approved was a recommendation that two of the three members should be attorneys, and that they should be prohibited from private law practice during their terms of office.

The report was drawn up following a day-long session at which PSC chairman Robert S. Webb of Arcadia and public counselor George Diven presented their views on the matter. The committee was composed of Steele; Brydenthal; State Sen. Robert Brokenburr (R-Indianapolis); and State Reps. George L. Fisher (R-Leesburg), and Robert D. Schuttler (D-Evansville).

Other recommendations included: —Hearing examiners should be made deputy commissioners subject to removal only by the commissioners.

—All advertisement by the PSC of hearings should appear in at least one general circulation newspaper in each affected county and should carry the amount of the proposed increase.

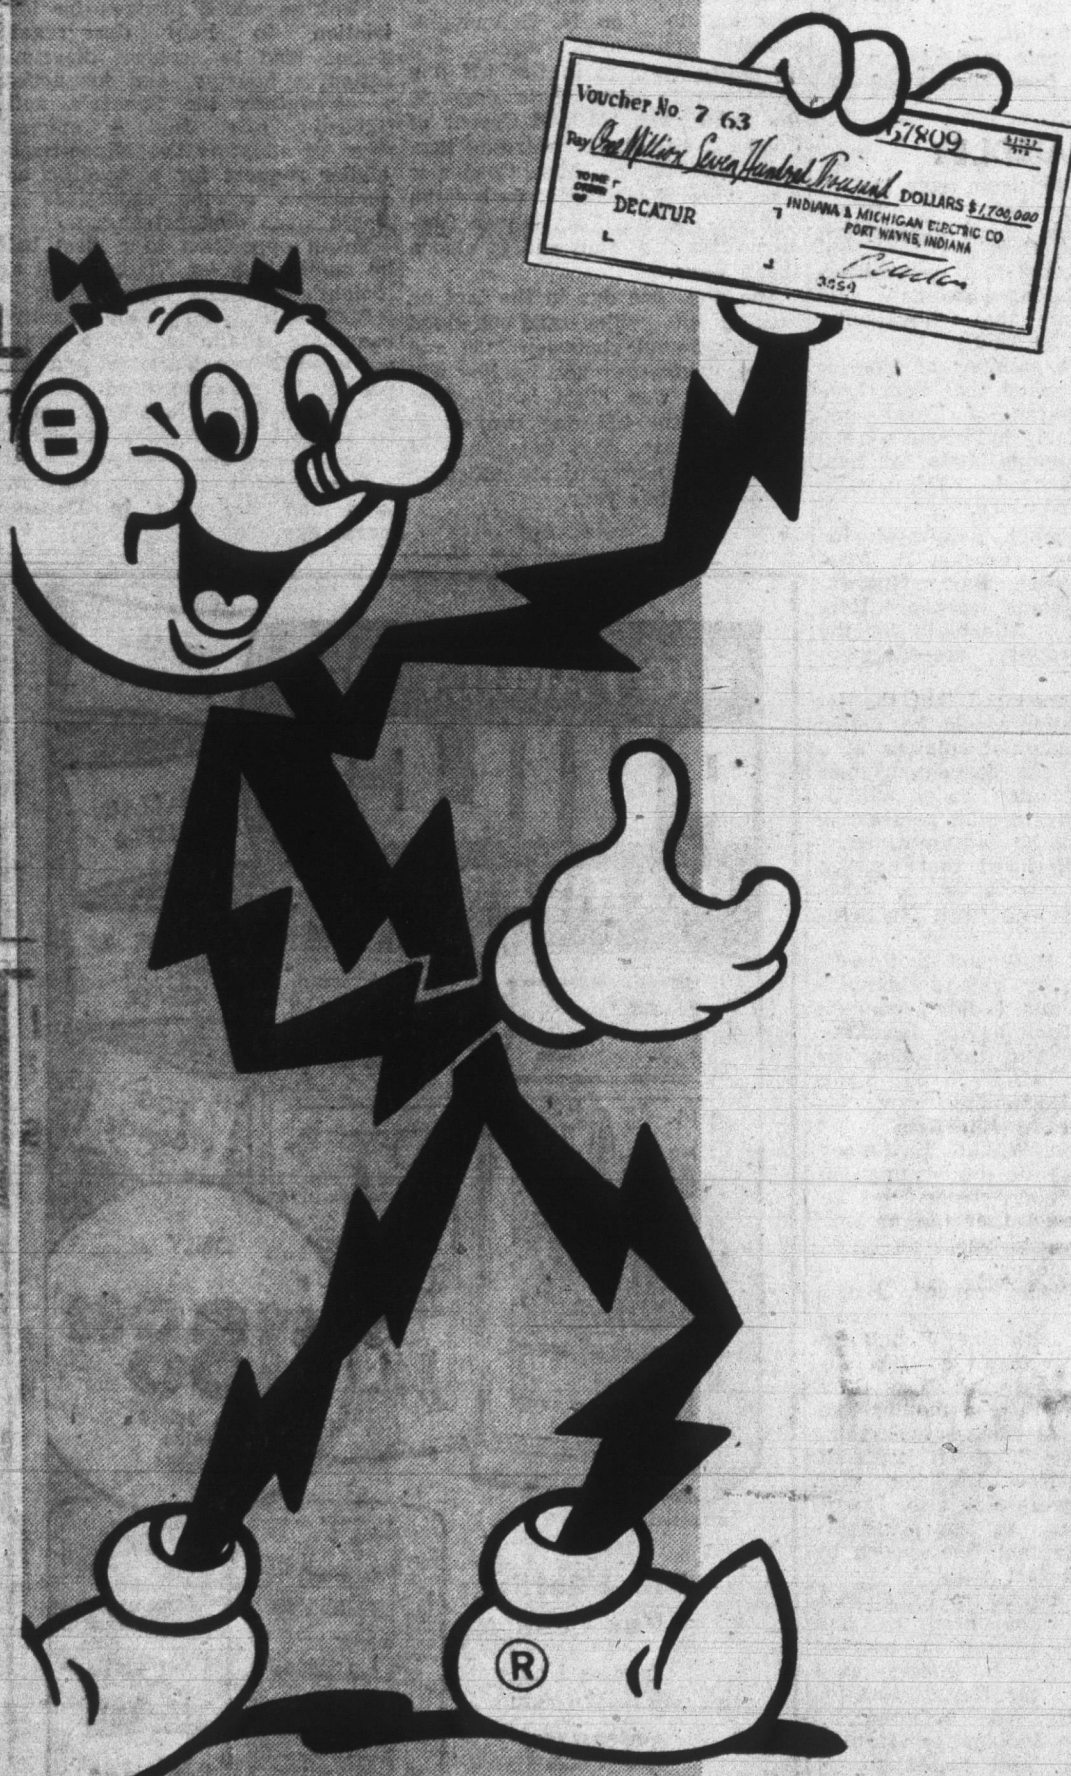

—A greater proportion of funds collected by the PSC should be retained for its operation and enforcement program. The committee was told by Webb that the PSC takes in more than a million dollars a year in trucking and utility assessments and another $300,000 in fines, but the Legislature appropriated only $428,365 last year for PSC operations.

—Conferences and hearings should be conducted with all interested public utilities, transportation companies and the public on changes in present PSC laws.

—Rural Electric Memberships Corporations should be required to give the same notice of hearings as those in urban areas.

—Rewrite railroad laws giving the PSC rule-making authority over diesel engines. The present laws restrict commission power to steam locomotives, now largely obsolete.

"WOW! A $1,700,000 CHECK FOR I&M IMPROVEMENTS IN DECATUR!"

Curious how the money will be spent? Every dollar will be used to help you live better electrically. Most of the money will be spent to improve our service facilities:

A new 15,000-kilowatt substation will be built on Dayton Avenue where the present diesel plant is located. The diesel plant itself will be remodeled to provide a new service center and operating headquarters for the Decatur District.

City and rural distribution systems will be rebuilt to triple (or more) the present capacity. Voltage regulators will be installed to insure stable voltage conditions on the system.

The remainder of the money will be used to provide an office and to buy the equipment we need to give you the best possible service:

A building, located on Monroe Street, across from the City Hall, has been purchased and will be remodeled. Besides serving as our collection office, the building will feature an appliance display area and a community meeting room which will be available for use by clubs and other organizations without charge. The site will be newly landscaped, and an 11-car parking lot will be constructed.

A line truck and a ladder truck have been purchased for service in the Decatur area. Both are fully equipped and the most modern available today. The ladder truck will be used to maintain the street lights and will be equipped with a completely automatic, electrically operated hydraulic ladder.

A two-way radio communication system throughout the Decatur District and a radio hook-up with the Fort Wayne Division headquarters is planned. The fixed radio antenna, necessary for this system, is now pending FCC approval.

Other improvements will be necessary in the future. This is to be expected because more and more uses for electricity are constantly being invented. As these everyday helpers are created, you will use more electricity—and we will expand our facilities to provide it. Yet, even though electricity is making your work load lighter and lighter each day, I & M rates have never gone up! A bargain? The biggest in your family budget!

YOU LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY!
