Yankees Beat Indians Twice To Regain Lead

By GARY KALE
United Press International

The decisive home run punch of the New York Yankees' second round power hitters may provide the difference in their bid to regain the American League pennant.

In Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, Bill Skowron and Yogi Berra, Casey Stengel has a recognized front-line unit that leads the major leagues in home runs.

But it's the so-called second-liners such as Tony Kubek and Cletis Boyer that Stengel must depend upon to keep the Yankees rolling when the big guys falter.

Kubek and Boyer connected in a first game surge against Cleveland Thursday night to give New York a 4-0 victory. The Yankees then completed the sweep of a two-night doubleheader with a 9-2 nightcap triumph that enabled them to take the lead by three percentage points over the Chicago White Sox.

Boston Beats Chicago
Boston ousted Chicago from first place, 4-2, Steve Barber issued a lone hit to Hank Bauer in the sixth inning as Baltimore beat Kansas City, 5-0, and Washington rallied in the ninth to defeat Detroit, 6-5, in other American League games.

In the National League, San Francisco edged Milwaukee, 3-2, in 10 innings, Philadelphia whipped Chicago, 3-2, and Los Angeles defeated Cincinnati, 8-6, on Frank Howard's grand slam homer.

Kubek's two-run homer in the third inning of the opener, his ninth, provided Whitey Ford with his seventh win of the season. Ford had to depart after five innings because of a stomach disorder and Bobby Shantz mopped up with shut-out relief pitching. Boyer belted his eighth and Mantle powered his 26th on back to back drives in the sixth inning.

Turley Wins Seventh
Bob Turley also picked up his seventh triumph, although he needed help from Ryne Duren over the last two innings of the nightcap. Mantle, Berra, and Bobby Richardson each had two hits as the Yankees extended their winning streak to four games.

Haywood Sullivan's two-run homer broke Chicago's nine-game victory hold over the Red Sox as Tom Brewer received the help of four double plays in recording his seventh win. Billy Pierce lost his sixth game, although the White Sox outlasted Boston, 10-7.

Barber struck out 10 Kansas City batters in pitching his first major league shutout and winning his first game since May 29. Brooks Robinson and Roy Hansen provided Barber with his sixth success with two-run homers in the first inning. Gene Woodling contributed another in the fifth.

Bases-Loaded Error
Washington scored three times in the ninth against Detroit, the final run coming across as Frank Bolling allowed Pete Whisenant's grounder to go through his legs for an error with the bases loaded. Harmon Killebrew hit his 10th homer for the Senators and Jim Lemon walloped his 26th to give reliever Chuck Stobbs his eighth victory.

Felipe Alou and Juan Marichal, San Francisco's imports from the Dominican Republic, combined to drop Milwaukee two games behind the idle first place Pittsburgh Pirates. Alou's third hit of the game with the bases loaded drove in the winning run and Marichal won his third straight. He has allowed only three runs since coming up to the Giants.

Del Greco, Herrera Homer
Bobby Del Greco and Pancho Herrera of the Phils homered for the second straight game against the Cubs and Dallas Green went the route for his second win. Southpaw Dick Ellsworth was tagged with his eighth loss.

Howard accounted for six Dodgers runs with his 16th homer and a bases-loaded single. Chuck Essegian also homered for Los Angeles. Frank Robinson hit his 20th while rookie Chico Cardenas belted his first major league homer and Gordy Coleman hit his second for the Reds. Larry Sherry took over for starter Roger Craig in the fifth and won his eighth game.

Littler Leading In Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (UPI) — History was repeating itself today as Gene Littler led the field into the second round of the Eastern Open golf tournament with a seven-under-par 65.

A year ago, the veteran pro from Singing Hills, Calif., led this tournament with the same first round score over the same Pine Ridge municipal course.

Littler, however, is hopeful that this year's tournament will have a different ending. In the 1959 Eastern Open, Gene led for three rounds but succumbed to a strong stretch rally by Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla.

Juan Rodriguez, a 24-year-old newcomer from Puerto Rico, and Jackie Burke of Kiamasha, Lake, N.Y., shared the runner-up spot going into today's second round with 67's.

Doug Ford and Lionel Hebert, a pair of former PGA champions, were bracketed with George Beyer and Bob Goaly at 68 while Ragan opened the defense of his title with a 71.

Fifty players broke par on the 6,900-yard course in the first round. No action has been taken as yet against Open champion Arnold Palmer, Sam Snead and Art Wall Jr., who skipped the tournament to play exhibition matches in nearby Pennsylvania areas this week-end.

"My protest still stands," said Irv Kovens, the tournament chairman. "It will be up to the PGA to take action against those involved."

Normal Weather To Continue In State

United Press International

Forecasters indicated today that the normal warm, summer weather which has been featured in Indiana for the past week will stretch into the middle of next week.

The five-day outlook called for temperatures averaging near normal highs of 83 to 90 and normal lows of 60 to 72, with "only small thunderstorms also were expected day-to-day changes."

Widely scattered, almost daily, just like the situation during the past week. But rainfall will average only one-fourth of an inch and scattered localities will get more and some places will get little or no rain, the outlook said.

The forecast for the next couple of days was a revision of earlier forecasts which called for a little cooler weather today and possibly Saturday.

Now the forecasters expect highs today ranging from the upper 80s to near 90, lows tonight ranging from the mid 60s to the low 70s, and highs Saturday around 90. Sunday will be continued warm and humid.

Second No-Hit Little League Game Thursday

The second no-hitter in as many nights featured Thursday night's double header in the Little League at Worthman field.

And the no-hitter was turned in by another member of the Senators' staff, which hurled Wednesday's no-hitter. Last night it was Feasel, who held the White Sox without a safety and had a perfect game going until walking the second batter in the sixth inning.

Wednesday night, Baker tossed a hitless game at the Indians.

Last night's opener saw the Tigers increase their league lead with an 8-2 victory over the Yankees, followed by the Senators' 11-0 blanketing of the White Sox.

The Tigers jumped off to a four-run lead in the first inning on three walks, three errors and a double by Thomas. The Tigers scored three more in the third on hits by an infield out. The Yankees tallied both their runs in the fourth on J. Lose and T. Lose, an error and hits by Hakes, Kenny, Strickler and Spiegel. The Tigers counted their final run in the fifth on a single by J. Lose, who stole third and home.

The Senators scored all the runs Feasel needed in the first inning of the nightcap on a walk, hits by Feasel and Meeks and an error. The Senators scored in every inning, climaxing their big night with five runs in the fifth. The Senators had 13 hits, including three by Vian, and two each by August, Feasel and Baker. Seven doubles were included in their blows.

Red Sox Star Out For Year With Illness

BOSTON (UPI) — The "help wanted" sign was hanging in right field at Fenway Park again today after the Red Sox lost for the season the newest of their most promising young men.

Outfielder Gary Geiger was hospitalized Thursday with a collapsed lung. The 24-year-old converted pitcher was stricken at the height of his campaign to become an entirely acceptable replacement for the retired Jackie Jensen. Geiger's predecessor in right field.

Search For Replacement
The Red Sox were expected to stage a quick beating of the bushes in search of another outfielder since Geiger's loss slashed Boston's outer garden staff to just four, one of them the aging, nonetheless still powerful — Ted Williams.

In addition, Geiger's ailment deprived Manager Mike Higgins of perhaps his most promising young player, at least next to pitcher Bill Monbouquette. Geiger, who was in his second season with Boston after a year with Cleveland as both a pitcher and an outfielder, only Tuesday hiked his batting average to .301.

But less than 24 hours after getting a home run and a single and drawing three walks to achieve .300 for the first time, Geiger underwent surgery and was ruled out for the remainder of the season. Doctors described his ailment as "spontaneous pneumothorax" and said they could not definitely determine what had caused the lung collapse.

Hit By Wynn
Speculation on the reason behind the ailment centered on a wayward pitch by the veteran Chicago White Sox pitcher Early Wynn in Tuesday night's game.

Geiger was hit in the ribs by a Wynn pitch in the first inning, but shook off what appeared to be a minor injury and played the rest of the game, getting two hits, including a homer.

Slater Martin Quits Pro Basketball Career
ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Slater Martin, the smallest and oldest cager in the professional basketball circuit, was off the players list today.

Martin, sparkling guard for the St. Louis Hawks, announced his retirement from the professional National Basketball Assn. Thursday.
