

Kennedy Backed By Southerners

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy hoped today his endorsement by Mississippi's senators would help swing other southern Democrats to support the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the presidential campaign.

Sens. James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis Thursday night pledged their support of Kennedy for president and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for vice president on the national Democratic ticket.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press spokesman, said "We hope to win the support of all Democrats." A handful of southern Democrats still remained silent, however.

Four Withhold Support

In the Senate Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, Richard B. Russell and Herman Talmadge of Georgia, and Strom Thurmond of South Carolina have not publicly endorsed the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Georgia Gov. Ernest Vandiver, who was scheduled to confer with Kennedy this afternoon, also has not given his blessing to the national ticket. Kennedy was expected to ask again for Vandiver's support.

Other southern governors withholding their endorsement included Orval Faubus of Arkansas and Jimmie Davis of Louisiana.

Kennedy told United Press International that he hoped to win

FRUITLESS—Tony Elder, 5, can't quite get the whole plum in at once. He's from London, Ontario.

Byrd's backing before the end of the campaign. He said he felt Byrd's support would assure him victory in Virginia which went to President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

Byrd Refused Aid

In both 1952 and 1956 Byrd refused to give his support to Democratic candidate, Adlai Stevenson.

Kennedy's aides, meanwhile, were preparing a statement dealing with another aspect of his southern campaign strategy.

They were ready to give an answer to whether National Committeeman Frank Reeves of Washington, D.C., a Negro, would travel with Kennedy in the South.

Kennedy has said Reeves, a campaign assistant, would accompany him on campaign trips. Salinger refused to say Thursday whether Reeves would go into the South with Kennedy, however.

Arizona Tire Blowout Causes Fatal Wreck

WINSLOW, Ariz. (UPI) — The Arizona Highway Patrol blamed a tire blowout today for the traffic death of an Indiana woman in an accident 11 miles west of here on U.S. 66.

Mary Ryan Staley, 54, South Bend, Ind., was killed Wednesday when the car she was riding in overturned twice. She was thrown from the car, which was driven by Mary Kaye Buchtel, 16, Plymouth, Ind.

Miss Buchtel and four other passengers were hospitalized here. The Highway Patrol said the left rear tire on the eastbound car blew out throwing the car out of control.

Over 2,600 Daily Democrats are sold and delivered in Decatur each day.

UN Soldiers Grim At Beatings

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Grim-faced United Nations soldiers stood guard behind barbed wire at Ndjili Airport today, furious over the beatings given three of their colleagues Thursday by Congolese troops and determined to take no more.

A U.N. spokesman said the sentries — all Moroccan — were authorized to "open fire" to keep the runways clear and the grounds free of trespassers.

The tenser mood which the U.N. peace operation assumed almost overnight was signaled by Under Secretary Dr. Ralph Bunche in a curt radio statement branding any further harassment of his personnel as "unacceptable."

The immediate source of his anger was a raid on the airport by an unruly Congolese detachment which yanked Canadian signal corps men from a waiting plane, made them lie on the ground and pummeled them with boots and rifle butts. But there have been numerous such raids and arrests on U.N. personnel in the past few days — all carried out by Congolese in a supposed search for "Belgian spies."

Such actions, Bunche declared, were "useless and senseless provocations." He sharply reminded the Congolese responsible for the latest raid that the armed Canadians, if they had not preferred patience, "could very well have solved the problem in their own way."

Both Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld rushed protests on the new incident to Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Diefenbaker called the attack "unwarranted and unjustifiable." The text of Hammarskjöld's note was not immediately made public.

The harassing actions were directly attributable to Lumumba's break with Hammarskjöld over the latter's refusal to use the U.N. force to subdue secessionist Katanga Province. The 34-year-old premier has challenged the good faith of the U.N. chief, accusing him of favoring Belgian interests.

MISSIONARY FILM
"A Cry in the Night," an hour-long missionary film will be shown in the Wood Chapel Evangelical United Brethren Church, Sunday evening, August 21, at 8 o'clock. Produced by World Vision, Inc., of Los Angeles, and filmed in color throughout Asia, this film features such scenes as reputed actual demon-possession on the island of Bali, a new Tokyo, one of the world's most beautiful and modern cities, rising out of the ashes of defeat and the age-old customs of the past . . . Brutal Communist riots . . . A saintly nurse binding up the wounds of the leprosy.

Bible Material: Isaiah 5:1-24. Devotional Reading: Romans 13:8-14.

After the Drinks

Lesson for August 21, 1960

THE BIBLE says not a word against whiskey. The reason is the same as the reason why it does not warn against too-fast driving, or the excessive use of sleeping pills, or flying a light plane in freezing rain. These are all ways of cutting life short, just as whiskey is. But the Bible does not mention them because they had not yet been invented. The Bible does warn us many times about the use of wine and the equivalent of beer.

Most of the references to "strong drink" could be translated "beer" without seriously changing the meaning.

Death

The prophet Isaiah, looking about him in his own city of Jerusalem, saw a drinking people, men and women for whom social drinking was a well-established, popular habit. But he did not like what he saw. Furthermore, since an authentic prophet is one who sees with God's eyes, we can be sure, if we take the Bible seriously, that God did not like it either.

Does God like it any better in America? In 1958, the last year for which figures are available, the sales of liquor stores were $4,459,000,000. This is just about double what the public spent in shoe stores in the same year.

Liquor advertising accounts for some of this, to be sure. But liquor ads—very attractive they are, too—always show the liquor-drinker before the drinkers committed under the influence of alcohol, they do not show the wrecks caused by drinking (not necessarily drunk) drivers. The ads show a man before; they do not show him after his drinks have made him less than a man. "The grave has opened its mouth," Isaiah said, referring to his hard-drinking nation. The grave opens its mouth today . . . not to mention the living death of alcoholism.

A nation that spends twice as much in liquor stores as in shoe stores has a very odd standard of values, to say the least. The drinker, even the modest drinker, opens the door to becoming a man (or woman) who cannot think straight. If you were to be operated on, would you like to think the surgeon had just taken a little rum to warm himself up? Would you willingly fly in a plane if you knew the pilot kept himself pretty well "juned up" between flights? If you were a prisoner, would you like to be sentenced by a judge who had several drinks under his robe? You would not. But if we don't want important things done for us by people even a tiny bit tipsy, we should not want people thinking for us with their brains even a little fuzzed with alcohol. The farther a man goes with a drinking habit, the bigger and bigger the bottle grows, bigger in importance, that is, Isaiah knew that a drinking nation calls "evil good, and good evil."

The Rotten Root

The people, the liquor-loving people, that swarmed in Isaiah's city, he compares to a plant of which the root is rotten and the blossom is dust. They have lost their stamina, they will fall to their enemies like dry grass before a flame! (This came true, we must remember). One of the most frightening features of America is the attitude of many leaders toward liquor. Charles A. Wells, in "Between the Lines" for Jan. 15, 1958, writes: "The favored treatment liquor gets in the U. S. Armed Services, and in U. S. diplomacy, is notorious . . . Liquor gets priority treatment . . . The Kremlin is cracking down on liquor in Russia with severity, and preaching sobriety and temperance—as is Red China. Are not the despottisms in the American defense program guilty of sabotage as much as if they mined a bridge or put a time-bomb in a plane? Narcotics squads knock themselves out going after dope-users and peddlers. Why is it nobody much bothers with the enormously larger number of drug addicts who drug themselves with alcohol? Could it be because too many 'important people' are the same kind of drug victims?"

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

—sponsored by the following advertisers who solicit your patronage—

"A Cry in the Night" was a first place winner in the Winona Lake film festival, and international competition for religious films. It is being shown in churches across the country in what is described as a unique distribution plan. Churches using it, rather than paying rental fees or taking an offering for the World Vision or missionary program, are required to take an offering for their own foreign missionary program.

Everyone is invited to view this film Sunday evening at the Wood Chapel Church.

COURAGE NEEDED TODAY

Rev. James R. Meadows
We need courage today as we look out upon a chaotic world—a dangerous world. The person who lives by sight instead of faith has as his constant companion uncertainty, gnawing fear, and ever increasing sense of futility.

We need to examine afresh the words of the Psalmist, "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths." Faith is needed when visibility is poor, for blind flying. Let us rest in God and trust Him. From the midst of the evil days in which Christ lived, He spoke these words, "Let not your heart be troubled." The fulfillment of this admonition is accomplished only by believing His word and acting on it. Only then comes the flow of His peace over troubled mind and spirit.

If there was ever a time when we should be regular in attendance
