

Pamphlet Outlines Nikita's Strategy

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Too bad Al Smith isn't around to deal with the United Nations' most distinguished visitor, the Soviet Union's Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Al Smith had a way with phonies. His way was to hear them out, consider their propositions carefully and then to propose: "Let's look at the record."

False arguments and false men could not survive Al Smith under such circumstances when he went nosing into the record of the past to determine the judgment of the present and the future.

Al Smith is gone, but the Foreign Policy Research Institute of the University of Pennsylvania is very much alive. The institute prepared and the government printed a 40-page pamphlet entitled "Khrushchev's Strategy and Its Meaning for America."

Not Pleasant Reading
This pamphlet is not always pleasant reading for an American or for any free man. K's strategy is doing pretty well. Its meaning for America is not good. Much of the Communist record and of Khrushchev's record is there, however. The pamphlet is something every American should read, if only to insulate his mind against K's effort to brainwash the United States with smartly conceived propaganda.

The institute study finds disarmament to be K's prime strategic and tactical objective. Disarmament of the United States and of the West, that is. His disarmament proposals and other sweet talk of co-existence are likened to just so many tranquilizer pills. The United Nations' distinguished guest hopes to "tranquelize" the West with co-existence.

Page 31 of the pamphlet offers the Communist record on disarmament. Not merely K's record, but the Communist record since Maxim Litvinov in November, 1927, proposed across-the-board disarmament to the conference then sitting in Geneva.

A Familiar King
The institute study finds that Litvinov's 1927 proposal curiously parallels the across-the-board proposals Khrushchev made to the U.N. General Assembly a year ago when he was visiting the United States.

One year after Litvinov wanted to down arms, the 6th world congress of the Communist International cynically revealed the true purpose of the disarmament plan. Pure propaganda!

"The aim of the Soviet proposals is not to spread pacifist illusions," the congress held, "but to destroy them. . . . Disarmament and the abolition of war are possible only with the fall of capitalism. It goes without saying, that not a single Communist thought for a moment that the imperialists would accept the Soviet disarmament proposals."

That is part of the record. The institute concludes on the basis of available facts that "K's disarmament campaign is to clear the strategic landscape of a serious roadblock to world revolution by obtaining the nuclear disarmament of the West."

Perhaps then K could make good on his boast to bury us.

Refers To Visitors As 'Troublemakers'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today used the word "troublemakers" in what seemed to be a reference to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and Communist officials attending the United Nations meeting in New York.

The chief executive did not mention any foreign leader by name, but his meaning seemed clear to an audience in the White House rose garden.

The President called for national unity "in these especially troubled times—at least there seem to be troublemakers trying to come to our country."

The President used the "troublemakers" remark in a joking way. Castro, Khrushchev, and a number of Red-bloc leaders have already arrived in New York for the U. N. General Assembly session. Their movements have been restricted to Manhattan Island.

Eisenhower also said the United States must be militarily secure but without any aggressive intent toward any nation.

"Anyone who talks about aggressive war on a global scale is talking suicide," he said. "At least we've got that much sense."

He made the comments in a brief greeting to the American Nationalities for Nixon-Lodge Committee.

Acquits Airman Of Embezzling Funds

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (UPI)—A former Air Force mess sergeant stood acquitted today of charges he embezzled $7,200 in mess hall funds at the Rockville, Ind., radar station.

Airman 3rd Class Ray D. Pierce, 28, was found innocent by Federal Judge William E. Steckler last weekend at the end of a trial prompted by a grand jury indictment.

"The money is gone, but I cannot conclude beyond a reasonable doubt that he (Pierce) is guilty," Steckler said. "There was a chance for too many hands in the till."

Lodge Invades Indiana First Time Thursday

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican vice-presidential nominee, will invade Indiana this week for the first time in the campaign.

Lodge's first two speeches Thursday will be in hostile Democratic territory—South Bend and Gary. His next two talks will be on Friday in Muncie and Anderson, where there also are many Democrats.

The Indiana delegation to the GOP national convention was almost solidly against the nomination of Lodge and in favor of national chairman Thruston Morton.

Since the convention, however, state chairman Edwin E. Beaman and other party leaders have commented that Lodge is striking a popular chord with the voters, particularly the females.

A strong GOP right-winger will be in oratorical action at a rally of Indiana Young Republicans of the 10th District in Richmond Saturday night. He is Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona.

Nixon Back In State
Also, Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, who talked in Indianapolis last Monday, will speak in Fort Wayne Wednesday.

The Hoosier Republicans received a good-sized shot in the arm Saturday when Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate minority leader, and Richard O. Ristine, Crawfordville, nominee for lieutenant governor, addressed the full meeting of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association.

Dirksen was one of the most amusing speakers in many years for the editors and politicians. His sarcastic denunciations of Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, vice-presidential candidate, and other leaders of the opposition kept the listeners laughing constantly.

Many of the charges had been hurled before by the speaker and other GOP leaders, but Dirksen's unique delivery held the constant attention of the audience. It was old wine, but in new bottles.

Attacks Sen. Kennedy
Dirksen attacked Kennedy for his "downgrading of this nation, telling us how weak it is, how it has failed and how incapable it is of meeting the challenges that face it."

"Where was Kennedy the day we passed the defense bill of $40,300,000,000. He was not in the Senate. He was attending a meeting of the overseers of Harvard University," Dirksen said.

"If our defenses are insufficient, as Kennedy claims, Kennedy should have been there to explain these weaknesses, and to offer amendments to correct them."

Dirksen said he had never supported his Illinois Democratic colleague, Sen. Paul Douglas, in his proposed raid on the Hoosier Dunes areas.

"There are many other areas of the dunes beside the Indiana industrial region that could be adapted for national park purposes," Dirksen asserted.

All members of the state principals association in high schools north of U.S. highway 40 have been invited to attend this conference.

The Rev. Richard Steiner of Berne, who recently has returned from service as a missionary in the Congo, will be the speaker at the 10 a.m. session in the Memorial Center. With the Congo currently the center of world attention, his address should be of great interest. He currently is teaching in the Hartford Center school in Adams county.

A buffet luncheon is on the schedule at noon in the north ballroom of the Memorial Union building. Tickets for this luncheon are priced at $1.60.

Fort Wayne Couples Held On Check Count

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—A check writing spree blamed on two young Indiana couples was investigated today after a merchant nabbed one suspect with a diving tackle.

Held pending further investigation were William Raymond Jacobs, 21; his wife, Ariel Kay, 22, and Richard Stockings, 22, and his wife, Connie Lou, 20, all of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Authorities here said they are also wanted in Fort Wayne on charges of bad check writing.

Jacobs, a one-time Michigan penitentiary inmate, told police the Fort Wayne checks were written under the name of "W. R. Jacobs Importing & Exporting, Co., 308 W. Douglas, Fort Wayne."

Police said the four opened an account here last Friday at Bankers Trust Co., with $100 shortly after their arrival. The Des Moines checks were written by the fictitious "Jacobs & Stocking Wholesale Distributors, Des Moines."

The Des Moines merchant who caught Jacobs was Robert Zeller, 34, owner of a fabric shop in the Park Fair shopping center.

Zeller tackled Jacobs outside the store after Jacobs' wife cashed a check for $45 worth of clothing with a check for $68.52, received the change in cash, and went into a nearby dime store.

Zeller grabbed Mrs. Jacobs' arm in the dime store and led her back to his shop.

Just then, police said, Jacobs appeared in the Zeller store, pulled a gun on Zeller, ordered the merchant to give him the keys to the store, locked the front door and fled.

But before Jacobs could get to his car, Zeller darted out the rear door of his store and caught the young Indiana man with a tackle.

Zeller and Jacobs were wrestling in front of a drug store when police arrived.

Police said Jacobs' gun discharged in his pocket during the scuffle, but it contained only blank cartridges.

Firemen Called To Barn Fire Today
The fire department was still at the scene of a fire on the Max Thieme farm in Union township, near the Ohio line, at 1:30 this afternoon. They were called to Thieme's at 6:12 o'clock this morning. Unofficial reports say a barn was struck by lightning and is apparently still burning.

The department was called to a fire at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Decatur Industries. A wood pile caught fire but was quickly extinguished.

Kennedy Calls For Higher Production

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy called today for greater production rather than a shorter work-week to conquer unemployment and meet the Communist economic challenge to America.

The Democratic presidential candidate made the appeal in a speech prepared for delivery to the United Steelworkers' convention. He also planned to speak before the chemical workers' union here before flying to Charleston, W.Va., tonight for a conference on distressed areas.

Kennedy, who spent Sunday in Washington, told reporters he was encouraged by the public reaction to his first 15 days of campaigning. But he conceded he was in a "very close" race with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

He said that while there was "still a great deal of concern over his Catholic religion, he was gratified that many people were moving on to other issues."

In his address to the steelworkers, Kennedy took note of union President David J. McDonald's proposal for a 32-hour week as the solution to the problem of unemployment in the steel industry.

"I, too, look forward to the day when the working men and women of this country can reduce their efforts and enjoy greater leisure," Kennedy said.

"But in the face of the Communist challenge which confronts us in the world today—a challenge of economic as well as military strength—I believe that we must meet today's problem of employment by greater production rather than by sharing the work."

"I would rather create abundance than ration scarcity—and I promise you an administration that believes in building abundance."

Kennedy also called for revision of the Taft-Hartley Act to give the President "the freest choice" of action to settle national emergency disputes and said he rejected "the alternative of compulsory arbitration."

Initial Donation To Fund For Frauhigers
A check for $100 was presented to the Daily Democrat this morning as the first step in a fund for the Harry Frauhiger family.

The check was presented by the Decatur high school graduating class of 1935, of which Mrs. Frauhiger was a member. Representatives of the class, who donated the first check, said this is a very worthy fund and hoped for the support of everyone in the community and county.

Frauhiger, the father of 11 children, nine of whom are still in school, suffered a spinal injury in a fall from the roof of a 12 foot shed on the Merl Essex farm while painting the shed Sept. 4. He was taken to the local hospital and then immediately transferred to the Parkview hospital in Fort Wayne.

At first he was paralyzed from the shoulders down, but is slowly regaining the use of his arms. He will, however, probably never walk again. Frauhiger is still in the hospital in Fort Wayne and is reported resting comfortably.

Donations to the fund will be Bob Shraluka. Checks should be taken at the Democrat office by made out to the Harry Frauhiger fund.

Needed Rainfall In Decatur And County
Adams county received some need d rainfall this morning in the form of a storm, which apparently caused some damage.

The fire department was called to the Max Thieme farm in Union township this morning about 6 o'clock when a barn caught fire during the rain. The cause of the fire was probably lightning, but this is not official as the department was still at the scene fighting the fire late this afternoon.

Miss Rosemary Spangler, of Kirkland township, reported the heaviest rainfall with 6 inches. Gloria Koenehan, of Preble, and Erwin Fuelling, of Union, reported a half inch of rain as did Ben Mazelin, of Monroe and Austin Merriman of Blue Creek.

Decatur's weatherman, Louis Landrum reported the city received .42 inches, and Ivan Huser, of Hartford, stated his township got .35 inches.

Nixon Starts Out On Major Campaign Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will try to pose during the United Nations session as the advocate of policies which the Russian leader actually opposes.

The Republican presidential candidate said Khrushchev will talk about "peace, freedom, independence, anti-colonialism and all the other things the Communists really oppose."

Nixon spoke at a meeting of 250 members of the American Nationalities for Nixon-Lodge Committee which will wage a campaign for support among 20 million Americans of foreign origin. Later in the day, he was to start off on another major campaign swing.

The Republican presidential candidate told the nationalities group that "one of the insidious appeals of the Communists is that they do not come as dictators or conquerors, but as partisans of anything the people want."

"They talk in one way very effectively and act in another," he said.

Nixon warned the nationality leaders that "an aggressive idea like communism cannot be countered by purely defensive tactics."

He also said the Communists believe that the greatness of a nation lies in military strength and industrial production, but that "to us a nation is only as great and only as strong as its adherence to lasting ideals."

For his second week of full-scale campaign activity, Nixon scheduled stops in 11 states with emphasis on the Midwest. He promised to unveil the second installment of his farm program in a speech at Sioux Falls, S.D., plowing contest Friday.

Nixon's first stop on the new campaign trip was the economically hard-hit section of Pennsylvania's anthracite country.

Tuesday's travels will take the vice president to Michigan, and on Wednesday he will campaign in Fort Wayne, Ind., Louisville, Ky., and Springfield, Mo. On Thursday, he speaks in St. Joseph, Mo., and in Sullivan and Rockford, Ill.
