What Goes?

It is interesting to ponder on the changes that have occurred in the United States in the past eight years.

Eight years ago, the Democrats were leading the United States hurriedly down the road to socialism, and one of the big reasons was social security. Yet, today, the Republicans are campaigning on the fact that 14 million more people are covered than were eight years ago.

The storage bins that dotted the rural areas of the United States were another sign of creeping socialism infringing on the American way of life eight years ago. Today, those bins, and more, are still bulging with growing surpluses.

Massive government, centered in distant Washington, was the most decisive sign of a socialistic party running our government, yet 25,000 employees have been added to the Agriculture department alone in the past eight years.

Eight years ago, change, merely for the sake of change, was the crying need of a country that was dominated by these terrible features. Today, we are told, change is a foolish thought, because we need men of "experience" controlling our government.

Eight years ago, it was said, this nation was spending itself to death, but today, even larger budgets are needed for national defense, and in the next four years, through patriotic sacrifice, we can spend our way out of the farm problem.

In short, all the miseries that befell America after the wonderful early thirties, and the even better times of McKinley, until 1952, were putting an unbearable weight on the shoulders of the citizens of this country.

Granted, the above might smack a wee bit of sarcasm. But, despite, or because of, the past eight years, there are still a lot of level-headed Americans who are proud of the accomplishments of this nation from 1932 until 1952. Those same Americans are also proud of what has transpired since 1952. They might be puzzled, though, as to why all the criticism, while fondly embracing just what was being criticized.

And, after embracing it, why the criticism still continues, when there are needs and programs for the future that are of much more importance.

The test of a political party is not in its ability to be elected. It is in its ability to govern, direct, and LEAD, after elected.

Estate Cases

A petition for issuance of letters of administration was filed in the Paul H. Gallmeier estate and the bond was filed in the penal sum of $4,000. The personal surety affidavit was filed and the bond was submitted, examined and approved. The letters of administration were ordered issued to Viola Gallmeier and were reported and confirmed.
The estate of Thella M. Haack was re-opened for the purpose of re-determining the amount of tax due. A petition for an amended order determining the value of the estate and the amount of tax due was filed. The court found the net value of the estate to be $151,920.80, and there is additional tax due in the sum of $747.50. The court ordered that the penalty be reduced from ten per cent to six per cent because of an unavoidable delay. The court further ordered that the estate be closed.

Famous Aviatix Is Found Dead Sunday

NEW YORK (UPI)—An autopsy will be conducted today to determine the cause of death of Ruth Rowland Nichols, 59, one of the world's most famous women fliers.
Miss Nichols was found dead on the bathroom floor of her apartment Sunday by the building superintendent. Police said she left notes indicating suicide.
The aviatix took to the skies in 1921 when she was a student at Wellesley College. Soon she became known in headlines as "the society flier" and shared with Amelia Earhart the adulation of the public.
In 1931 she held the three major international women's records—the speed mark of 210.6 miles an hour over a close course; the distance record of 1,977 miles on a flight from Oakland, Calif., to Louisville, Ky., and an altitude record of 28,743 feet.
In 1930 she clipped an hour of Charles A. Lindbergh's transcontinental flight record, making the Los Angeles to New York trip in 13 hours and 21 minutes.
In 1932 she became the first woman airline pilot when she joined the New York and New England Airways. She had a number of close brushes with death, notably her escape from a flaming plane at Columbus, Ohio, in 1921, and from an exploding passenger plane at Troy, N.Y., in 1935.
Her latest record was set in 1958 when she was the first woman to fly an Air Force jet faster than 1,000 miles an hour at an altitude of 51,000 feet at the Suffolk County Air Force Base, N.Y.

Branniff Airways Is Struck Today

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Branniff International Airways ticket sellers, reservations clerks and cargo employees struck at 6 a.m. today for higher wages and other benefits.

Walter Henschel, Branniff's vice president of public relations, said the line expected to continue its operations today.

But C.L. Dennis of Chicago, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Local 3059, said the strike would halt Branniff's operations in 38 American cities.

Union officials said some 2,500 clerical, cargo and other employees would be affected by the strike. The airlines personnel belong to the air transportation division of the union.

The strike was the first in the union's history.

Clarence Robinson, union general chairman for Branniff, said the strike would last until a settlement is reached. Another union spokesman said he thought the strike would be settled within a few days.

Charles E. Beard, president of Branniff, said the principal point of disagreement was a union demand for a closed shop and dues checkoff. He said that this was the only issue and the company would not give in.

But Sunday night Dennis called wages the major issue and said the union would drop demands for a union shop if management would meet the wage scale offered by Pan American World Airways.

Appointed Clerks To Serve Out Terms

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—The Indiana Supreme Court today held that persons named to fill vacancies in offices of county clerks should serve for the unexpired terms of the elected clerks.

The case specifically concerned Marion County, in which Governor Handley named Edwin McClure to serve the unexpired term of the late Harry Gasper.

Both parties nominated clerks to succeed McClure in the event the high court ruled he should serve out the term of Gasper, but not until Dec. 31, 1962, when Gasper's term expired.

The Marion County Election Board, along with McClure, brought the suit in Marion Circuit Court. Judge John L. Niblack ruled that the Indiana Constitution and law required an election for the office be held at the 1960 primary and general elections.

But the high court in a 4-1 decision ruled that the appointed clerk should serve until the end of the Gasper term. The dissenter was the lone Democrat, Justice Amos Jackson.

Near Normal Seen For Week In State

By United Press International

A week of near normal early autumn temperatures with little rain was forecast today for Indiana.

For most areas, the temperatures will represent a slightly cooler trend than the readings in the 80s which have prevailed for several days.

The mercury climbed to 87 at Evansville, 84 at Cincinnati, 82 at Louisville, Fort Wayne and Indianapolis Sunday but got no higher than a comparatively cool 70 at Chicago and South Bend.

Highs today will range in the upper 70s over most of the state, although in the south the top reading may be in the low 80s. Highs Tuesday will be about the same except for the far north where they will be in the 60s.

The cooler trend will spread to the central and south portions Wednesday and there will be little change thereafter except for a further cooling Friday.

Rainfall will average around one-half inch in showers about Wednesday or Thursday in the northern third of the state. In the central and south the precipitation will average one-fourth to three-fourths of an inch with showers beginning Tuesday afternoon or night and spreading through the area Wednesday, ending Friday or Friday night.

Temperatures during the five-day period ending Saturday will average near normal highs of 68 to 74 and normal lows of 47 to 52 north, and near normal highs of 72 to 80 and normal lows of 50 to 58 central and south.

A little rain fell during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today. South Bend recorded .12 of an inch, Lafayette .08 and Chicago .01.

20 Years Ago Today

Sept. 26, 1940 — The heart of London is strewn with wreckage from the German aerial bombardment.

Various women's organizations of the Methodist churches have been merged into the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Pres. Roosevelt has ordered an embargo on shipment of scrap iron and steel to any country outside the Western Hemisphere except Great Britain.

The auto owned by McConnell & Sons of this city, stolen here last week, was found abandoned in Fort Wayne, but $6,000 in checks, which were in the car were missing.

The first frost of the season was reported here, although little damage was caused.

Gasper's term expired.

The Marion County Election Board, along with McClure, brought the suit in Marion Circuit Court. Judge John L. Niblack ruled that the Indiana Constitution and law required an election for the office be held at the 1960 primary and general elections.

But the high court in a 4-1 decision ruled that the appointed clerk should serve until the end of the Gasper term. The dissenter was the lone Democrat, Justice Amos Jackson.

Entering the low-price field this fall is the all-new, smaller Oldsmobile, the F-85. This smartly styled new six-passenger car is built on a wheelbase of 112 inches, with over-all length of 188.2 inches. The F-85 is offered as a four-door sedan or four-door station wagon, with deluxe versions of each (shown above). Sedans have a generous 12.1 cubic feet of usable luggage space, while cargo space in the station wagons is 73.5 cubic feet. The high performing, economical F-85 is powered by Oldsmobile's all-new aluminum Rockette V-8, a water-cooled engine mounted up front. Rated at 155 h.p., the 350-pound Rockette V-8 engine has one of the highest power-to-weight ratios in the industry and is engineered to perform efficiently on regular-grade gasoline. Luggage rack shown above on the deluxe station wagon is optional at extra cost.
