

Strange Trend In Indiana For Johnson, Lodge

By EUGENE J. CADOU

strange trend has developed in Indiana with respect to the Republican and Democratic national tickets: The growing popularity of both vice-presidential bidders, overshadowing the White House nominees to some extent.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential choice, toured Indiana today following his big meeting in Indianapolis Tuesday night. Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, Kennedy's GOP counterpart, made a successful appearance in Evansville Saturday night.

Although both major candidates were greeted enthusiastically by many thousands, a number of Hoosier politicians expressed the opinion that Henry Cabot Lodge and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, who also have toured Hoosierdom recently, have really excited Indians.

Lodge was comparatively unknown politically in this state until his appearances in the heart of Democratic territory—St. Joseph and Lake Counties — two weeks ago.

Television Image

Most voters knew him favorably through his television image in which he "stood up to the Russians" during United Nations debate. It was a cold image, perhaps.

However, since Lodge and his attractive, tactful wife, Emily, made their Hoosier debut, his appeal has grown noticeably, according to the politicians.

In news conferences and especially at a catch-as-catch-can questioning period before about 2,500 persons on the campus of the University of Notre Dame, a Kennedy stronghold, Lodge became a human being to Hoosiers because he displayed warmth, wit and a pleasant nature, it was said.

Johnson, always a favorite of Indiana Democrats, of whom many thousands liked him for President, likewise elevated his Hoosier stature when he addressed audience last Wednesday in Evansville, Indianapolis, Wabash, Fort Wayne and Columbia City.

The Democratic Senate leader delivers the salty, political type of speech familiar to Hoosiers. It is a bit earthy and replete with jokes with a rural tang. It is reminiscent of the late Sen. James Eli Watson, who might have stayed in the U.S. Senate until the day he died, had it not been for the depression and the Roosevelt landslide.

Johnson Appealing

More than 2,000 persons heard Johnson in Columbia City, nearly half the population of that community, of which former Gov. Ralph F. Gates, GOP national committeeman, is a leading citizen.

ed him that long. So, more and more this comment is heard: "They should have reversed both tickets."

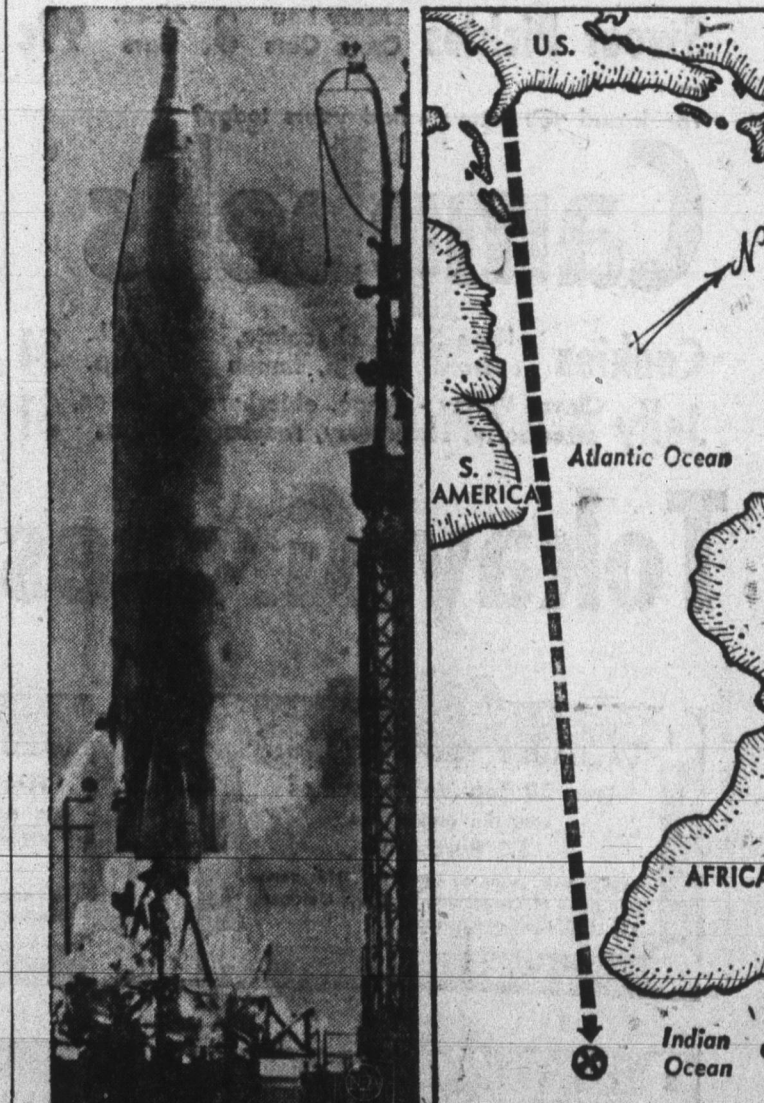

Most Fly Economy

MONTREAL (UPI) — Over 80 per cent of passengers flying the North Atlantic during April, May and June of this year traveled in the economy class cabins of the scheduled airlines, the International Air Transport Association reported.

Tourist class services ended June 30 of this year, being completely replaced by the even lower-fare economy class.

"Just tell the customers it has a lot of pleasure left in it for someone! You don't have to mention auto mechanics!"

REPEAT PERFORMANCE — An Atlas missile has done it again — soared 9,000 miles in 55 minutes, from Cape Canaveral to beyond the tip of Africa. This is the second such feat for the Atlas and represents a flight of half again as far as its rated 6,000-mile range. Air Force says it could have gone 3,000 miles farther had it not been weighted down with instruments. Major purpose of the flight was to test an improved nose cone.
