

Decatur Yellow Jackets Stop Columbia City For First Victory Of Season

Friday, the 13th may be unlucky, but it was anything but that for Decatur's Yellow Jackets Friday night, as they notched their first win of the season, a 20-8 trouncing of the favored Columbia City Eagles.

Neither the traditional jinx or the muddy Worthman field could halt the Jackets on their road to victory. Some may say that the sloppy field was what beat Columbia City, but the only actual thing that beat them was a fired-up band of Decatur Yellow Jackets.

The Eagles, fresh from their 50-35 lacing of Kendallville, gained a big break on the opening kickoff when Jim Elliott fumbled the slippery pigskin and they recovered on Decatur's 36-yard line. The Jacket defensive line held, however, and Decatur took over on its own 25.

Eagles Halted
The gold and purple could go nowhere either, and Jim Martin punted from his 28 on third down. Mike Cook, a real outstanding junior halfback who scored five TD's in the Eagle win last Friday, picked up two yards on an end run, on the first play from the Eagle 39 where Martin's punt rolled dead in the thick mud.

Anderson, Columbia City's quarterback, threw two passes, the second of which was hauled in by Jacket Bill Conrad on a fine grab on the Eagle 45, and Decatur was off and running.

Eight plays later, the Jackets found themselves with a first and goal situation on the Columbia City three-yard marker. Dennis Ahr banged off tackle on the net play for the TD. The try for point was stopped, and the Jackets led 6-0 with 1:30 left in the initial period.

Tie Score
After an exchange of the ball in the second period, Columbia City had a first and ten on its own 37. Three plays later Cook picked up another first down on the midfield stripe, and on the next play, the hard-running halfback shot off left tackle and scampered the remaining 50 yards to paydirt and a 6-6 tie, as the PAT was stopped.

Conrad returned the kickoff to the Decatur 45, and after a penalty and a one-yard gain, quarterback Max Eichenauer stepped back and flipped a strike to Jim Martin who lugged the leather 27 yards to the Eagle 33. The play was an end special and identical to the one in which the Jackets should have won the Bluffton game in the final minute.

Martin Scores
Max Elliott bulled his way off tackle to the 30, and then "Ike"

hit Martin again on the same play, and the speedy end shot the final 30 yards untouched for a 12-6 Decatur lead with 1:02 left in the half. Dave "Horse" Magley smashed his way off tackle for the extra point and a 13-6 lead, which the Jackets took to the dressing room minutes later.

Dave Beery stopped Cook off tackle on the first play of the second half, and then combined with Herb Magley to throw Anderson for a three-yard loss, and eventually force the Eagles to punt.

Maddox Tees Contest
It was then that Anderson fadged slightly to pass, and flipped a screen pass which never reached its target. Tom Maddox crashed the Columbia City line, snared the ball above his head, and was off to the races for 69 yards and the touchdown that put the frost on the cake. Magley again added the point on a plunge, and Decatur had a 20-6 lead with 2:17 showing in the third period.

The Eagles, after Steve Gause's kickoff was downed on their 29, became desperate and started pounding their star halfback Cook into the line repeatedly.

Cook carried six straight plays, picking up three first downs, and moving the ball all the way to the Decatur 33. He made one mistake though, when he became involved with Dave Magley in a pushing incident, and both were ejected from the game.

Another halfback, Chuck Luther, kept the drive going, and the Eagles gained a first down on the Decatur 11. The Eagles drove all the way to the Jacket 1-yard line, but were stopped by a tremendous job by the Jacket defensive line, just inches short of a first down.

The Jackets tried two plays in to the line, but Bill Conrad was thrown for a one-yard loss, and gave the Eagles their safety.

Half Second Drive
The Jackets were forced to kick from their own 20-yard line and once again the Eagles threatened, but once again the Jacket's defense rose to the occasion.

With five minutes left, the Eagles still weren't beaten, with a first down on the Decatur 14. Luther attempted to go off tackle, but Herb Magley crashed the Columbia City line once again to throw him for a three-yard loss.

Fullback Myers bulled his way to the Jacket 11, however, and then picked up four more up the middle, to the Decatur 7. On fourth down, Luther tried the left side of the line, but Bill Conrad, with an assist from the slippery mud, stopped him for a one-yard gain, giving Decatur precious possession of the football.

But, as the old saying goes, "that was all she wrote for the Eagles, as Eichenauer kept the ball on the ground, sending Conrad and Max Elliott into the line as the clock was moving.

The Jackets moved to their own 3, and Jim Martin's fourth down punt was off as the clock showed 00:00 and Decatur winning, 20-8.

The Jackets now own a 1-51 overall record, and a 1-5 NEIC slate. Columbia City has a 3-2 conference mark. The Jackets have two games remaining, next Friday when they entertain Kendallville, and the following Wednesday when they travel to Fort Wayne Concoria.

As almost a complete reversal to their last three battles, the

Jackets trailed in practically every statistical department but the one that counts — the final score!

$350,000 Painting Is Given St. Joseph's

RENSSELAER, Ind. (UPI)—A painting by Venetian artist Giovanni Bellini and valued at $350,000 has been hung in the St. Joseph's College library. The painting, "The Virgin and Child with St. Nicholas of Bari and a Donor," was given the school by the late Bohumil Kryl, a Chicago musician and art patron who died in August at the age of 86.

St. Joseph's awarded Kryl an honorary degree in 1957. The school said the painting is one of three original Bellini Madonnas now in the United States.

Packers Meet Browns Sunday In NFL Feature

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press International
The National Football League schedule-maker slipped the Cleveland Browns and Green Bay Packers a "mick" this season, and they find out Sunday who gets knocked out.

Under the NFL schedule arrangement, each club must play two games against teams from the opposite division. With all the softer touches they might have drawn, however, the Browns and Packers are stacked against each other for the first time since 1956.

These teams are among the toughest in the league. After this Sunday, the loser will go back to its division and resume the title chase with another defeat on its record. And even the winner is bound to be beat up somewhat from the rough test.

Said Coach Paul Brown of Cleveland to his team this week: "You will have to be at your best to have a chance. And even that may not be enough."

Odds-makers Favor Packers
The hard-hearted odds-makers were inclined to go along with Brown's somewhat pessimistic approach. They've installed the Packers 2-point favorites for the big game to be played at Cleveland before an expected crowd of 70,000.

The New York Giants were picked by 7 points over the Cowboys at Dallas in another clash of teams that are tied at the top of the standings with 3-1 records. Philadelphia's champion Eagles and the shotgun-minded San Francisco Forty-Niners, also 3-1, both were favored in away-from-home games. The Eagles were the choice by 5 over the St. Louis Cardinals (2-2) and the Forty-Niners were 13 over the Minnesota Vikings (1-3).

Bears Over Colts
The Chicago Bears (2-2) were picked by 4 points at home against the Baltimore Colts (2-2). The Detroit Lions (2-2) were favored by 8 points to snap out of their two-game losing streak at home against the Los Angeles Rams (1-3), and the Pittsburgh Steelers were the choice by 9 at home against the Washington Redskins in the clash between the two teams that have not yet won a game.

The American Football League features a battle between its two division leaders, with the undefeated San Diego Chargers (5-0) picked by 8 points over the Titans (3-1) at New York.

In other AFL games, the Denver Broncos (1-4) were 7-point picks at home over the Oakland Raiders (1-3), and the Dallas Texans (3-1) were 6 points over the Bills (2-3) at Buffalo. The Houston Oilers tied the Boston Patriots, 31-31, Friday night.

Unexpected Cool Weather In State

By United Press International
The weather played tricks on the weatherman today and had him changing his Indiana forecasts almost as fast as he made them.

Cool air blew into the state with unexpected speed and sent the mercury tumbling lower than previously anticipated. Unexpected shower activity also developed.

Temperatures fell to lows ranging from 41 at South Bend and Fort Wayne to 50 at Lafayette this morning as the chilly air developed. Forecasts called for lows tonight ranging from 32 freezing in the far north to 42 in the far south, and warned of scattered frost in the northern third of the state.

High readings Friday ranged from 63 at South Bend to 82 at Evansville. Highs today will range from the chilly 50s in the north to 65 to 70 downstate, and highs Sunday will range from the low 60s to around 70. Sunday night lows will range from 34 to 40 and Monday highs from 60 to 70.

Precipitation during the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. today included .86 of an inch at Fort Wayne, .42 at Lafayette and South Bend, and .30 at Indianapolis.

Forecasts at 5:30 a.m. today called for partly cloudy weather and indicated no rain today for the Indianapolis area. But a little more than two hours later, when showers fell, the forecasters revised the forecast to call for occasional light showers until around noon.

A rarity in forecasting occurred Friday when a revised five-day outlook for the state was issued several hours after the usual outlook was issued. The revised outlook changed the average temperature prospects for the period from above normal to below normal.

Savannah College Grid Player Dies

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI)—Tackle Wendell McIntosh of Savannah State College died Friday from injuries suffered during a football scrimmage Oct. 5.

The 208-pound junior from Macon, Ga., was operated on Thursday for an injury to his kidney and seemed to show some improvement before his relapse.

50-Yard Line Flashes

By Bob Shraluka
Congratulations to the Decatur Yellow Jackets and coach Bob Worthman on their first win last night, which shows that this year's team, while not a big winner, doesn't give up in the face of a tough opponent and a poor record.

Decatur, with five successive losses in the conference, came to Worthman Field last night to win a football game against probably the second best team in the NEIC, and win one they did!

The pendulum finally swung Decatur's way last night, but it had a big assist from a guy named Herb Magley. Although everybody played good football last night, Magley was practically a one-man gang.

The all-conference tackle played his heart out against Columbia City, and also played the heart out of the Eagles. Repeatedly, when Columbia City needed a few important yards, here came the big fellow crashing through from his tackle spot to throw a ball carrier for a loss. He gave the Eagles both barrels, and a little extra.

Tex McKinnon and Steve Hazelwood came up for applause also, as they took turns rubbing the Eagle center in the mud, face first. Twice their center was forced to stop the game and have his face wiped clear of mud so he could see. And you would have never guessed his shirt was red instead of black.

Which brings up another point, Jacket center Al Schiederer didn't have a muddy face, as once again Al came through with a fine game at the important pivot spot. The Eagle center ought to take a lesson on how not to get your face muddy.

Once again, Jim Martin played a beautiful ball game, as he not only punted a slippery ball brilliantly, but came up with two fine catches good for a total of 57 yards and a touchdown, the one that put Decatur ahead to stay.

And don't forget Max Eichenauer, who played his best game at QB. "Ike" connected with Martin perfectly on the above mentioned passes.

But, everyone played good ball. Dave Beery really looked tough at the important guard spot, the other guard, Dave Swickard did a fine job. Bill Conrad came up with his second hard-running game in a row, in addition to intercepting the pass that led to the Jackets' first score. Denny Ahr ran harder last night than all season, Steve Gause played a whale of a defensive game. Dave Magley ran hard, and also helped when he riled up a Columbia City halfback by the name of Cook, the Elliotts, Jim and Max played fine ball.

And who ever didn't see Tom Maddox burst through the Eagle line, grab a flip by the Eagle quarterback, and race for everything he was worth for 69 yards and the TD that iced the contest, missed the prettiest play of the season.

It was a fine victory, and a big one, two games are remaining. The pendulum has swung Decatur's way now, let's keep it there.
