ASCS Farm Notes

1962 FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

April 16, 1962 is the final date for signing to participate in the 1962 feed grain program. This is an extension of two weeks and was granted due to adverse weather conditions in much of the feed grain area.

Corn producers who have not signed an intention to participate should take advantage of this extension of time, and carefully consider the advantages of participation in the program, remembering that the payments available are a guaranteed income, regardless of crop failures, that ready cash is available and also the cost of production should be considered.

This is the farmer's chance to improve his place in the economy of this great country, as well as having an opportunity to help control our production and our surplus.

To date, Adams county farmers have signed intentions to divert 14,624 acres to conserving crops, which is 60 per cent of the total base acreages for participating farms.

Producers are also reminded that price support will not be available to them on farms not covered by an intention to participate in the feed grain program.

COMPLETE WOOL SALES RECORDS STRESSED:

With the 1962 wool marketing year just starting, growers are reminded that it is important to keep complete records of their sales of wool and unshorn lambs. Shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed on or before March 31, 1962 are eligible for payments under the 1961 program. Marketing after March 31 will be eligible for payments for the 1962 program. The 1962 program year began April 1, 1962 and will end March 31, 1963.

Wool growers' sales documents must show the true net sales proceeds. Both the producer and the buyer are subject to penalties if false information is filed.

Applications for payment for wool or unshorn lambs sold between April 1, 1961 and March 31, 1962 must be filed at this office by April 30, 1962. The average price received by farmers for wool during the entire marketing year can then be calculated and the payment rate announced. Payment under the 1961 program will be made sometime this summer.

WHAT ABOUT SUBSIDIES?

Farmers subsidized. The total cost of farm programs to January 1, 1960 was $6.9 billion mail subsidies, 12 years, 1947-59 was $6.6 billion; ship subsidies 20 years, 1939-59 was $4.0 billion and WW II reconversion subsidies totaled $43.3 billion.

In the last 50 years, for every $1,000 spent on subsidies, agriculture received only a scant $5.

The subsidy is the oldest economic principle written into the laws of the United States, starting when the first congress enacted tariffs in 1789.

Between 1827 and 1866, the government granted 6 1/2 million acres to canal ways, and later 183 million acres to railroads.

In the case of industry and labor, the benefits from federal policies are paid largely by consumers. In the case of agriculture, the benefits come principally from taxpayers. Of course, consumers and taxpayers are one and the same.

"Manipulation of the language can foster the impression that almost every dollar spent in relation to agriculture is a subsidy to farmers, while billions of dollars in federal outlays for non-farm purposes...creating profits for industry and jobs for workers—are somehow respectable and proper. Rarely are they labeled as 'subsidies' to those who are benefited."

From report to 86th congress, government subsidy historical review.

SECRETARY FREEMAN DEFINES 'FAMILY FARM':

Stating that "there is obviously a wide area of public misunderstanding to the meaning of a 'family farm,' secretary of agriculture Orville L. Freeman recently defined what the term means to him.

"It cannot be defined either in terms of acres or investment," he declared, "because mechanization—the technological revolution in agriculture—has constantly increased the size of the efficient farm unit that can be operated by one family. And because conditions vary so widely among different parts of the country and with regard to different crops, size is not a criterion for the 'family farm."
