Paul Hild, who is conducting evangelistic services at the Assembly of God this week, will stage a "youth a rama" at the church Saturday at 7:30 p. m. It will feature the teens chorus, patriotic spectacle, souvenirs for all school students, and the evangelist's address, "Why Stark-weather went bad," and "what a U. S. president told me."

He will speak at the morning service Sunday and the final service at 7 p. m. at the "All for Christ" rally, speaking on "God's side or suicide?" He will make a large Bible picture and use rainbow colored lights. Music will include the youth chorus, saxophone and vocal numbers.

Sullinger Award Is Given Robert Geisel

Robert Geisel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Geisel of route 2, and a graduate of Ossian high school, has been awarded the Dorcus Sullinger memorial award in sociology at Oklahoma University. The award, a large cash amount, was presented for the first time in five years. It is made on the basis of the most outstanding piece of research in the field of sociology.

Geisel, who will complete his master of arts degree in June, wrote his thesis on "An inquiry into the validity and significance of Emile Durkheim's work on suicide." The young man has accepted a teaching position with Missouri State Teachers College, Girardeau, Mo., and plans to work toward his doctorate there.

Boy Scout Troop 65 On Day-Long Hike

Boy Scout troop 65, sponsored by the Trinity EUB church, hiked the Chank-Tun-Un-Gi trail Sunday, April 29. This trail is approximately 21 miles long and begins at Scout Camp Belyer near Ft. Benjamin Harrison, continues along the shore of Geist reservoir and ends at the county line boat dock.

THE DOOR ON THE HIGHWAY

Rev. James R. Meadows

No one knows, exactly, what life after death will be like, but the resurrection of Jesus convinces us that it will be life. About the only definition of that life that really satisfies us is that definition that makes room for activity, effort, development, love, worship, loyalty, service and fellowship. Life without these would be a tomb, even though we were busy with the tedious grind of daily existence.

The essential message of Christianity is a confident declaration of the fact of immortality. Paul said, "If Jesus be not raised from the dead, then is our preaching vain." The significance of our decisions here lies in the fact that they have an eternal and enduring influence upon our character and destiny. We, as Christians, are not preparing for a closed tomb, but an open road. Death is not the end, but an entrance upon that highway where life flows on in new glory and meaning - where we will be forever with the Lord. But here is the promise to the
