

You, Your Child And The School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Thousands of parents will be registering their children for kindergarten this spring and fall. How can they be prepared to get the most out of the new experience? Schools vary by location, aims, hours, and philosophy. This does not mean that you, as a parent, cannot do many things to help your child adjust. It does mean that you should observe the following suggestions in relation to your school and your child.

The most important aspect of preparation is a smooth and gradual adjustment. The unknown is the basis for many disturbing experiences for children and adults. Plan to visit the school with future kindergarten. Prepare him to walk or take the bus. Recommended routes are patrolled by police. Take the trip several times. Walk around the building and become familiar with the layout. Visit the kindergarten. Meet the teacher and principal. Know the procedures regarding hours, absence, money for milk, snacks, and incidentals. Many of these matters will be clarified during an orientation period. If not, make it your business to find out. Many sources of information are available such as the school staff, PTA, and neighbors.

It is neither too late nor too early to start preparing your child. He will be expected to do many things for himself. Teachers are trained to be aware of your child's limitations but crowded classrooms will place a strain upon individual attention. It will be most helpful if your child is able to dress himself. Purchase clothing which he can easily manipulate (snaps, etc.). He should be able to tell his name, address, and telephone number. He should be able to go to the toilet of his own accord.

Experience with other children is most helpful. Willingness to share and wait a turn is valuable. His world should be expanded by spending time away from his parents. Encourage visiting with neighbors. Use baby sitters. Your child may have difficulty realizing that separation from you is only temporary. He will gain assurance of your return as he is increasingly exposed to these experiences.

An atmosphere leading to good school adjustment should exist in the home. Talk about your own interest in education. Don't joke about "bad" teachers. The child takes it seriously. Refer to the many interesting activities in kindergarten. Spend time reading together. Answer his questions seriously. Encourage curiosity. Visit the zoo, park, museum, etc. Talk about these activities experience recognizing differences between various objects is the beginning of learning.

Generally, start thinking about kindergarten now. Create an atmosphere which respects and enjoys education. Make sure there is understanding and awareness of what will happen. . . . no surprises. Train him to do little things for himself . . . tie shoes, put on boots. Build experiences away from mom and dad.

You will gain confidence as you build confidence in your child. Show him and experiment and you will see the growth. Do you have other questions? See the school principal or teacher. They are there to help you and your child.

Bill Stafford Blanks Indians On Two Hits

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Bill Stafford is a young man in a hurry. . . . a young man after the Yankee dollar. . . . and a young man who looks like the successor to Whitey Ford as the ace of the New York staff.

Ralph Houk, manager, likes to compare him with Allie Reynolds for two good reasons: (1) Stafford is a purposeful fellow who likes to get the job done in a hurry and (2) he knocks down contenders like tennies.

The 23-year-old Stafford, a native of Catskill, N.Y., demonstrated his "Reynolds-like" ability again Thursday night when he pitched the Yankees to a 4-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians to maintain their one-game lead over the Minnesota Twins in the American League race. Bill yielded two hits, didn't walk a man and sent everybody home in 1:59—a time it takes most young pitchers these days to work four innings.

Maris Homers
Jim Perry shut out the Yankees for three innings but in the fourth Roger Maris exploded his 10th homer of the season and the Yankees added three runs in the eighth with the aid of a double by Bill Skowron and a single by Clete Boyer. It was Stafford's fifth win against three losses.

The current two-cornered race in the National League remained unchanged when both the first-place San Francisco Giants and the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers lost. The Chicago Cubs shaded the Giants, 4-3, and the Pittsburgh Pirates topped the Dodgers, 3-2.

The Baltimore Orioles whipped the Washington Senators, 12-5, the Minnesota Twins downed the Kansas City Athletics, 5-2, the Chicago White Sox defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 8-4, and the Boston Red Sox edged out the Detroit Tigers, 5-4, in other American League games.

The St. Louis Cardinals completed a sweep of a three-game series with the Cincinnati Reds with an 8-2 victory and the Houston Colts topped the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, in the other National League games.

Rodgers Faces Cubs

Andre Rodgers drove in three runs with a two-run single and a homer to help the Cubs' Don Cardwell to his second victory. Billy Pierce, who had won eight straight games as a National Leaguer, suffered the loss and still needs two more victories to reach a lifetime total of 200.

Dick Stuart's three-run ninth inning homer enabled the Pirates to break their five-game losing streak at the expense of the Dodgers after Johnny Podres carried a 2-0 lead into the final frame. Dick Groat and Roberto Clemente hit successive singles off Podres and then Stuart homered off reliever Larry Sherry to break up the game.

A double by Dick Williams and singles by Johnny Temple and Brooks Robinson were the big blows of a four-run second-inning rally by the Orioles. Billy Hoft, who worked the last 6 2-3 innings, gained his second win while Pete Burnside suffered his fifth loss.

Rich Rollins drove in three runs with a pair of doubles as the Twins snapped Kansas City pitcher Dave Wickersham's six-game winning streak. Joe Bonkowski went the route to win his fifth game. The victory moved the Twins past Cleveland into second place in the AL.

Hits Five Singles

Al Smith's five straight singles, including two in a seven-run second-inning outburst, and three hits by Mike Hershberger led the White Sox' 14-hit attack on five Los Angeles pitchers. Ed Garba, rocked for five runs in 1 2/3 innings, suffered his third loss.

Bob Tillman's triple and Carroll Hardy's single in the eighth inning gave the Red Sox their 1-0 victory over the Tigers and brought Ron Kline his first win. Earl Wilson, Jake Wood, Rocky Colavito and Gary Geiger all hit homers and Frank Malzone, Ed Bressoud and Norm Cash hit doubles.

Sore-arm Ernie Broglio went the distance for the first time this season with a seven-hitter and Curt Flood and Julio Gotay had three hits each for the Cardinals, while Billy Goodman's ninth-inning single capped the Colts' two-run ninth-inning rally and dealt Warren Spahn his sixth defeat of the year.

Campaign Expenses Are Filed Thursday

Eight more Adams county residents, who were candidates for various nominations in the May 8 primary election, filed their campaign expense statements Thursday afternoon, the final day for filing.

Charles L. Arnold, a candidate for the Democrat sheriff's nomination, filed expenses totaling $190.61, while all other last-day filers showed no expenses on their statements.

Those who filed with no expenses were Robert W. Plumley, D. D. Clouse, William L. Fritzinger, Richard Geimer, Earl N. Williamson, Everett Singleton and Wesley Amstutz.

Discuss Relations With Philippines

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Relations between the United States and the Philippines have deteriorated over the question of war damage payments. Philippines President Macapagal discusses the question in the following exclusive interview with a UPI vice president who served as a correspondent in the Pacific during World War II.)

By FRANK TREMAINE
United Press International

MANILA (UPI) — President Diosdado Macapagal hinted today that continued deterioration of U. S.-Philippine relations might eventually endanger American rights to key military bases here, but he said he is making every effort to halt this deterioration. In an exclusive interview with United Press International, the president discussed relations between the two countries which have been seriously strained since failure of the U. S. Congress to pass a bill to pay $73 million in war damages to the Philippines.

Macapagal said his people were "hit between the eyes" by Congress' refusal to provide money to meet a war-time commitment to pay for war damage suffered by the Philippines. He said Congress' action "caused nationwide consternation and disappointment, even indignation."

He was asked if he foresaw possible future difficulties over use of military bases in the Philippines which the United States holds under 99-year leases negotiated in 1947.

People Decide
"Normally I would say no," he replied. "But unless the feeling of disappointment among the people is changed, officials of the government are constrained to reflect the attitude of our people. As the saying goes, love begets love, so the attitude of one side produces a reciprocal sentiment on the other. The affection and enthusiasm of our people for the U. S. would be affected if favorable action on the war damage bill is not taken. That is why I am making every effort to arrest this deterioration."

Subic Bay Naval Base is the key Southeast Asian supply point for the U. S. 7th Fleet, Clark Field performs the same function for the U. S. Air Force and Sangley Point is the home of naval patrol planes which keep an eye on the South China Sea from the coast of Red China to the Indochina Peninsula.

Before Congress Again
The war damage bill has been re-introduced in Congress in two forms. One provides payment direct to Filipino businesses and individuals, the other to the Philippine government. Macapagal said his government does not care which bill is adopted.

"It is our position that the $73 million payment is an obligation of the U. S. and it is up to the U. S. government to decide how to make the payments," he said. "The important thing is that the commitment must be fulfilled." Macapagal said there were no other points of friction between his government and the United States.

States.
The president said the most serious problems facing his government today are the economy and corruption. He said the order of the problems was reversed when he took office last Dec. 30, but that corruption now has been brought under control.

The Philippines have been in economic difficulties because of an unfavorable balance of trade which contributed to a heavy drain on the nation's foreign exchange holdings.

Rules Unions May Fine Membership

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A union may impose fines on its members for exceeding union-set production earnings quotas, a trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board ruled today.

Examiner A. Norman Somers said the NLRB does not have the authority to outlaw internal union disciplinary measures that do not result in loss of employment for the offenders.

NLRB general counsel Stuart Rothman immediately announced he would ask the five-member board to reverse the decision. Rothman's office had contended that the fines violated the law because they were an attempt to enforce conditions the union could not achieve through negotiation.

The ruling came in a case involving Local 283 of the United Auto Workers and four of its members employed at the Wisconsin Motor Corp. plant in West Allis, Wis.

Somers recommended dismissal of unfair labor practices charges against the union filed by the four men, who were fined from $50 to $100 for earning more than the UAW's ceiling on incentive pay. The NLRB examiner said it was up to Congress—and not the labor board—to decide whether to prohibit a union rule that punishes members who earn more than a union-fixed quota.
