RUTH CIRCLE OF FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH MET

The lesson entitled "Christian Churches in Latin America" was given by Mrs. Raymond Eloh at the June meeting of the Ruth circle of the First Christian church. Mrs. Robert Baumgardner led the worship service, which consisted of First Corinthians, thirteenth chapter. It was closed with a prayer.

Mrs. Jess Patch read the minutes of the last meeting, after which a short business meeting was held. The meeting was closed with the C.W.F. prayer given in union.

FORMER DECATUR GIRL WED IN LOGANSPOUT

Miss Barbara Bond became the bride of Robert Edward Norman Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Evangelical United Brethren church in Logansport.

The new Mrs. Norman is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Harold J. Bond, of Logansport. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Norman, of Rochester, N.Y.

Nuptial music was provided by the church organist and a soloist. Vases of large white lilies and candelabras with lighted tapers set the scene for the impressive ceremony performed by the bride's father, the Rev. Harold J. Bond, a former pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian church. Bill Bond, brother of the bride, presented her. They were preceded by the ring bearer, flower girl, and attendants of the bride and groom. David Bond, brother of the bride, served as one of the ushers.

A reception was held in the beautifully decorated church parlors immediately following the ceremony. Miss Ann Kocher, of Decatur, presided at the serving table. She was assisted by college classmates of the bride. Both Mr. and Mrs. Norman are graduates of Purdue University.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman will make their home in Rochester, N.Y. Norman has a position as an industrial engineer with the Kodak company.

Those attending the wedding from Decatur were: Mrs. Mildred Kocher, Miss Ann Kocher, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burk and children Bobby, Donna, and Jim, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sanmann.

COUPLE MARRIED IN GENEVA JUNE 30

Mrs. Alice Fetters Deitschel of Washington, D.C., and Michael E. Spangler, of New Corydon, were united in marriage early Saturday evening, June 30, in the St. Mary's Catholic church near Geneva. The Rev. Leo Landolf officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with baskets of pink gladioli.

Charles Fetters, of Decatur, is the father of the bride, and the groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Spangler.

Miss Helen Kenney, a friend of long standing, played the traditional nuptial music during the services.

Mrs. Clinton Fielder of Washington, D.C., served as her mother's honor attendant. Thomas Deitschel of Fort Wayne, the bride's son, attended the bridegroom as best man.

The bride appeared in a powder blue street length dress of imported Swiss cotton complemented with a corsage of pink roses. Her honor attendant was attired in a similar dress of yellow Swiss cotton.

Ushering the guests to their places were Francis Laux and John Weigel. There were guests attending from Fort Wayne, Wash-

"Peek-In" Hatboxes

Make your own "peek-in" hatboxes. Cut a small square opening in the hatbox and cover with a transparent cellophane tape or wrap. This little window will enable you to see that hat within without the bother of opening the box, and can easily select that one you need for a particular outfit without loss of time.

Heavy Rains Lash State Overnight

By United Press International
The heaviest rains since early spring lashed Hoosierland Monday night and early today, dumping more than three inches at some points.

They ranged from the far north to the deep south, from east to west and represented the most widespread deluge in weeks.

In most areas, the downpours on top of relatively heavy rains the day before were welcome inasmuch as farmers had been worried for lack of topsoil moisture for their crops.

What's more, the outlook for Wednesday's Fourth of July celebration was none too good for picnickers and vacationers in general, calling for isolated thunder showers throughout the state.

South Bend measured 3.30 inches of rain in the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m., and Kokomo 3.04. Danville, Ill., just across the state line from Covington, soaked up 3.35 inches.

Two inches of precipitation or more also pelted the areas of Monticello, Frankfort, Lafayette, Muncie, while more than one inch was reported at Portland, Hartford City, Logansport, Warsaw, Crawfordsville, Winchester, Indianapolis, Rushville, Marion, and Danville.

Most of the showers were expected to end, at least temporarily, late today or tonight, but humid conditions will continue.

Temperature highs today were expected to range from the mid-80s north to about 90 in the extreme south, with little change predicted for Wednesday. The outlook for Thursday was partly cloudy and warm with scattered showers and thundershowers.

Scuba Diver Held For Bank Robbery

VALPARAISO, Ind. (UPI) — A scuba diver who claims he is innocent was in custody today in the $4,000 holdup of a small bank branch, but the loot was still missing.

Authorities speculated that the money was buried somewhere in the sandy dunes hills nearby.

Although he was definitely identified as the bandit, George Manos, 33, Michiana Shores, denied staging the holdup at the Pines branch of the First State Bank of Porter near Michigan City Monday, police said.

Manos' bond was set at $100,000. He was arrested when he was found in a car dressed in a black scuba diving suit. He told police he had been diving in Lake Michigan.

Police also theorized that the clothing worn by the bandit was buried.

State Police, who said Manos has a long criminal record in Michigan City and LaPorte, County; Barbara Mae Cussen, Plymouth, Miss Plymouth; Sandra Munro Curran, Washington, D.C.; Miss Purdue; Diane Kay Dodson, South Bend, Miss South Bend; Sandra Sue Miller, Bedford, Miss South Central, and Nancy Clarie Peterson, Denver, Colo., Miss Valparaiso University.

The winner receives a $1,000 scholarship, $500 in cash and other gifts.

Mrs. Brooks, alone at the time, said he pulled a gun and demanded the money. Most of the loot was in the form of $5 and $10 bills, but several $100 bills were included.

She said he stuffed the money into a briefcase and fled in a car. It was the first holdup for the bank which opened about six months ago.

The last daylight bank robbery in Indiana was staged by two men in Indianapolis April 30. They were captured a short time later with the stolen $10,400.
