

New Feed Mill

Central Soya dedicated its new Indianapolis feed mill this afternoon, with speeches by Congressman Ralph Harvey, a cousin of Mrs. Gail Grabbill, and speeches by Central Soya President Dale W. McMillen, Jr., and board chairman, Harold W. McMillen.

Located at 1160 18th street in Indianapolis, the new mill will provide continued good service for the Indiana livestock and poultry industry. It is next to the company's soybean processing and grain merchandising facilities.

Stressing accessibility and efficiency, the new feed mill provides a complete line of animal and poultry feed for Master Mix dealers in an area extending west to the Illinois border, east to Ohio, south to Kentucky, and north to the Lafayette area. Bulk or bag feed will be shipped by rail, company truck, or dealer truck.

Planned for a capacity of 500 tons a day, the mill has an electronically controlled proportioning system to utilize properly micro-ingredients (anti-biotics, vitamins, and trace minerals) which are important in concentrates and complete feeds.

There is also 15,000 square feet of warehouse space.

Central Soya is now the second largest Indiana-based corporation, with sales of $300 million a year, and the 162nd corporation in size in the country.

Central Soya is one of the great companies contributing to the marketing system that allows Americans to pay only 20% of their paychecks for food...while Russians pay 50%, French and English 30%, and still don't get the meaty diets of the Americans.

ASCS Farm Notes

ASCS FAFRM NOTES COMMUNITY COMMITTEE ELECTIONS:

Township meeting will be held during the week of August 13 for the election of 1963 community committeemen.

Community committeemen are elected each year to represent farmers from each township. These committeemen assist the county committee in administering the various programs of the United States department of Agriculture which are operated through the agriculture stabilization and conservation service offices, known as the ASCS offices.

It is important to all farmers to attend the meeting in their respective townships and assist in electing willing farmers to represent them.

Meetings have been scheduled as follows: Blue Creek, conservation club building-August 16; French-Election school-August 17; Hartford, Hartford high school-August 13; Jefferson, Jefferson school-August 15; Kirkland, Adams Central school-August 16; Monroe, Adams Central school-August 13; Preble, Magley school-August 14; Root, Monmouth school-August 13; St. Mary's Bobo school-August 15; Union, Emanuel Lutheran school-August 14; Wabash, Geneva high school-August 16; and Washington, Adams Central, August 14.

All meetings will start at 8 p.m. 1961 SHORN WOOL PAYMENTS: Drafts have been mailed to applicants who have filed applications for shorn wool payments in the county office.

Additional information is required on applications for which payments have not been made.

Any person who filed an application and has not received his payment should call at the county office to furnish information. This will enable county office personnel to issue payments without delay.

1961 UNSHORN LAMB PAYMENTS:

Payments to applicants who have filed applications for unshorn lamb payments will be made during the week of August 6th. PAYMENTS EARNED OF LESS THAN $3.00:

Applicants whose final payments amounts to less than $3 will be eligible to receive payments under either the shorn wool or unshorn lamb program. Etc payment is computed separately.

1962 FEED GRAIN PROGRAM:

Field work under the 1962 feed grain program is practically completed. Exceptions are those farms which have been visited by the farm reporter and he could not locate the owner of the farm.

Work is progressing in the county office and notices of acreages measured under this program are being mailed daily. All participants will receive a notice after the work is completed in the office.

Payments will be made after September 1, 1962.

1962 WHEAT STABILIZATION PROGRAM:

Participants who signed an intention to participate in the wheat stabilization program are advised that payments under this program will be made after September 1. Many inquiries have been received in the county office relative to the time of payment.

1962 SOYBEAN PRICE SUPPORT:

We again remind producers that, to be eligible for price support on soybeans under the 1962 program, soybeans must be produced in 1962 and the producer in 1962 must maintain his 1959-60 average acreage of conserving and idle land on the farm. This same requirement was in effect for the 1961-crop soybean program.

As in the past, prices support will be carried out through farm and warehouse-storage loans and purchase agreements and will be available from harvest through January 31, 1963. The maturity date for loans will be May 31, 1963.

Adams county rate is $2.25 per bushel for soybeans grading No. 2 and containing from 13.8 to 14.0 per cent moisture.

1962 WHEAT PRICE SUPPORT: Wheat producers, who have participated in the wheat stabilization program and met all requirements of such program, are eligible for price support on 1962 wheat provided the wheat meets the required specifications.

Applications are being accepted by the county office. Price support may be secured by farm or warehouse stored loans or purchase agreements.

Adams county rate is $2.02 per bushel for No. 1 wheat. UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE 1962-1963:

100 years of progress-the United States department of agriculture was 100 years old in July.

Soil conservation seeds sown by early American conservationists were slow to germinate. Although Jared Elliot, a minister and doctor of Killingsworth, Conn., recognized erosion of topsoil in the muddy waters from a bare hillside and Thomas Jefferson taught conservation farming at Monticello, it took more than 100 years before a nation was aroused to the need to take steps to save the soil that was being washed away and wasted through erosion.

It took such men as Hugh Bennett, Gifford Pinchot, and others to turn the tide of exploitation and waste of our natural resources. As long as there was land farther west and mountains covered with trees, wornout and eroded farms and cutover forests could be abandoned and the farmers and lumbermen could move on to new lands and new timber sources.

Finally the conservation seeds began to swell and sprout. A federal appropriation was made in 1929 to study the effects of erosion and ways to control it. Eight erosion-control experiment stations were set up in representative areas. The soil erosion service was created in 1933 and the soil conservation service in 1935.

Under the agricultural adjustment act of 1933, soil-replenishing crops were recognized, and both the soil conservation and domestic allotment act of 1936 and the agricultural adjustment act of 1938 provided funds for sharing the cost of carrying out soil and water conserving practices.

The agricultural conservation program, cost-sharing for conservation practices, is administered by ASC county committees.

FARM SAFETY: Farmers with ponds and other water-conservation structures on their land need particularly to be "safety" conscious.

Open bodies of water have a fascination for people generally—especially children, which means that the operator has an obligation to be alert to the danger as well as to the benefits of water-storage practices and structures around the farm.

Water conservation is being practiced more and more on the farms of the nation, as indicated by the various practices carried out under the government's agricultural conservation program. In recent years, farmers have been completing from 50,000 to 60,000 water-storage structures a year under the program, for which they receive AEP cost-sharing assistance. From 1936 through 1961, a round 1.7 million such structures have been built under the AC program.

These include primarily livestock water ponds, storage-type erosion-control dams, and irrigation water reservoirs. Besides meeting the primary purpose for which they were built, such structures help prevent floods, alleviate drought problems, supply aid in controlling forest fires, and provide water storage for fish and wildlife. Their recreational benefits also are extensive.

The great value of these water-storage reservoirs must not blind us to the hazards they may present or to the safety precautions that should be taken to prevent drownings or other water accidents.

FARM PONDS IN ADAMS COUNTY:

10 farm ponds have been established under the AC cost-sharing in Adams county. Farmers are reminded that banks of such ponds shall be seeded to grasses and maintained in order to prevent erosion. Ponds are checked periodically by representatives of ASC county committees to see that they are properly maintained.

20 Years Ago Today

Aug. 4, 1942—Adams county commissioners will purchase three used metal voting booths from Lake county to replace wornout booths here.

Approximately 200 persons from the northern part of Adams county registered for sugar rations for fall canning purposes on the first day of registration.

The Rev. David Grether, pastor of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed church at Magley for the past 17 years, has resigned to become pastor at the Evangelical and Reformed church in Colby, Wis.

The state health board has submitted a proposal to the city council for a "grade A" milk ordinance in the city.

Petitions and endorsements for employing two county health nurses have been filed with the county commissioners.

Egg Stains

Egg stains can easily be removed by the following method: Scrape off the excess egg with cleaning fluid, then launder. Do not use hot water as this coagulates the albumin which makes it difficult to remove the stain.

CLEMENCY DENIED—California Gov. Edmund G. Brown has refused to intervene in the scheduled execution of Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Duncan, 58, who was convicted of hiring two men, also condemned to death, to murder her daughter-in-law in 1958 over jealousy for her son's affections.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. How should wedding invitations be worded if the bride is a young widow?

A. They should be issued in the names of her parents, just as the invitations to her first wedding were. Thus: "Mr. and Mrs. John P. Harris request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Mary Harris Shafter, to, etc."

Q. When a hostess is serving cocktails and knows that one or two of her guests do not drink, what should she do?

A. A good hostess is always prepared for such eventualities—she serves these guests soft drinks.

Q. Is it all right for a man to use only his initials when signing social correspondence, as "H.J. Brown"?

A. No; he should sign his full name.

Q. We are going to entertain the parents of our daughter's fiancé at dinner. How should the six of us be seated?

A. You seat the father of your daughter's fiancé at your right, and your future son-in-law at your left. To your husband's right sits the mother of your daughter's fiancé, and to his left sits your daughter.

Q. My husband and I recently attended a party given by his niece and her husband. She introduced us to her friends simply as "Mr. and Mrs. Butler." Shouldn't she have introduced us as her aunt and uncle?

A. Definitely, yes.
