

Support Growing All Over Europe

LONDON (UPI)—Support grew throughout Western Europe today for President Kennedy's action to stop the Soviet missile buildup in Cuba.

First European reaction had night, following circulation of the pictures of the Soviet missile bases in Cuba, the mood changed.

"The proof!" proclaimed the London Daily Sketch in black headlines two inches high.

The British government, which had been slow in reacting, issued a statement charging that Russia had been "guilty of deception."

Foreign Secretary Lord Home accused the Soviet Union of using an "opportunist and two-faced technique" in arming Cuba.

The Foreign Office issued a statement after a Cabinet meeting instructing the British delegation at the United Nations "to support the American request to the Security Council that they should make recommendation to end this danger."

In Bonn, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met with Dean Acheson, Kennedy's special adviser on NATO affairs, and hailed America's "alertness" and "spirit of defense" against aggression in Latin America.

The Foreign Office issued a statement after a Cabinet meeting instructing the British delegation to back the United States.

In Brussels, a spokesman for the Common Market ministers said there was "full understanding" for the U.S. action.

In Madrid, where there had been sharp criticism of U.S. policies, the Spanish government hailed America's "alertness" and "spirit of defense" against aggression in Latin America.

The switch in European editorial reaction was little short of Charles de Gaulle, who also instructed his delegation to back the United States.

Only one London newspaper opposed the Kennedy move today. Tuesday only one had supported it outright. Most of the papers, while expressing concern about the consequences, agreed it was justified.

Jobless Pay Claims

Increase In State

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Unemployment compensation claims in Indiana last week showed an increase of 1,258 over the previous week but there was a decrease in the number of new claims filed.

Director Lewis F. Nicolini of the Indiana Division of Employment Security said Tuesday that no large-scale layoffs were reported during the week but there was some production cutback in the communication equipment industry and some reduction in force in steel mills.

Nicolini also reported that more than two-thirds of the Indiana employers liable for the state's unemployment insurance tax received rate reductions for 1962. He said more than two-fifths of all employees qualified for the lowest possible rate, 0.1 per cent.
