

Luke Majorki Purchases Decatur Golf Course As Of First Of This Year

Luke Majorki, popular pro-manager of the Decatur Golf course for the past six years, today announced his purchase of the sporty nine-hole course, effective as of Jan. 1.

The course was purchased, for an undisclosed sum, from Everett Monroe, of Fort Wayne, who has owned the course since Jan. 1, 1957.

Majorki, in announcing the purchase by himself, his wife and daughter, stated that no changes are planned in operations of the course, and that the same employees will be retained.

The pro-manager, a native of Fort Wayne, and former star athlete at Fort Wayne South Side high school, has been manager of the course, located on U. S. highway 224, just west of the Decatur limits, since its purchase by Monroe.

Built in 1948

The course was built in 1948 by G. D. MacLean, well known Decatur resident, and play started during the 1949 season. MacLean operated the course until it was sold to Monroe.

The course has been greatly improved during the past several years under Majorki's guidance, and attracts golfers from many other cities in this area.

Majorki, who was admitted to the national PGA during the 1962 season, further announced that the same fees will be charged at the course during the 1963 season as were in effect during the past year.

The new owner also stated that plans are under consideration for further improvements in the local course, but that definite plans cannot be announced at the present time.

Trust Fund Set Up For Packers Coach

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Green Bay Packers have set up a $250,000 trust fund for coach Vince Lombardi to keep him from accepting an attractive offer from the Los Angeles Rams. Joe Williams, sports editor of the Scripps Howard newspapers, reported to day.

"The Rams had offered to assume his contract, which still has three years to go, and, additionally, to cut him in for 10 per cent of the club ownership," Williams reported in his column.

"By way of further enticement," Williams said, "Ram representatives had introduced him to the fiscal magic of the capital gains gimmick; at the end of five years he could sell his 10 per cent and pick up a bundle."

Williams reported that the Rams made the offer to Lombardi shortly before Lombardi guided the Packers to their 16-7 victory over the New York Giants in the National Football League championship game here last Sunday.

Lombardi admitted giving the Rams' proposition deep consideration, Williams said.

"It was a proposition I had to consider," Williams quoted Lombardi as saying. "I owed it to my family. These people (Green Bay) pay me good money, but there isn't much left after taxes. I have a wife, son, and daughter. I am obligated to their future security."

Williams further reported that the Rams' offer was only one of several he (Lombardi) has received in recent months. It happened to be the best, and the

Bruhn Reflects On Plays In Bowl Game

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Wisconsin coach Milt Bruhn reflected today on the plays in the 1963 Rose Bowl he regarded as crucial to the game's outcome—and the way officials called them.

One "quick whistle" and a Wisconsin touchdown called back in the second period drew the ire of the Badger coach. Bruhn wasted no time in confronting officials at the half, and said after the USC victory he would take a good look at the films on both cases.

Bruhn, insisting he didn't want "to say anything more about the officiating," also complained about a 15-minute delay in starting the game and a 25-minute halftime intermission. He said he felt the Badgers, setting on the bench 15 minutes before play started, might have been affected adversely by the delay.

He was critical of the manner in which officials handled notification of teams, without informing Wisconsin of the late game start as he said would be expected.

The quick whistle came when Bill Nelsen of the Trojans was permitted to retain possession of the ball after a fumble in the second period. On the second occasion, Bruhn asked about a penalty which cost the Badgers a touchdown pass to halfback Lou Holland.

There's no doubt about it today—Southern California is the nation's No. 1 college football team and the Southeastern Conference rates the nod as the nation's strongest group of teams in 1962.

Whatever doubt there was on either question was dissolved Tuesday when Southern California defeated Wisconsin, 42-37, in one of the most thrilling of all Rose Bowl games and Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana State won the three other big bowl carnivals.

Southern California's sensational victory over Wisconsin in a head-to-head meeting of the nation's first-and-second-ranked teams was easily the most spectacular of the day. But there was plenty of glory, too, for the Southeastern Conference as Alabama defeated Oklahoma, 17-0, in the Orange Bowl, Mississippi beat Arkansas, 17-13, in the Sugar Bowl and LSU beat Texas, 13-0, in the Cotton Bowl.

Larger Crowds

Crowds totaling 330,082—compared to the 319,019 which viewed the same four bowl offerings on Jan. 1, 1962—saw two offensive duels and two tight defensive struggles.

A crowd of 98,698 at Pasadena, Calif., saw Southern Cal's Pete Beathard and Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen hook up in the most spectacular passing and scoring duel in Rose Bowl history.

With Beathard throwing four touchdown passes, Southern Cal surged to a 42-14 fourth-period lead and seemed enroute to an easy victory. But then Wisconsin rallied behind the magnificent passing of VanderKelen to score 23 points in the final 13 minutes.

VanderKelen wound up throwing two touchdown passes and scoring himself on a 17-yard run.

He compiled the astonishing total of 401 yards in completing 33 of 48 passes—both Rose Bowl records. End Pat Richter caught 11 of the passes for 163 yards.

Bama Stiffed Sooners

A crowd of 73,380, including President Kennedy, saw Alabama stifle Oklahoma's attack and move methodically to its victory in the Orange Bowl. Joe Namath threw a 25-yard touchdown pass to Dick Williamson in the first period and his passing and running set up a 15-yard touchdown run by Cotton Clark in the second period. A 19-yard third-period field goal by Tim Davis rounded out the scoring.

Glynn Griffing, who signed a pro contract with the New York Giants immediately after the game, passed for 242 yards in leading Mississippi to the completion of its first perfect football season in history. Griffing passed for one touchdown and scored another—including a one-yard plunge in the third period that gave Mississippi a 17-10 lead. Bill Moore passed five yards for Arkansas' touchdown.

Lynn Amedee kicked field goals of 23 and 37 yards and Jimmy Field ran 22 yards for a touchdown to account for all the scoring in LSU's Cotton Bowl victory over previously-unbeaten Texas.
