Jacqueline Kennedy Tops Fashion World

By GAY PAULEY

UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States' first lady is the world's first lady of fashion.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the President, mother of two, headed the annual list of best dressed women of the world in 1962—a list announced today by Eleanor Lambert, a public relations consultant.

Miss Lambert said the list was compiled from "an international poll of 2,000 style observers."

This appearance marked the third consecutive year for Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy on the list which currently cited her "as a symbol of fashion leadership to the average woman everywhere."

Also on the list was Mrs. Loel Guinness, the Mexican-born brunette beauty married to a British financier, who made her fourth consecutive appearance.

Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, of London, was on the list for the second consecutive time.

So was a long-time friend of the Kennedy family, Mrs. Charles Wrightman, of New York and Palm Beach, wife of the oil millionaire.

The listing elevated two women to permanent status in a fashion hall of fame, which means that they're so permanently ensconced as chic that there is no point in their being put in the annual competition.

The two hall of famers are Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes, of Paris, and the American-born Countess Aline Quinlan, of Madrid.

Two women appeared on the list for the first time. They were Mrs. Frederick Eberstadt, a New York socialite and daughter of poet Ogden Nash, and the Baroness Ernst Thyssen-Bornemisza.

WELSH PROPOSES

sion Jan. 10, would be necessary to establish the proposed fund and raise the tax.

The amount designated in the fund for the Monroe Reservoir near Bloomington represented approximately the difference between the amount needed for present state contributions to the cost of the project and the smaller amount Welsh put in his so-called "balanced" budget for that project.

Welsh recently outlined a proposed 1963-65 biennial budget he called "balanced" because it took into consideration only the revenues anticipated under present tax levies.

He actually recommended many

more millions as needed for a realistic budget but said it is up to the legislators to provide extra revenues to meet the higher proposed expenditures, mostly for increases in state aid to education. The announcement had been expected ever since Welsh called the lawmakers to a meeting, but the subject matter was kept secret. A source close to the administration said the subject was "one of the best-kept secrets" of Welsh's tenure in office.

Welsh said when he outlined the proposal to the legislators, he did not ask for commitments as to whether they would support it. But he said there was "no violent objection."

Port Commission Secretary Clinton Green said if the state goes ahead it might be possible to open a port in 1966.
