MONROE METHODIST WSCS HAS JANUARY MEETING

The Monroe Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service held its January meeting Thursday evening in the church basement. Mrs. Homer Winterregg played the prelude, after which the group sang, "Jesus Shall Reign." The Rev. McCallister gave the devotion based on the scripture in Luke which tells of Mary's song. He read an editorial from the New Castle paper concerning Methodists and closed with prayer.

The girls' trio from Adams Central, composed of Connie Everett, Rita Mattax and Sharon Berce, sang a number. Mrs. Arlen Mitchell gave the lesson, "Missions in the modern world." The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. Mrs. Harold Schwartz read a letter from the church's missionary, Maxine Coleman. Plans were discussed for the district youth banquet which will be held at the Monroe Methodist church Wednesday evening, January 30. Committees were named for the father-son banquet to be held in February. Mrs. Homer Winterregg closed the meeting with prayer.

The members were seated at a long table divided into birthday months, each one sitting with her birthday group. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Charlie Workinger, Mrs. Sheldon Wagley, Mrs. James Nussbaum, Mrs. John Baltzell and Mrs. Ray Osterman.

Separate Meetings Held In Dock Strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — Federal mediators, warning the Atlantic and Gulf coast maritime strike has hurt the nation's foreign policy and trade, today met separately with shippers and striking longshoremen.

Assistant Labor Secretary James Reynolds scheduled the talks after holding similar meetings Monday during which he urged both sides to find a key to ending the costly walkout, now in its third week.

"I pleaded with them to consider the nation's interests," Reynolds said. "This strike is holding up more than one million tons of food aid going to Algeria, Pakistan and Brazil."

"It is doing serious damage to the economy of Puerto Rico and injuring our whole balance of trade," he added.

The big obstacle to agreement was the size of wages and fringe benefits, which both parties discussed Sunday during the first joint bargaining session since before the strike started 17 days ago.

The New York Shipping Association has offered a wage increase of 22 cents an hour spread over two years, while the International Longshoremen's Association wants a pay boost of 26 cents and additional fringe benefits that bring the hourly package to 50 cents.

Colder Weather Is Forecast In North

By United Press International
Much colder weather with scattered snow flurries in the extreme north was forecast today for Thursday, but the remainder of Indiana will experience continued mild temperatures and dry conditions.

Earlier forecasts of snow and colder were revised to postpone the change about 24 hours. For most of the state the weather will remain cloudy but less drizzly, while in the north clear skies will develop this afternoon and stay through Wednesday.

Originally, much colder temperatures were predicted for Wednesday in the north portion with snow. But the latest predictions called for a little warmer today, not much change through Thursday and no precipitation during the period.

A little drizzle, a pittance of snow at Fort Wayne and considerable fog were reported near dawn today but the forecasts were devoid of rain or snow warnings. Highs today will range from 37 to 45, lows tonight from 25 to 34, and highs Wednesday from near 40 to the low 40s.

Thursday will be mostly cloudy with little temperature change. Temperatures have remained mostly in the upper 20s and low 30s the past few days. At Indianapolis, for example, the mercury has varied only nine degrees, from 26 to 35, since last Thursday.

Household Scrapbook

Paint-Free Eyeglasses
You can keep your specs free of paint splatters while you're painting around the house by covering them with that popular, clear plastic kitchen wrap so widely used these days around the household. Your postpainting cleanup will then consist only of removing the wrap from your glasses.

Anchor Cutting Board
A small kitchen cutting board that persists in sliding and slipping around as you attempt to use it on a slick table or counter top can be dangerous. To prevent sliding, cement a pair of rubber preserving jar rings to the bottom of the board.

Hair Rinses
Lemon juice in the post-shampoo rinse brings out the beauty of blonde hair. Vinegar should be used by brunettes. Use the lemon or vinegar in the next to last rinse, following this with one of clear water.

Cleaning Ivory
Ivory objects, all in one piece, can safely be cleaned with soap and water. If several pieces are glued together, however, better take a piece of raw lemon, dip it in salt, and rub the surface lightly with this. Let the juice dry on the ivory before wiping off with a damp cloth.

Cleaning Fireplace
For cleaning a stone or brick fireplace, hot water and strong soap applied with a stiff brush often prove adequate. If not, mix up a paste of powdered pumice and concentrated ammonia, and cover the smoked areas with this, allowing it to stay for an hour or two before scrubbing off with hot, water and soap.

Table Tennis Balls
Keep a supply of table tennis balls safely and conveniently at hand in a cardboard mailing tube of suitable size. Perforate the tube through either end to take rubber bands, which are then knotted at the projecting ends to keep them in place. Rubber bands hold the balls in place, yet permit them to pass when pushed. Insert the balls by pushing them into either end of the tube.

Paint Strainer
A discarded nylon stocking and an embroidery hoop will make an efficient strainer for paint, and is easy to hold spread out to receive the paint stream without suddenly slumping into the paint. Simply slip the top of the stocking into the hoop, and cut off and knot the other end to make a shallow bag.
