Preaching Mission Will Close Friday

Tonight, Thursday and Friday nights will be the final opportunity for local persons to attend the "Warm up your heart preaching mission" being held at the First Methodist church.

Dr. Harold Fribley, pastor of the First Methodist church in Anderson, opened his series of six sermons in the Decatur church Sunday evening, with messages Monday and Tuesday nights.

Tonight's message will concern "Men With Masks," on sin and salvation, and justification by faith and grace. "Living from the heart out," concerning sanctification, will be the sermon Thursday evening.

A retired Navy commander who is listed in "Who's Who in Methodism," Dr. Fribley will present his sixth and final sermon Friday night, "God's Rule Where We Stand." The sermon deals with the kingdom here and coming, and the true freedom and the new creature in Christ.

Begin At 7:30

This evening's sermon, as the past three nights, will begin at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. A. C. Underwood, pastor of the First Methodist church here, said.

The Thursday and Friday messages will also begin at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Underwood explained.

Mrs. Edgar Gerber is the organist, and Darrell Gerig is the song leader.

Two-Auto Accident Near Decatur Today

A two-car accident that occurred at 8 a.m. today on state road 101, three miles east and one mile north of Decatur, was reported to the sheriff's department today.

Sharon Kay Wietfeldt, 18, route 5, Decatur, explained she attempted to pass a car operated by Hugo C. Blakey, 56, route 5, Decatur, and lost control of her car, striking the Blakey car in the left rear. Damages were estimated at $50 to the Wietfeldt car and $30 to the Blakey auto.

Jay County Is Not Involved In Case

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Deputy examiner Bryce Bottom of the Indiana State Board of Accounts said today that only four counties instead of five should have received reports concerning land deals handled by a former highway department sales supervisor.

The report issued Tuesday showed that letters were sent to prosecutor of Wayne, Franklin, Clark, Lake and Jay Counties for presentation to grand juries.

But today, Bottom said, Jay should not have been on the list because of a $125 transaction handled by the supervisor in that county did not involve a shortage.

Bottom said he would write to the Jay County prosecutor and advise him to disregard the letter and report previously sent.

The Jay County land involved a small parcel which was purchased for Indiana 67 and then was not used.

Mona Lisa Placed On Public Display

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two thousand enthusiastic dignitaries gathered to behold the Mona Lisa Tuesday night, and the hubbub that ensued the famous lady's smile might almost have been a smirk.

The microphones went dead, forcing President Kennedy to shout his barbed witticisms; the elevator failed, forcing him and his family to walk, and glaring glass obscured the painting.

Most of the elegantly clad congressmen, Cabinet members and diplomats who attended the American debut of Da Vinci's masterpiece — by invitation only — neither saw the painting nor heard what was said about it.

Miss Great Deal

They missed a great deal. The officials on the platforms by the painting didn't miss too much, though. When the restive art lovers began whispering amongst themselves, Secretary of State Dean Rusk rose by the painting to announce apologetically that "the acoustics in the room are so good that the private remarks made in the rear are amplified in the front."

But the acoustics apparently worked one way only. With the microphones dead, French Minister of Culture Andre Malraux's poetic tribute to the Mona Lisa was altogether lost.

Kennedy fared somewhat better. Resorting to a shouting campaign style of oratory, he heaped praise on the painting and on France, and remarked that the Mona Lisa was the "second lady" the people of France had sent the United States, although she would not stay as long as the first — the Statue of Liberty.

Barbs Thrown In

Then he turned to some barely veiled barbs on France's desire to become an independent nuclear power.

"We in the United States are grateful for this loan from the leading artistic power in the world," France," he said. "In view of the recent meeting at Nassau, I must note further that this painting has been kept under careful French control, and that France has even sent along its own commander-in-chief — M. Malraux."

"And I want to make it clear that grateful as we are for this painting, we will continue to press ahead with the effort to develop an independent artistic force and power of our own."

Loyola Wins 14th In Row Tuesday Night

By United Press International

Jerry Harkness, who has helped bring nationwide fame to Loyola University of Chicago, also is helping himself to some personal glory.

Although Loyola stresses team play and holds down the role of the individual, Harkness is the leading candidate among the undefeated Ramblers for All-America honors this season. He further proved this Tuesday night when he broke two school records while pacing Loyola to an 87-68 victory over Marquette.

It was the 14th triumph in a row for the second-ranked Ramblers, who lead all college basketball teams in total offense. Harkness poured in 23 points at Milwaukee to break Jack Kerris' school career mark of 1,377 points and his three free throws enabled him to surpass Kerris' record of 585.

Strong All-Around

Proud as they are of Harkness, the Ramblers still boast of their all-around strength and point to the fact that quite frequently all five members of the starting unit score in double figures.

Such was the case again Tuesday night as Vic Rouse had 20 points, John Egan 16 and Leslie Hunter and Ron Miller 14 each.

In another bid midwestern contest, Bradley registered 57 points in the second half to overcome a halftime deficit and beat Northern Michigan, 91-64.

Trailing, 38-34, at intermission, the Braves thrilled a partisan crowd by clicking on 74 per cent of their second-half floor attempts. Mack Herndon was the

Don Shula Is Named As New Coach Of Colts

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Don Shula, the 33-year-old defensive backfield specialist named to succeed Weeb Ewbank as head coach of the Baltimore Colts, faces at least one potential psychological hurdle in his new job.

The man who coached the Detroit Lions' defensive backfield before being elevated to his first head-coaching job Tuesday by Colt owner Carroll Rosenbloom will be joining a club that still has 11 players who were his teammates when he played with the Colts from 1953 to 1957.

The question cropped up in Baltimore earlier this week when Shula was reported the likely successor: "How will these veterans accept taking orders from a former teammate, one who was cut in fact while many of them remained with the club?"

The answer, of course, remains to be seen. Nonetheless, this could be a source of friction in a sport known for fraying nerves.

Learns From Shula

It's not going to bother at least one player, so he says. Bill Pelington, who now calls defensive signals for the Colts and who was on the club when Shula played, said he learned from Shula in those days and expects to learn more now that he's head coach.

Rosenbloom said Shula had a two-year contract. The salary was not disclosed.

The Colts' new coach will hold a press conference Thursday, at which time he may announce who his assistants will be.

Shula played college ball at John Carroll University in Cleveland. He was drafted by the Browns and earned a spot with the club in 1951, the only rookie to make the team that season.

Offered New Job

Ewbank was offered an undisclosed post with the Colts, but has not yet decided whether to accept. He still had two years, at $30,000 annually, to go on his current three-year contract. If he doesn't accept the new post, or take another coaching job, he'll be paid the $60,000.

His assistants also will be taken care of for one year if Shula doesn't keep them. A Colt spokesman said arrangements had been made along this line because of "the lateness in making a decision on Weeb's future."

individual hero as he missed only one of 14 shots during the rally and finished the night with 40 points. Gary Silk was the top scorer for Northern Michigan with 18 points.

Faces Southwest Action

There was a full complement of activity in the Southwest Conference and title favorite Texas led the parade with a 76-38 walloping of Baylor. Texas A&M defeated Rice, 71-61. Arkansas topped Texas Christian, 81-59, and Southern Methodist beat Texas Tech, 70-61.

Elsewhere, Virginia Tech upended Virginia Military Institute, 74-70; George Washington edged Maryland, 74-72; Penn State beat Bucknell, 88-83, in overtime, West Virginia defeated Davidson, 89-73; Tennessee Tech dumped Western Kentucky, 76-60; Oklahoma City edged Loyola of New Orleans, 77-75; and William & Mary halted The Citadel, 83-69.

March Draft Call Is Upped To 9,000 Men

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department announced Tuesday a 9,000-man Army draft call for March, its highest quota since last January.

The draftees will give the Army a temporary buildup to offset a decline in strength caused by demobilization of troops called up to meet the Berlin crisis.

South Bend Youth Is Killed In Virginia

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (UPI) — Dennis Flowers, 19, South Bend, Ind., was killed Tuesday night when he was struck by a car on U.S. 60 here.

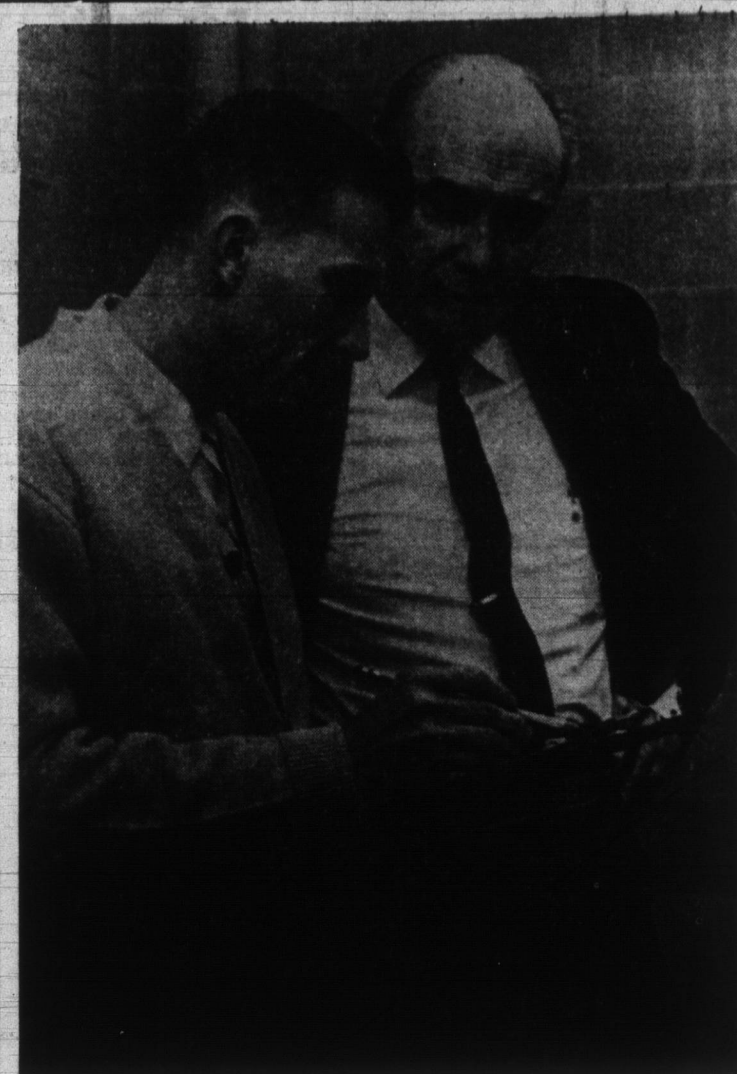

Flowers was walking along a road near Ft. Story where he was attached to the 4th Missile Battalion when hit by a car driven by Emilie Margaret Tilley, 24, of Virginia Beach.

Rug Anchors

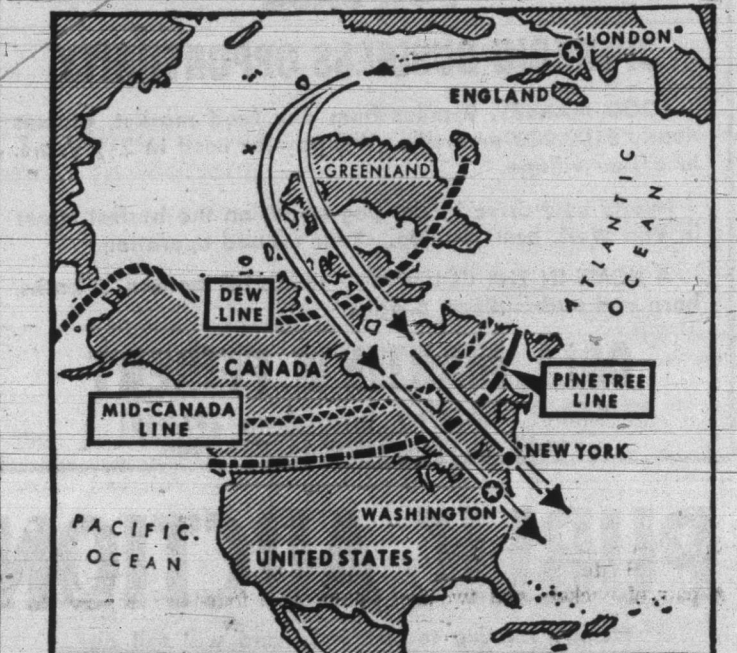

To prevent small rugs and runners from slipping and sliding, cement rubber preserve-jar sealing rings to the underside, using quick-drying black weatherstrip cement. Space the rings about two feet apart, or as close together as necessary.

Garment Hanging

When airing coats or any other garments outside, use two coat hangers instead of one. Hang them on the line so that one hook opens to the right and the other to the left. This will prevent their blowing down.
